BOARD EXPRESSES REGRET

Simpson Quits San Rafael Schools For State College

Asst. Supt. Raymond J. Simpson will leave the San Rafael school system April 1 to become an assistant professor of school administration at San Francisco State College.

Simpson submitted his resignation as of that date to the San Rafael Board of Education last night. It was accepted with expression of deep regret.

Joining the San Rafael schools in 1957, Simpson has been assistant superintendent in charge of business. He "stood in" for the late Supt. Frank L. Lucas many times when Lucas was ill during 1960 and early 1961, and was acting superintendent from Lucas's resignation in July until appointment of Supt. Bert C. Corona last October.

He has been "the answer man" for the board of education, seldom failing to come up with an answer to any question concerning operations of the high school and elementary school districts. The board members last night expressed their appreciation of this.

RAYMOND J. SIMPSON
To become professor

Board member Rex Silvernale moved Simpson's resignation be accepted "with the very best wishes for Ray's continued success and deepest and sincerest thanks." This was seconded by Bella H. Aaron.

"I'd like to second that, too," put in C. Paul Bettini. "We're really going to miss Ray. He has been through a lot with us and has done a wonderful job."

"There have been times," said president Roderick P. Martinelli, "when the ship could well have sunk had it not been for Dr. Simpson."

Board member John M. Bagshaw raised the question of whether the district had any arrangement for handling Simpson's duties. Superintendent Corona said he hoped to hire a business manager — a position approved by the board some months ago — before Simpson's departure.

General Says Muzzle Hasn't Halted Him

Still Getting Basic Anti-Red Message Across

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau told senators today that censoring of his speeches has not kept him from getting across basic anti-Communist messages. But he said that he didn't think "a GS-11 or a major" should be making deletions from a general's speeches.

Trudeau's raising of the matter of who is doing the censoring moved toward an area of major controversy in the Senate investigation of charges the Pentagon is muzzling military officers against anti-Communist utterances.

DIRECTIVE

It was learned today that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara issued a directive to Defense Department personnel last Monday that they should refuse to answer any questions as to which censor handled what speech or article.

The directive follows a stand that McNamara took last year before the Senate Armed Services Committee. He said then that he assumed full responsibility for what had been done as to censoring of speeches and that specific jobs done by particular individuals would not be disclosed.

GS-11?

Trudeau's suggestion that censoring falls to "a GS-11 or a major" came under questioning by the subcommittee conducting the present inquiry.

A GS-11 is a government civil service employee ranking in the upper middle grades. This classification carries an annual salary of $7,600 to $9,600.

The general, 59, head of Army research, came before the subcommittee with a prepared statement which mildly reviewed what had happened to some of his speeches.

WONDER

He said in this that some of the changes caused him to wonder.

But under questioning by James Kendall, chief counsel for the inquiry, Trudeau said that he did not understand why some hard-hitting anti-Communist phrases had been censored from or altered in his public speeches.

The quick-speaking general agreed that there is a need for review of all speeches by both civilian and military leaders to avoid unintentional disclosure of military secrets.

But he said it was unfortunate if some subordinate Pentagon civilian or military officers used authority of review for national policy to inject his personal opinions.

Kendall asked if the Defense Department had sufficient guidelines so Trudeau and others would know if some statement "might contravene national policy."

Trudeau said it did not and he often wondered when his speeches had been revised if this resulted from "a policy directive or the opinion of an individual."

Trudeau said censors cut from his testimony before a congressional committee a denunciation of communism which they had approved less than a month earlier for his speech to a civilian group.

Burglar Takes $30,000 In Gems, Furs At Home

Corte Madera Couple Gets 'Ransom' Offer

Between $25,000 and $30,000 worth of jewelry, furs and other valuables were stolen yesterday from a Corte Madera home by a thief who today offered by telephone to return the loot for 10 per cent of its value.

It was the fourth multi-thousand dollar house burglary in Marin within a month.

Victims were Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Harold Peairs of 29 Key Largo Course, Corte Madera.

Peairs told Corte Madera police that he received an anonymous telephone call this morning from a man who said he would return the stolen goods if Peairs would pay 10 per cent of their worth.

Included in the loot were jewels, furs, cameras, radio, field glasses, and a blank cartridge pistol.

Mr. and Mrs. Peairs, owners of three San Francisco bars, left their home at 2:30 p.m. yesterday for San Francisco and returned at 10:30 p.m., reported Corte Madera patrolman Charles E. Newman. Police were called about 11 p.m.

Newman said entry was gained through a rear door. A locked screen door was torn where the burglar apparently reached in and turned the knob from the inside. Police today were checking the door knob for fingerprints.

SIMILAR THEFT

Newman said the burglary was similar to those of the Joseph C. Hickingbotham Jr. home at 1408 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, where $98,000 worth of furs and jewelry were taken on New Year's Eve, and the I. Wayland Bombright Jr. home on Macon Grade in Ross, struck last Wednesday with $7,800 in loot taken.

More daring was the burglary of Mrs. Sally Clapp Stapp in Sausalito on Christmas Eve — just one month ago — in which heirlooms and other loot totaling more than $20,000 were carried away while Mrs. Stapp slept.

DOGS COWERING

When the Peairs returned home last night their five French poodles were all cowering in a corner of one of the rooms. They told Newman the dogs did not appear to have been struck, however.

Core Madera police today sent out an all-points bulletin on the burglary listing the items taken as follows:

1. A blank cartridge pistol, value unknown.
2. A small jade ring, value unknown.
3. Two diamond dinner rings, each with 15 diamonds inset, value unknown.
4. A one-carat center stone ring with nine inset diamonds, value unknown.
5. A diamond and ruby wedding ring, white gold on platinum.
6. A turquoise plain band wedding ring, value unknown.
7. Three pair of rhinestone earrings and matching necklace, value unknown.
8. Two fur hats, value unknown.
9. A suitcase.
10. A full-length Canadian wild ranch mink coat, valued at $2,500.
11. Two silver blue mink stoles, one valued at $940 and the other at $475.
12. A medium length brown mink cape valued at $500.
13. A silver and black mink stole valued at $250.
14. A platinum wedding band with five inset diamonds valued at $1,425.
15. A paladium ring with 20 inset diamonds valued at $575.
16. A man's one-carat diamond ring, value unknown.
17. An amythest ring set in gold valued at $300.
18. A turquoise large ring set in gold valued at $150.
19. A one-half carat diamond ring valued at $300.
20. A two-stone sapphire

Robert Rouse Resigns From Hub Council

Robert E. Rouse, appointed to a San Anselmo city council seat in August 1960, to succeed Carmel Booth, resigned last night because of ill health.

Rouse has been unable to attend council meetings for the past two months, having been hospitalized about three weeks. He explained today he will have to re-enter the hospital for more checkups and "I felt it would be unfair to the council and to the city to continue on the council."

PHONED MAYOR

Rouse's resignation was announced last night by Mayor Carleton G. Little, who said Rouse had called him by telephone to announce his decision to quit the city post.

The mayor and other councilmen commended Rouse for "energetic and conscientious" service to the city and expressed regret in losing Rouse. They announced they would send him a plaque to thank him for his services.

LETTER NEEDED

However, on the advice of City Atty. John G. Buresh, Rouse's resignation was not formally accepted because no written letter had been submitted to the council.

Legally, said Buresh, Councilman Rouse has merely indicated orally to the mayor that he is resigning, but the city council should await a formal letter before acting.

Stolen Safe Found Intact With $2,500

A 500-pound safe containing $2,500, stolen from the Marin Golf and Country Club in Novato on Jan. 11, was back in its accustomed place today—with contents intact.

The safe was found on Jan. 12 by Oakland police in an abandoned house on 40th Street, the site of a new freeway. Oakland police have been searching for the owner since they found it, according to Kenneth O. Baker, manager of the club.

Baker said he was notified today by Novato Police Chief Roy McLaren that the safe had been found. He drove to Oakland this morning and returned it to the club, noting that $2,000 in currency and $500 in checks and gift certificates, to be used as golf tournament prizes, were still safely inside.

The two-by-three-foot safe had not been opened and was undamaged except for a few scratches, Baker said.

State Gives Reassurance On Hospital

A letter to Marin County supervisors from Gordon R. Cumming, chief of the state Bureau of Hospitals, yesterday gave reassurance that he would not block new plans eliminating construction of a new county hospital.

It brought no immediate fresh action because Administrator Alan Bruce said a new proposal from Marin General Hospital probably would be forthcoming next week.

Under board instructions, Bruce and Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell made a quick trip to Berkeley yesterday morning to acquaint Cumming with the board's new views resulting from a letter by Welfare Director Betty L. Presley.

WILL SATISFY

Cumming wrote that repair of the hospital, which is to start during this week according to Public Works Department information, and use for a limited period as a nursing and convalescent home will satisfy his requests.

With reference to later use for "custodial patients" as suggested in the Presley letter, Cumming said such use would not eliminate inspections by his department but they would constitute advice rather than requirements. This seemed to substantiate theory that licensing won't then be required.

If Marin County decides to place nursing home patients in private licensed facilities, such decision will not conflict with his department's regulations or policies, said Cumming.

MARCH DEADLINE

He again called attention to a March 1 deadline for "submission of your final and complete proposals for continued care of county patients."

It was indicated the board would try to analyze all current proposals next week, one definitely scheduled being that of attorney Peter Allen Smith, who said he would up-date the private construction project of unnamed principals.

The board yesterday approved in principle a recommendation from its engineer, H. M. Engle, that Albert H. Siemer, Fairfax city engineer, be inspector of the repair job by Richard Zoellner of Ross.

Dope Smuggle Trial Is Off To Slow Start

The San Quentin dope smuggling trial got off to a late start this morning when Los Angeles attorney Frank Duncan and his lawyer wife, Elinor Chandler, dashed into the courtroom 15 minutes late and explained they had trouble with their car.

As Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales launched into his opening statement and referred to convict Thomas Devers, who was stabbed to death at the prison last month, Devers' mother, Mrs. Marie Frances Hall, 47, broke into convulsive sobbing.

CALLED MEMBERS

Mrs. Hall and three others are accused of conspiring to smuggle $18,000 worth of heroin, marijuana and peyote into San Quentin last year. Bales declared he will prove that Mrs. Hall; Los Angeles housewife Mrs. Pauline Herrera, 31; and prison inmates Benjamin Gonzales, 28, and Richard Rodriquez, 34, all were members of the smuggling ring.

The prosecution's first witness was pretty blonde Anna Marie Kellam, 25, of Oakland, who pleaded guilty to the same conspiracy charge.

BRUSATORI'S COURT

A jury of seven women and five men are hearing the case before Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court.

The jurors are:

Mrs. Naomi R. Dunbar of Novato; William T. Endicott, San Rafael salesman; Robert G. Anderson, Novato chemist; Mrs. Elizabeth C. Cavit of Kentfield; Mrs. Geraldine K. Davis of San Rafael; Wendell R. Cathey, San Rafael creamery employee of San Rafael; Mrs. Esther Buell of Corte Madera; Mrs. Beaudine J. Dallara of San Rafael; Mrs. Audrey S. Bachus of San Rafael; Julius Aman, Point Reyes Station ranch foreman; Mrs. Ruth T. Blackmore of Mill Valley; and Harry Black, San Anselmo watch repairman.

COLOMBIA URGES CUBA SANCTIONS

Blast At Castro Starts Latin Talks; Mexico Questions Legality Of Action

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (UPI)—Colombia called today on hemisphere nations for a collective break with Fidel Castro's Cuba and new measures of vigilance to preserve other countries from the spread of the Cuban socialist revolution. (See also page 16.)

Opening floor debate at the eighth inter-American conference, Colombian Foreign Minister Caicedo Castilla said his country considered these measures "indispensable" to preserve inter-American treaties and the mutual aid system against Cuban threats "to the autonomy, independence and sovereignty of American states and the peace of the hemisphere."

Mexican Foreign Minister Manuel Tello who followed immediately questioned the legality of the anti-Cuban measures proposed by Colombia but admitted there seems to be "incompatibility between being a member of the organization of American States and professing the Marxist - Leninist faith."

The opposing stands, voiced in the first two hours of general debate, pointed up the sharp differences which delegates meeting privately have sought to iron out in the past two days.

The first session of the conference as a whole started at 11 a.m. (PST), a half-hour behind schedule. The Colombian motion was seconded by a dozen nations led by U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Fourteen votes are needed.

Venezuelan Foreign Minister Marcos Falcon Briceno was appointed conference chairman. Alfredo Vargas Fernandez of Costa Rica was elected secretary.

Falcon warned delegates in a brief speech that "emotion is not always a good counsellor."

Womack Will Seek Post Of Supervisor

Novato's Mayor Wayne Womack today announced his candidacy for Marin County supervisor from the Fifth District, a position now held by William Gnoss.

Womack said he chose this time to make his announcement to show definitely he would not be a candidate for Novato City Council in the April 10 election. Filing for the council positions opens Thursday. Womack said he wanted his position known so "some of the many good men available" would file for the city positions.

Womack was born in Madill, Okla., in 1929 and moved to Beaumont, Calif. with his parents when he was 9.

He started a career in banking in the Bank of Beaumont in 1947. He later worked in the Southern Counties Bank in Anaheim and El Monte. From 1951 through 1953 he was assistant manager of the First National Bank of Novato (now Crocker-Anglo). From 1954 through 1957 he was office manager of Pini Hardware.

In 1957 he entered business for himself, opening Womack's Variety Store in the Town and Country Shopping Center at 1425 Grant Avenue. This store was destroyed by fire on Jan. 10, but will be reopened as soon as possible, Womack said.

Womack was active in the campaing to get Novato incorporated. He ran for the city council and became the first and only mayor to date of Novato, assuming office when the city came into being on Jan. 20, 1960.

Womack and his wife, the former Colleen Mary Hansen, have five children: Craig, 11; Dianne, 10; Elaine, 9; Jennifer, 7, and Matthew, 5. The Womacks live at 130 Grande Vista, Novato.

In announcing his candidacy, Womack said:

"It is my intention to conduct an active campaign which will point up my qualifications for this office. I will forsake my present office of the mayor of Novato when the term expires in April to be able to fully apply the experience and knowledge gained to vigorously represent the Fifth District.

Tam, Homestead Approve Merger

Tamalpais Valley and Homestead Valley Fire Districts were consolidated yesterday by 6-to-1 vote of their residents.

This is believed to be the first time in California history that two fire districts have been consolidated by vote of the people.

The tally was 908 votes for the merger to 146 against.

Homestead voted 373 to 99 for the merger and Tamalpais Valley 535 to 47 for it. Figures include absentee ballots.

Elected commissioners of the combined district, which will begin its existence Feb. 1 were Donald J. Taylor, 737 votes; Carl H. Modell, 724; Raymond J. Massagli, 722; Charles O. Woodworth, 665, and Morris Batz, 630.

Donald J. Rushton received 526 votes. Joseph J. Brezina, who was on the ballot but had withdrawn for business reasons, received 269. Ove Johnson, who was one of the opposition leaders, received 26 write-in votes.

Both former districts will be represented on the new commission with Modell and Woodworth from Homestead, Massagli and Batz from Tamalpais Valley, and Taylor from Almonte in the former Tam Valley district. Modell and Taylor are to serve three year terms, Massagli and Woodworth, two years, and Batz, one year.

By an understanding with the Homestead Firemen's Club, which owns the Homestead Firehouse, the firehouse is to be turned over to the new district.

Votes are to be canvassed by both boards Tuesday at 7 a.m. at both firehouses.

House Passes Postal Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed today a bill to add one cent to the cost of mailing a letter and raising postage rates for magazines, newspapers and advertising material.

The bill, one of the administration's high priority measures, was passed by voice vote. It now goes to the Senate.

The House added 79.2 million dollars to a rate increase bill worked out by the Kennedy administration and House Democratic leaders, producing a measure that would bring in 700 million dollars if accepted by the Senate. There is some doubt on that score, however.

BOARD EXPRESSES REGRET

Simpson Quits San Rafael Schools For State College

Asst. Supt. Raymond J. Simpson will leave the San Rafael school system April 1 to become an assistant professor of school administration at San Francisco State College.

Simpson submitted his resignation as of that date to the San Rafael Board of Education last night. It was accepted with expression of deep regret.

Joining the San Rafael schools in 1957, Simpson has been assistant superintendent in charge of business. He "stood in" for the late Supt. Frank L. Lucas many times when Lucas was ill during 1960 and early 1961, and was acting superintendent from Lucas's resignation in July until appointment of Supt. Bert C. Corona last October.

He has been "the answer man" for the board of education, seldom failing to come up with an answer to any question concerning operations of the high school and elementary school districts. The board members last night expressed their appreciation of this.

RAYMOND J. SIMPSON
To become professor

Board member Rex Silvernale moved Simpson's resignation be accepted "with the very best wishes for Ray's continued success and deepest and sincerest thanks." This was seconded by Bella H. Aaron.

"I'd like to second that, too," put in C. Paul Bettini. "We're really going to miss Ray. He has been through a lot with us and has done a wonderful job."

"There have been times," said president Roderick P. Martinelli, "when the ship could well have sunk had it not been for Dr. Simpson."

Board member John M. Bagshaw raised the question of whether the district had any arrangement for handling Simpson's duties. Superintendent Corona said he hoped to hire a business manager — a position approved by the board some months ago — before Simpson's departure.

General Says Muzzle Hasn't Halted Him

Still Getting Basic Anti-Red Message Across

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau told senators today that censoring of his speeches has not kept him from getting across basic anti-Communist messages. But he said that he didn't think "a GS-11 or a major" should be making deletions from a general's speeches.

Trudeau's raising of the matter of who is doing the censoring moved toward an area of major controversy in the Senate investigation of charges the Pentagon is muzzling military officers against anti-Communist utterances.

DIRECTIVE

It was learned today that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara issued a directive to Defense Department personnel last Monday that they should refuse to answer any questions as to which censor handled what speech or article.

The directive follows a stand that McNamara took last year before the Senate Armed Services Committee. He said then that he assumed full responsibility for what had been done as to censoring of speeches and that specific jobs done by particular individuals would not be disclosed.

GS-11?

Trudeau's suggestion that censoring falls to "a GS-11 or a major" came under questioning by the subcommittee conducting the present inquiry.

A GS-11 is a government civil service employee ranking in the upper middle grades. This classification carries an annual salary of $7,600 to $9,600.

The general, 59, head of Army research, came before the subcommittee with a prepared statement which mildly reviewed what had happened to some of his speeches.

WONDER

He said in this that some of the changes caused him to wonder.

But under questioning by James Kendall, chief counsel for the inquiry, Trudeau said that he did not understand why some hard-hitting anti-Communist phrases had been censored from or altered in his public speeches.

The quick-speaking general agreed that there is a need for review of all speeches by both civilian and military leaders to avoid unintentional disclosure of military secrets.

But he said it was unfortunate if some subordinate Pentagon civilian or military officers used authority of review for national policy to inject his personal opinions.

Kendall asked if the Defense Department had sufficient guidelines so Trudeau and others would know if some statement "might contravene national policy."

Trudeau said it did not and he often wondered when his speeches had been revised if this resulted from "a policy directive or the opinion of an individual."

Trudeau said censors cut from his testimony before a congressional committee a denunciation of communism which they had approved less than a month earlier for his speech to a civilian group.

Burglar Takes $30,000 In Gems, Furs At Home

Corte Madera Couple Gets 'Ransom' Offer

Between $25,000 and $30,000 worth of jewelry, furs and other valuables were stolen yesterday from a Corte Madera home by a thief who today offered by telephone to return the loot for 10 per cent of its value.

It was the fourth multi-thousand dollar house burglary in Marin within a month.

Victims were Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Harold Peairs of 29 Key Largo Course, Corte Madera.

Peairs told Corte Madera police that he received an anonymous telephone call this morning from a man who said he would return the stolen goods if Peairs would pay 10 per cent of their worth.

Included in the loot were jewels, furs, cameras, radio, field glasses, and a blank cartridge pistol.

Mr. and Mrs. Peairs, owners of three San Francisco bars, left their home at 2:30 p.m. yesterday for San Francisco and returned at 10:30 p.m., reported Corte Madera patrolman Charles E. Newman. Police were called about 11 p.m.

Newman said entry was gained through a rear door. A locked screen door was torn where the burglar apparently reached in and turned the knob from the inside. Police today were checking the door knob for fingerprints.

SIMILAR THEFT

Newman said the burglary was similar to those of the Joseph C. Hickingbotham Jr. home at 1408 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, where $98,000 worth of furs and jewelry were taken on New Year's Eve, and the I. Wayland Bombright Jr. home on Macon Grade in Ross, struck last Wednesday with $7,800 in loot taken.

More daring was the burglary of Mrs. Sally Clapp Stapp in Sausalito on Christmas Eve — just one month ago — in which heirlooms and other loot totaling more than $20,000 were carried away while Mrs. Stapp slept.

DOGS COWERING

When the Peairs returned home last night their five French poodles were all cowering in a corner of one of the rooms. They told Newman the dogs did not appear to have been struck, however.

Core Madera police today sent out an all-points bulletin on the burglary listing the items taken as follows:

1. A blank cartridge pistol, value unknown.
2. A small jade ring, value unknown.
3. Two diamond dinner rings, each with 15 diamonds inset, value unknown.
4. A one-carat center stone ring with nine inset diamonds, value unknown.
5. A diamond and ruby wedding ring, white gold on platinum.
6. A turquoise plain band wedding ring, value unknown.

Robert Rouse Resigns From Hub Council

Robert E. Rouse, appointed to a San Anselmo city council seat in August 1960, to succeed Carmel Booth, resigned last night because of ill health.

Rouse has been unable to attend council meetings for the past two months, having been hospitalized about three weeks. He explained today he will have to re-enter the hospital for more checkups and "I felt it would be unfair to the council and to the city to continue on the council."

PHONED MAYOR

Rouse's resignation was announced last night by Mayor Carleton G. Little, who said Rouse had called him by telephone to announce his decision to quit the city post.

The mayor and other councilmen commended Rouse for "energetic and conscientious" service to the city and expressed regret in losing Rouse. They announced they would send him a plaque to thank him for his services.

LETTER NEEDED

However, on the advice of City Atty. John G. Buresh, Rouse's resignation was not formally accepted because no written letter had been submitted to the council.

Legally, said Buresh, Councilman Rouse has merely indicated orally to the mayor that he is resigning, but the city council should await a formal letter before acting.

Stolen Safe Found Intact With $2,500

A 500-pound safe containing $2,500, stolen from the Marin Golf and Country Club in Novato on Jan. 11, was back in its accustomed place today—with contents intact.

The safe was found on Jan. 12 by Oakland police in an abandoned house on 40th Street, the site of a new freeway. Oakland police have been searching for the owner since they found it, according to Kenneth O. Baker, manager of the club.

Baker said he was notified today by Novato Police Chief Roy McLaren that the safe had been found. He drove to Oakland this morning and returned it to the club, noting that $2,000 in currency and $500 in checks and gift certificates, to be used as golf tournament prizes, were still safely inside.

The two-by-three-foot safe had not been opened and was undamaged except for a few scratches, Baker said.

State Gives Reassurance On Hospital

A letter to Marin County supervisors from Gordon R. Cumming, chief of the state Bureau of Hospitals, yesterday gave reassurance that he would not block new plans eliminating construction of a new county hospital.

It brought no immediate fresh action because Administrator Alan Bruce said a new proposal from Marin General Hospital probably would be forthcoming next week.

Under board instructions, Bruce and Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell made a quick trip to Berkeley yesterday morning to acquaint Cumming with the board's new views resulting from a letter by Welfare Director Betty L. Presley.

WILL SATISFY

Cumming wrote that repair of the hospital, which is to start during this week according to Public Works Department information, and use for a limited period as a nursing and convalescent home will satisfy his requests.

With reference to later use for "custodial patients" as suggested in the Presley letter, Cumming said such use would not eliminate inspections by his department but they would constitute advice rather than requirements. This seemed to substantiate theory that licensing won't then be required.

If Marin County decides to place nursing home patients in private licensed facilities, such decision will not conflict with his department's regulations or policies, said Cumming.

MARCH DEADLINE

He again called attention to a March 1 deadline for "submission of your final and complete proposals for continued care of county patients."

It was indicated the board would try to analyze all current proposals next week, one definitely scheduled being that of attorney Peter Allen Smith, who said he would up-date the private construction project of unnamed principals.

The board yesterday approved in principle a recommendation from its engineer, H. M. Engle, that Albert H. Siemer, Fairfax city engineer, be inspector of the repair job by Richard Zoellner of Ross.

Dope Smuggle Trial Is Off To Slow Start

The San Quentin dope smuggling trial got off to a late start this morning when Los Angeles attorney Frank Duncan and his lawyer wife, Elinor Chandler, dashed into the courtroom 15 minutes late and explained they had trouble with their car.

As Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales launched into his opening statement and referred to convict Thomas Devers, who was stabbed to death at the prison last month, Devers' mother, Mrs. Marie Frances Hall, 47, broke into convulsive sobbing.

CALLED MEMBERS

Mrs. Hall and three others are accused of conspiring to smuggle $18,000 worth of heroin, marijuana and peyote into San Quentin last year. Bales declared he will prove that Mrs. Hall; Los Angeles housewife Mrs. Pauline Herrera, 31; and prison inmates Benjamin Gonzales, 28, and Richard Rodriquez, 34, all were members of the smuggling ring.

The prosecution's first witness was pretty blonde Anna Marie Kellam, 25, of Oakland, who pleaded guilty to the same conspiracy charge.

COLOMBIA URGES CUBA SANCTIONS

Blast At Castro Starts Latin Talks; Mexico Questions Legality Of Action

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (UPI)—Colombia called today on hemisphere nations for a collective break with Fidel Castro's Cuba and new measures of vigilance to preserve other countries from the spread of the Cuban socialist revolution. (See also page 16.)

Opening floor debate at the eighth inter-American conference, Colombian Foreign Minister Caicedo Castilla said his country considered these measures "indispensable" to preserve inter-American treaties and the mutual aid system against Cuban threats "to the autonomy, independence and sovereignty of American states and the peace of the hemisphere."

Mexican Foreign Minister Manuel Tello who followed immediately questioned the legality of the anti-Cuban measures proposed by Colombia but admitted there seems to be "incompatibility between being a member of the organization of American States and professing the Marxist - Leninist faith."

The opposing stands, voiced in the first two hours of general debate, pointed up the sharp differences which delegates meeting privately have sought to iron out in the past two days.

The first session of the conference as a whole started at 11 a.m. (PST), a half-hour behind schedule. The Colombian motion was seconded by a dozen nations led by U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Fourteen votes are needed.

Venezuelan Foreign Minister Marcos Falcon Briceno was appointed conference chairman. Alfredo Vargas Fernandez of Costa Rica was elected secretary.

Falcon warned delegates in a brief speech that "emotion is not always a good counsellor."

Womack Will Seek Post Of Supervisor

Novato's Mayor Wayne Womack today announced his candidacy for Marin County supervisor from the Fifth District, a position now held by William Gnoss.

Womack said he chose this time to make his announcement to show definitely he would not be a candidate for Novato City Council in the April 10 election. Filing for the council positions opens Thursday. Womack said he wanted his position known so "some of the many good men available" would file for the city positions.

Womack was born in Madill, Okla., in 1929 and moved to Beaumont, Calif. with his parents when he was 9.

He started a career in banking in the Bank of Beaumont in 1947. He later worked in the Southern Counties Bank in Anaheim and El Monte. From 1951 through 1953 he was assistant manager of the First National Bank of Novato (now Crocker-Anglo). From 1954 through 1957 he was office manager of Pini Hardware.

In 1957 he entered business for himself, opening Womack's Variety Store in the Town and Country Shopping Center at 1425 Grant Avenue. This store was destroyed by fire on Jan. 10, but will be reopened as soon as possible, Womack said.

Womack was active in the campaing to get Novato incorporated. He ran for the city council and became the first and only mayor to date of Novato, assuming office when the city came into being on Jan. 20, 1960.

Womack and his wife, the former Colleen Mary Hansen, have five children: Craig, 11; Dianne, 10; Elaine, 9; Jennifer, 7, and Matthew, 5. The Womacks live at 130 Grande Vista, Novato.

In announcing his candidacy, Womack said:

"It is my intention to conduct an active campaign which will point up my qualifications for this office. I will forsake my present office of the mayor of Novato when the term expires in April to be able to fully apply the experience and knowledge gained to vigorously represent the Fifth District.

Tam, Homestead Approve Merger

Tamalpais Valley and Homestead Valley Fire Districts were consolidated yesterday by 6-to-1 vote of their residents.

This is believed to be the first time in California history that two fire districts have been consolidated by vote of the people.

The tally was 908 votes for the merger to 146 against.

Homestead voted 373 to 99 for the merger and Tamalpais Valley 535 to 47 for it. Figures include absentee ballots.

Elected commissioners of the combined district, which will begin its existence Feb. 1 were Donald J. Taylor, 737 votes; Carl H. Modell, 724; Raymond J. Massagli, 722; Charles O. Woodworth, 665, and Morris Batz, 630.

Donald J. Rushton received 526 votes. Joseph J. Brezina, who was on the ballot but had withdrawn for business reasons, received 269. Ove Johnson, who was one of the opposition leaders, received 26 write-in votes.

Both former districts will be represented on the new commission with Modell and Woodworth from Homestead, Massagli and Batz from Tamalpais Valley, and Taylor from Almonte in the former Tam Valley district. Modell and Taylor are to serve three year terms, Massagli and Woodworth, two years, and Batz, one year.

By an understanding with the Homestead Firemen's Club, which owns the Homestead Firehouse, the firehouse is to be turned over to the new district.

Votes are to be canvassed by both boards Tuesday at 7 a.m. at both firehouses.

House Passes Postal Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed today a bill to add one cent to the cost of mailing a letter and raising postage rates for magazines, newspapers and advertising material.

The bill, one of the administration's high priority measures, was passed by voice vote. It now goes to the Senate.

The House added 79.2 million dollars to a rate increase bill worked out by the Kennedy administration and House Democratic leaders, producing a measure that would bring in 700 million dollars if accepted by the Senate. There is some doubt on that score, however.

1.16 Million Strike Days

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California workers spent 1.16 million days on strike last year. The State Department of Industrial Relations reported today.

Will Walled-Up West Berlin Ever Wither On The Vine

An A.P. News Analysis
By EUGENE KRAMER

BERLIN — How long can West Berlin remain walled up without withering on the vine?

This question recently prompted President John F. Kennedy to ask his personal envoy to the city, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, whether West Berlin needs any special help. The result has been more attention to U.S. investment in West Berlin.

A look at the map shows that the wall raised by the Communists last August to stop the flow of refugees is part of a curtain of concrete and barbed wire completely encircling West Berlin.

Because they surround the city, the Communists can turn the pressure on and off at will. This raises the question whether the island can hold out economically.

There are conflicting views. But responsible Western authorities who monitor West Berlin's pulse say that it will take more than a wall against refugees to kill West Berlin economically.

If the Communists should ever raise a wall against goods and trade, that would be another and very serious matter.

The ever-present threat of such an economic wall is one reason Kennedy and other Western statesmen have suggested international control over the access routes to West Berlin.

The East German Communists have rejected the proposal, which would end their present exclusive control over West Berlin's commercial traffic. However, they hardly interfered with the record volume of goods moving in and out of the isolated city last year.

East German Communist newspapers like to portray West Berlin as a ghost town. Their favorite propaganda photos show moving vans leaving West Berlin and "for rent" signs in empty windows along Kurfuerstendamm, the main street.

Tourists find West Berlin a bit quieter now than last summer, but the economic experts say business is healthy. Unemployment averages about 21,000 and the city of 2.5 million has a labor shortage. The raising of the Red wall between East and West Berlin stopped more than 50,000 East Berliners from commuting to jobs in West Berlin.

It is reliably estimated that 1,400 West Berliners a week move to West Germany and 800 to 1,000 West Germans move in. Western sources say this drain can go on indefinitely without seriously hurting a city the size of West Berlin. Most of those leaving seem to be old or retired people. Those arriving are mostly young workers, lured by lower taxes, marriage loans and other incentives.

West Berlin remains the biggest industrial city of all Germany. Orders for its foodstuffs, electric machinery and other major exports haves hown only a very slight leveling off.

West Berlin's gross product —its total of goods and services—for 1961 is estimated at 13.2 billion marks—3.3 billion dollars. This is a 10 per cent gain from 1960 which in turn was 13 per cent over 1959.

Despite the ever-present threat of tighter Red controls, a total of about 17 million tons of goods moved in and out of West Berlin by truck, train and barge last year.

One reason for so little Communist interference is the inter-zonal trade agreement under which West and East Germany sell each other about 250 million dollars worth of goods a year. The Communist East German regime knows that interference with the trade lanes to West Berlin could cut the flow of badly needed steel, machinery and chemicals it gets from West Germany.

Governor Ready With Worst-Kept Secret—He'll Run

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The bristling tone of California's 1962 election campaign was underlined today by caustic charges and counter-charges on the eve of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's announcement of his political plans.

There was no doubt beforehand that the Democratic governor would confirm the worst kept secret of the year at a $100-a-plate dinner in his honor tonight and declare his candidacy for reelection.

Republicans, in fact, anticipated Brown's decision.

County GOP chairmen were supplied with apr i packaged statement embodying a 15-point "indictment" of the Democratic administration. They were urged to time resolutions or press releases to coincide with Brown's announcement.

Roger Kent, Democratic state chairman, somehow got hold of a copy of the letter signed by Jud Leetham, Los Angeles County Republican chairman. He beat the other side to the punch by distributing the material with stinging criticism of what he termed "filthy" tactics.

The statement proposed by Leetham described Brown as inept, said he is totally incapable, declared he has brought disrepute to the office of chief executive and accused him of "financial bumbling."

Kent fired back that this was what you can expect from Richard M. Nixon, who is seeking the Republican nomination for governor and the right to oppose Brown in November's balloting.

"It looks as if the plan is to use uniformed county chairmen for the dirty work while Nixon poses as a statesman," said Kent.

Leetham, in a covering letter, said he was writing each GOP county chairman in his capacity as campaign chairman of the County Chairmen's Assn.

"It appears desirable," he said, "that the campaigns throughout the state on behalf of the Republican Party position be on a somewhat coordinated basis. . . ."

Leetham told newsmen in Los Angeles that the material was not reviewed in advance by any Republican candidate for governor, including Nixon.

Kent assailed the charges in the draft resolution as "real smear stuff."

Anderson Aide To Run For State Secretary

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Don Rose, executive secretary to Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson, said yesterday he will run for Secretary of State this year if he gets the endorsement of the California Democratic Council at its convention in Fresno this weekend.

The nomination is also sought by Andrew C. Barrington, administrative assistant to State Treasurer Bert A. Betts.

Rose, 53, has been chairman of the Los Angeles County Democratic Central Committee for the last eight years.

In another announcement, Harold Treskunoff, 39, said he would seek the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor. A waiter, Treskunoff ran unsuccessfully for the San Francisco Board of Supervisors last November.

U.N Approval Of Resolution Against Portugal Expected

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U.N. delegates predicted today the General Assembly will give overwhelming approval to an Asian-African resolution calling on Portugal to end harsh rule in Angola and start the West African colony on the road to independence.

The resolution was submitted yesterday with 40 sponsors and was expected to poll as many as 85 favorable votes in the 104-nation assembly, well over the two-thirds needed for approval.

The draft was assured support from the 51 members of the Asian-African bloc, the 9-nation Soviet bloc and many of the 20 Latin-American states.

The United States, Britain and France have given no indication how they will vote on the proposal, which asks all member states to deny Portugal—a NATO member—any support that could be used against the Angolans.

'Aid For Communists'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Communist Gus Hall, who described himself as "an authoritative spokesman" of his party, said yesterday the Communists are being helped by Dr. Fred Schwarz and his "Christian Anti-Communist Crusade."

Hall told a press conference that Schwarz, the John Birch Society and other groups "have pushed us to the center of the stage—and that's a good place to be."

Americans are tired of anti-Communists, he said. Now "they want to hear from the Communists."

Blast Suspect Jailed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — David W. Wion, 53, was jailed here yesterday on charges of mailing a bomb to a woman who had obtained a court order to prevent him from bothering her.

Mrs. Mildred Tandy, 46, lost both hands and was seriously burned in the blast which occurred when she opened the package in her shop in Eckert, Colo., last Thursday.

Mrs. Tandy and her 9-year-old son moved from Sacramento to Eckert last November.

Citrus Lost In Cold

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — An Agriculture Department estimate of 4.5 to 8 million boxes of citrus lost due to recent freezing weather is in line with industry thinking, says a Florida Citrus Mutual executive.

The federal department estimated most of the loss occurred to the valencia orange crop. An estimated three to five million boxes were affected, the report said.

Gizenga Moved

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — Deposed Vice Premier Antoine Gizenga has been moved to a Congolese paratroop camp outside Leopoldville, government sources said today.

At the same time, reports from Gizenga's former Stanleyville stronghold said that Col. Alphonse Pakassa escaped yesterday.

Pakassa is Gizenga's cousin. Authorities wanted to question him about possible complicity in the Kindu and Kongolo massacres of 19 Catholic missionaries and 13 Italian U.N. airmen.

Rocket Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—A rocket failure more than 50 miles above earth destroyed a U.S. attempt today to orbit five satellites in one shot—the first of a trio of space spectaculars set for this week.

An 80-foot Thor-Able-Star rocket, carrying the quintet of moonlets on a rack inside its bulbous nose, was fired at 4:30 a.m. EST. But within two minutes, the rocket's second stage misfired and sent the 3.5-million-dollar shot to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean South of Cuba.

Hotel Collapses

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — Rescue squads today continued a frantic search for more victims in the ruins of a nearly completed resort hotel that collapsed at nearby Pineda, killing at least eight workmen and injuring 83.

Estimates of the number of workers in the eight-story hotel at the time of the two-stage collapse yesterday varied between 140 and 200. One official said he feared as many as two dozen more victims would be found.

Graham Spirited Away

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham spoke to a crowd of 4,000 at a baseball park here last night after ducking out the back door of a hall to avoid a pro-Cuban mob.

Graham was spirited out of the state legislative hall by local offficials when his speech to them was interrupted by a crowd banging on the front door and chanting.

$50,000 Gem Theft

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — More than $50,000 worth of jewelry was stolen from the suburban home of socialite Cortright Wetherill, Chester County police said last night.

Police said thieves carried away a 40-pound wall safe sometime last weekend from the Wetherill estate, Happy Hill Farm.

Police Chief William L. Tarr of Willistown Township said the Russian imperial emeralds, also known as the Romanoff collection, owned by Mrs. Wetherill, may have been the object of the burglary. They are valued at $150,000.

The emeralds, once the property of the czar, are kept in a bank vault in Philadelphia.

Flu Outbreaks

By UP-INTERNATIONAL

Virus influenza outbreaks closed schools in Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi yesterday.

Some of the schools were ordered closed for the rest of the week after officials reported unusually large numbers of absences attributable to respiratory diseases.

Britain Satellite

LONDON (AP)—Britain's first space satellite will probably be put into orbit by the Americans from Cape Canaveral at the end of March, informed sources said yesterday.

The satellite, U.K. 1, weighs 150 pounds and will be loaded with instruments. It is expected to remain about 600 miles out in space for some time.

CARE Milk Deaths

MADRAS, India (AP) — Three school children are reported to have died after eating food prepared from CARE milk powder, an official statement said yesterday.

The Madras government has ordered the educational authorities throughout the state to stop using the powder pending an analysis.

Avalanche Victim

TWIN LAKES, Colo. (AP)—The body of a 7-year-old boy, seventh victim of Sunday's avalanche on Colorado's highest mountain, was recovered yesterday.

Still Getting Russ Fallout

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The State Department of Public Health reports that California continues to receive small amounts of radioactive fallout from last fall's Soviet atmospheric nuclear tests.

The fallout, however, is far below levels at which any action would be necessary to protect the public health, the department said. Radioactivity levels have been about the same as those observed during 1958 and 1959.

The department says it is continuing to measure and assess fallout levels in the air, water and food.

Religion Forum

A forum discussion on the Blessed Trinity will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Star of the Sea Church in Sausalito, it was announced today by Rev. Henry O'Flynn, pastor. The forum is one of a regular religious lecture series each Thursday.

Republican Gets Modesto Assembly Seat

MODESTO (AP)— Republican John G. Veneman Jr. toppled a traditional state Democratic bastion, decisively captured the 30th Assembly District seat in a special election yesterday.

An unofficial tally gave Veneman, 43, a Stanislaus County supervisor, 20,275 and Rev. Charles Spencer 18,344 with all absentee ballots counted. Spencer is president of the Modesto Board of Education.

BROWN'S SEAT

The election was to fill the seat vacated when Assembly Speaker Ralph Brown resigned to accept a judgeship on the State 5th District Court of Appeal in Fresno.

John Krehbiel, Republican Party state chairman, hailed the victory as a sign of a strong GOP tide that would defeat Gov. Brown's administration in the 1962 election.

A spokesman for Roger Kent, chairman of the state Democratic Party, said the election was an individual contest, and not any indication of statewide trends.

Spencer, 43, who resigned his post as a minister of the College Avenue Congregational Church in Modesto when he won the Democratic nomination, had the support of Gov. Brown, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk and other prominent Democrats.

MORE DEMOCRATS

Democrats hold nearly an 8-5 registration edge over Republicans in the district and a Democrat has held the assembly job since 1934.

Two of the key campaign issues were welfare and water. Veneman was sharply critical of state welfare programs and what he termed a failure to curb fraud and other abuses in the field. He also backed local rather than federal development of the Stanislaus River as part of the Central Valley project.

28 EAST GERMANS ESCAPE AS REDS PASS NEW MILITARY DRAFT LAW

BERLIN (UPI)—A group of 28 East Germans last night staged the largest mass escape to the West since the Communists built the East-West Berlin city wall last August, police disclosed today.

The successful flight from Communist rule was reported as the East German parliament passed a military draft law.

Zero Weather Still Clings To Central Plateau Area

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Zero weather clung to the central plateau region today but temperatures moderated across most of the nation from the central Rockies into northern New England.

Light snow and rain hit scattered sections of the country.

The zero belt stretched across areas in eastern and southeastern Idaho, northern Utah, southern Nevada and southeast Oregon. In Idaho it was -14 in Idaho Falls, and -10 in Pocatello and Dubois. Salt Lake City reported 5 below.

For the first morning in more than a week many Midwest and Rocky Mountain areas reported temperatures above zero.

Readings were generally from 10 to 20 degrees from the central Rockies into northern New England although the mercury edged near zero in some parts of northern Maine.

A cool front was stalled across central Georgia and southern parts of South Carolina and Alabama.

The Dead Sea, which is so salty fish cannot live in it, is rich in carnallite, a source of potassium.

Will Walled-Up West Berlin Ever Wither On The Vine

An A.P. News Analysis
By EUGENE KRAMER

BERLIN — How long can West Berlin remain walled up without withering on the vine?

This question recently prompted President John F. Kennedy to ask his personal envoy to the city, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, whether West Berlin needs any special help. The result has been more attention to U.S. investment in West Berlin.

A look at the map shows that the wall raised by the Communists last August to stop the flow of refugees is part of a curtain of concrete and barbed wire completely encircling West Berlin.

Because they surround the city, the Communists can turn the pressure on and off at will. This raises the question whether the island can hold out economically.

There are conflicting views. But responsible Western authorities who monitor West Berlin's pulse say that it will take more than a wall against refugees to kill West Berlin economically.

If the Communists should ever raise a wall against goods and trade, that would be another and very serious matter.

The ever-present threat of such an economic wall is one reason Kennedy and other Western statesmen have suggested international control over the access routes to West Berlin.

The East German Communists have rejected the proposal, which would end their present exclusive control over West Berlin's commercial traffic. However, they hardly interfered with the record volume of goods moving in and out of the isolated city last year.

East German Communist newspapers like to portray West Berlin as a ghost town. Their favorite propaganda photos show moving vans leaving West Berlin and "for rent" signs in empty windows along Kurfuerstendamn, the main street.

Tourists find West Berlin a bit quieter now than last summer, but the economic experts say business is healthy. Unemployment averages about 21,000 and the city of 2.5 million has a labor shortage. The raising of the Red wall between East and West Berlin stopped more than 50,000 East Berliners from commuting to jobs in West Berlin.

It is reliably estimated that 1,400 West Berliners a week move to West Germany and 800 to 1,000 West Germans move in. Western sources say this drain can go on indefinitely without seriously hurting a city the size of West Berlin. Most of those leaving seem to be old or retired people. Those arriving are mostly young workers, lured by lower taxes, marriage loans and other incentives.

West Berlin remains the biggest industrial city of all Germany. Orders for its foodstuffs, electric machinery and other major exports haves hown only a very slight leveling off.

West Berlin's gross product —its total of goods and services—for 1961 is estimated at 13.2 billion marks—3.3 billion dollars. This is a 10 per cent gain from 1960 which in turn was 13 per cent over 1959.

Despite the ever-present threat of tighter Red controls, a total of about 17 million tons of goods moved in and out of West Berlin by truck, train and barge last year.

One reason for so little Communist interference is the inter-zonal trade agreement under which West and East Germany sell each other about 250 million dollars worth of goods a year. The Communist East German regime knows that interference with the trade lanes to West Berlin could cut the flow of badly needed steel, machinery and chemicals it gets from West Germany.

"It looks as if the plan is to use uniformed county chairmen for the dirty work while Nixon poses as a statesman," said Kent.

Leetham, in a covering letter, said he was writing each GOP county chairman in his capacity as campaign chairman of the County Chairmen's Assn.

"It appears desirable," he said, "that the campaigns throughout the state on behalf of the Republican Party position be on a somewhat coordinated basis. . . ."

Leetham told newsmen in Los Angeles that the material was not reviewed in advance by any Republican candidate for governor, including Nixon.

Kent assailed the charges in the draft resolution as "real smear stuff."

Anderson Aide To Run For State Secretary

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Don Rose, executive secretary to Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson, said yesterday he will run for Secretary of State this year if he gets the endorsement of the California Democratic Council at its convention in Fresno this weekend.

The nomination is also sought by Andrew C. Barrington, administrative assistant to State Treasurer Bert A. Betts.

Rose, 53, has been chairman of the Los Angeles County Democratic Central Committee for the last eight years.

In another announcement, Harold Treskunoff, 39, said he would seek the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor. A waiter, Treskunoff ran unsuccessfully for the San Francisco Board of Supervisors last November.

U.N Approval Of Resolution Against Portugal Expected

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U.N. delegates predicted today the General Assembly will give overwhelming approval to an Asian-African resolution calling on Portugal to end harsh rule in Angola and start the West African colony on the road to independence.

The resolution was submitted yesterday with 40 sponsors and was expected to poll as many as 85 favorable votes in the 104-nation assembly, well over the two-thirds needed for approval.

The draft was assured support from the 51 members of the Asian-African bloc, the 9-nation Soviet bloc and many of the 20 Latin-American states.

The United States, Britain and France have given no indication how they will vote on the proposal, which asks all member states to deny Portugal—a NATO member—any support that could be used against the Angolans.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

'Aid For Communists'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Communist Gus Hall, who described himself as "an authoritative spokesman" of his party, said yesterday the Communists are being helped by Dr. Fred Schwarz and his "Christian Anti-Communist Crusade."

Hall told a press conference that Schwarz, the John Birch Society and other groups "have pushed us to the center of the stage—and that's a good place to be."

Americans are tired of anti-Communists, he said. Now "they want to hear from the Communists."

Blast Suspect Jailed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — David W. Wion, 53, was jailed here yesterday on charges of mailing a bomb to a woman who had obtained a court order to prevent him from bothering her.

Mrs. Mildred Tandy, 46, lost both hands and was seriously burned in the blast which occurred when she opened the package in her shop in Eckert, Colo., last Thursday.

Mrs. Tandy and her 9-year-old son moved from Sacramento to Eckert last November.

Citrus Lost In Cold

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — An Agriculture Department estimate of 4.5 to 8 million boxes of citrus lost due to recent freezing weather is in line with industry thinking, says a Florida Citrus Mutual executive.

The federal department estimated most of the loss occurred to the valencia orange crop. An estimated three to five million boxes were affected, the report said.

Gizenga Moved

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — Deposed Vice Premier Antoine Gizenga has been moved to a Congolese paratroop camp outside Leopoldville, government sources said today.

At the same time, reports from Gizenga's former Stanleyville stronghold said that Col. Alphonse Pakassa escaped yesterday.

Pakassa is Gizenga's cousin. Authorities wanted to question him about possible complicity in the Kindu and Kongolo massacres of 19 Catholic missionaries and 13 Italian U.N. airmen.

Rocket Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—A rocket failure more than 50 miles above earth destroyed a U.S. attempt today to orbit five satellites in one shot—the first of a trio of space spectaculars set for this week.

An 80-foot Thor-Able-Star rocket, carrying the quintet of moonlets on a rack inside its bulbous nose, was fired at 4:30 a.m. EST. But within two minutes, the rocket's second stage misfired and sent the 3.5-million-dollar shot to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean South of Cuba.

Hotel Collapses

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — Rescue squads today continued a frantic search for more victims in the ruins of a nearly completed resort hotel that collapsed at nearby Pineda, killing at least eight workmen and injuring 83.

Estimates of the number of workers in the eight-story hotel at the time of the two-stage collapse yesterday varied between 140 and 200. One official said he feared as many as two dozen more victims would be found.

Graham Spirited Away

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham spoke to a crowd of 4,000 at a baseball park here last night after ducking out the back door of a hall to avoid a pro-Cuban mob.

Graham was spirited out of the state legislative hall by local offficials when his speech to them was interrupted by a crowd banging on the front door and chanting.

$50,000 Gem Theft

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — More than $50,000 worth of jewelry was stolen from the suburban home of socialite Cortright Wetherill, Chester County police said last night.

Police said thieves carried away a 40-pound wall safe sometime last weekend from the Wetherill estate, Happy Hill Farm.

Police Chief William L. Tarr of Willistown Township said the Russian imperial emeralds, also known as the Romanoff collection, owned by Mrs. Wetherill, may have been the object of the burglary. They are valued at $150,000.

The emeralds, once the property of the czar, are kept in a bank vault in Philadelphia.

Flu Outbreaks

By UP-INTERNATIONAL

Virus influenza outbreaks closed schools in Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi yesterday.

Some of the schools were ordered closed for the rest of the week after officials reported unusually large numbers of absences attributable to respiratory diseases.

Britain Satellite

LONDON (AP)—Britain's first space satellite will probably be put into orbit by the Americans from Cape Canaveral at the end of March, informed sources said yesterday.

The satellite, U.K. 1, weighs 150 pounds and will be loaded with instruments. It is expected to remain about 600 miles out in space for some time.

CARE Milk Deaths

MADRAS, India (AP) — Three school children are reported to have died after eating food prepared from CARE milk powder, an official statement said yesterday.

The Madras government has ordered the educational authorities throughout the state to stop using the powder pending an analysis.

Avalanche Victim

TWIN LAKES, Colo. (AP)—The body of a 7-year-old boy, seventh victim of Sunday's avalanche on Colorado's highest mountain, was recovered yesterday.

Still Getting Russ Fallout

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The State Department of Public Health reports that California continues to receive small amounts of radioactive fallout from last fall's Soviet atmospheric nuclear tests.

The fallout, however, is far below levels at which any action would be necessary to protect the public health, the department said. Radioactivity levels have been about the same as those observed during 1958 and 1959.

The department says it is continuing to measure and assess fallout levels in the air, water and food.

Religion Forum

A forum discussion on the Blessed Trinity will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Star of the Sea Church in Sausalito, it was announced today by Rev. Henry O'Flynn, pastor. The forum is one of a regular religious lecture series each Thursday.

Republican Gets Modesto Assembly Seat

MODESTO (AP)— Republican John G. Veneman Jr. toppled a traditional state Democratic bastion, decisively captured the 30th Assembly District seat in a special election yesterday.

An unofficial tally gave Veneman, 43, a Stanislaus County supervisor, 20,275 and Rev. Charles Spencer 18,344 with all absentee ballots counted. Spencer is president of the Modesto Board of Education.

BROWN'S SEAT

The election was to fill the seat vacated when Assembly Speaker Ralph Brown resigned to accept a judgeship on the State 5th District Court of Appeal in Fresno.

John Krehbiel, Republican Party state chairman, hailed the victory as a sign of a strong GOP tide that would defeat Gov. Brown's administration in the 1962 election.

A spokesman for Roger Kent, chairman of the state Democratic Party, said the election was an individual contest, and not any indication of statewide trends.

Spencer, 43, who resigned his post as a minister of the College Avenue Congregational Church in Modesto when he won the Democratic nomination, had the support of Gov. Brown, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk and other prominent Democrats.

MORE DEMOCRATS

Democrats hold nearly an 8-5 registration edge over Republicans in the district and a Democrat has held the assembly job since 1934.

Two of the key campaign issues were welfare and water. Veneman was sharply critical of state welfare programs and what he termed a failure to curb fraud and other abuses in the field. He also backed local rather than federal development of the Stanislaus River as part of the Central Valley project.

28 EAST GERMANS ESCAPE AS REDS PASS NEW MILITARY DRAFT LAW

BERLIN (UPI)—A group of 28 East Germans last night staged the largest mass escape to the West since the Communists built the East-West Berlin city wall last August, police disclosed today.

The successful flight from Communist rule was reported as the East German parliament passed a military draft law.

Zero Weather Still Clings To Central Plateau Area

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Zero weather clung to the central plateau region today but temperatures moderated across most of the nation from the central Rockies into northern New England.

Light snow and rain hit scattered sections of the country.

The zero belt stretched across areas in eastern and southeastern Idaho, northern Utah, southern Nevada and southeast Oregon. In Idaho it was -14 in Idaho Falls, and -10 in Pocatello and Dubois. Salt Lake City reported 5 below.

For the first morning in more than a week many Midwest and Rocky Mountain areas reported temperatures above zero.

Readings were generally from 10 to 20 degrees from the central Rockies into northern New England although the mercury edged near zero in some parts of northern Maine.

A cool front was stalled across central Georgia and southern parts of South Carolina and Alabama.

The Dead Sea, which is so salty fish cannot live in it, is rich in carnallite, a source of potassium.

LIBERACE LIVING HIGH

Liberace displays a hi-fi set built into an antique harpsichord—one of his favorite show pieces at his $275,000 Hollywood Hills home. He invited friends in last night to see the 32-year-old mansion which he recently redecorated at a cost of $175,000. The house has five pianos. (AP Wirephoto)

Bridge Leap Victim Is Identified

A body recovered from San Francisco Bay waters by the Coast Guard just before noon yesterday has been identified as that of a San Francisco mother who had paid the Golden Gate Bridge toll three times before she nerved herself to jump as the bridge's 218th suicide.

No motive for the act by attractive 33-year-old Cynthia Flannery, wife of Navy Lt. William F. Flannery, has been disclosed. Her identity was learned by discovery on the bridge of her camera, containing no film but with navy serial number tracing back to the Mauna Kea which is at anchor off Concord at present.

Mrs. Flannery had one child, a boy.

Her leap was witnessed by John King, a bridge painter.

San Rafael Planners Deny Plea For Lincoln Avenue Gas Station

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night denied a request by Angelo Turrini for rezoning of a lot at Lincoln Avenue and Pacheco Street from multiple residential to commercial.

Representing the owner was attorney Thomas P. Boyd, who withdrew the rezoning request during discussion. Despite the withdrawal, the planners continued discussion, concluding with the denial. Boyd indicated he would appeal to the city council.

About 10 persons in the audience opposed the rezoning, which admittedly was to permit construction of a service station. A petition bearing about 40 signatures also opposed the action.

A second public hearing on a request to rezone four lots on La Vista Way off Lincoln Avenue was set for Feb. 13.

Christenson Construction Co. was given permisson to remove about 160,000 cubic yards of earth from a 30-acre site north of Professional Center Parkway across Highway 101 from Terra Linda. The developers were given nine months for the job on condition that no earth be removed through the parkway, all trucks to leave by north and east of the subdivision.

A use permit was approved for George Steinert to allow construction of offices of the California Highway Patrol on Francisco Boulevard between Bellam Boulevard and Railroad Avenue. No variances would be given and curbs and gutters would be required on property frontage, the commission declared.

A revised tentative map of Marin Bay Unit No. 2, a 301-lot subdivision was approved. The original map had indicated 265 lots.

Architectural approval was given Kaehler-Farrar Construction Co. for a 20-unit apartment at Canal and Fairfax Streets to be known as Fairfax Arms. Approval was withheld on construction of a 41-unit apartment by the same firm to be known as Harbor Arms pending revision of parking plans.

Because of the absence last night of City Planner James R. Garrett, the commission postponed to Feb. 13 discussions on high rise buildings, recommendations for zoning of city surplus property and off-street parking requirements in multiple residential districts. Commissioners Charles J. Hendrickson and Gene F. O'Connor were also absent last night.

In other action, the planners:

1. Granted permission to William Backes to build a duplex adjoining 59 Elizabeth Way.
2. Gave preliminary architectural approval for construction of an office building and medical laboratory on Woodland Avenue adjacent to Albert Field pending approval by the city council of parking plans which include public access and parking through a portion of Albert Field.
3. Approved a two-lot subdivision by Cagwin, Seymour and Hamilton Realty Co. on Pomeroy Road at the city limits of Ross.
4. Gave architectural approval for remodeling of a residence at Mission and Nye Streets for use as offices and apartments. Approval was granted pending parking and planting requirements be fulfilled.

Wash Every Mountain

ANAHEIM (AP)—Cleaned many mountains or washed down a few rocks lately? It's a daily job at Disneyland.

The park's maintenance chief says he just rolls a fire truck up to the attractions and aims its hose at the daily collection of grime.

There are also more routine tasks—waxing floors, scraping gum, washing streets, picking up paper.

Even the job of cleaning up after carriage-drawing horses has a Walt Disney touch: Joe Wong, a 52-year-old comic, sings as he pushes his cart and shovel.

Scientists Trying Radiation In Treating Food Spoilage

DAVIS (AP)—University of California scientists are bombarding fresh fruit and produce with radiation in an effort to find ways of commercially treating agriculture products to retard spoilage.

At the university's Davis campus, scientists are working with an 11-foot-deep tank of water holding 140 metal tubes containing radioactive cobalt.

The equipment is capable of irradiating full boxes of fruit with uniform doses of gamma rays.

Gamma rays can kill living organisms — including men if they are exposed to a large enough dose — and scientists hope they can increase shelf time of farm products by killing spoilage micro-organisms.

The killing rays can pasteurize and sterilize without heat and without radioactive contamination of food, project officials at Davis say.

A spokesman said, "Irradiation will never replace normal refrigeration, but used in combination (with refrigeration techniques) it may eventually add significantly to the shelf life of fresh foods.

Ankara has been the capital of Turkey only since 1923.

BABY RESCUED FROM FIERY HOME

This 10-month-old baby had just been rescued from a burning house when this photo was taken at Turin, Italy. The man holding the child, a 46-year-old workman, had gone into the blazing house to save the baby. The child's mother and sister escaped the flames which destroyed five homes in the slum district of Turin. The fire was on Jan. 18. (AP Wirephoto)

School Post For Summer Is Accepted

Douglas Lindauer, eighth grade teacher at Henry C. Hall School and last year's principal of the Larkspur School District's summer school, informed district trustees last night he would again accept the summer principalship.

The board asked him to come up with a plan creating a better teacher-pupil ratio in the 1962 summer school program than last year's. The trustees said they would put up about $1,000 to help the program.

Joe Stewart, Larkspur realty broker, told the trustees he was interested in purchasing a 2.4-acre piece of property on Corte Madera Avenue, near the top of the grade. According to the Corte Madera Master Plan, the site has been set aside for a future school site.

The trustees unanimously told Stewart they had no intention of building a school on such a small site. Stewart said he would go to the Corte Madera Planning Commission to ask for a change in the master plan.

2 Women Hurt As Auto Hits Highway Rail

A San Rafael woman driver was thrown from her car onto Highway 101 about midnight last night when her vehicle hit a rail of the Greenbrae underpass bridge.

Leonora Margarita Lindman of 510 Belle Avenue was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital though suffering from many bruises and cuts. Her passenger, Betty Young of 8 Crestview Drive, San Rafael, was treated at the hospital for a bruised chest and minor cuts.

The two had been attending a women's club meeting at a Larkspur restaurant, subsequently delivering some friends at homes in Corte Madera. As they approached the overpass, the car's left front wheel struck the center divider. This caused the car to cross the road and strike the bridge rail.

Hi-Fi Set Stolen

Mrs. George Louis Ordway reported to Mill Valley police that someone entered her home at 734 Lovell Avenue between 12:05 and 4:30 p.m. yesterday through an unlocked door and took a hi-fi set and a large glass bowl.

The pitcher plant, an insect-eating plant, collects water in hollow, banana-shaped horns. Strong odors lure the insect into the horn and stiff bristles prevent its escape. The prey can only descend to the deadly water which contains protein-digesting enzymes and bacteria.

Apartment Plan Denied By Larkspur Planners

The Larkspur Planning Commission last night denied architectural supervision for two 75-unit apartment houses on the Larkspur Plaza, by 3-1 vote.

Commissioners, F. B. Ketchum, David Scott and Vaughn Marker all indicated they felt the apartment house development would be too big for Larkspur.

Voting in favor of the development was Andrew Gilardi. The commission remains one man short of full membership as a replacement for John Vandall has not yet been appointed.

Each of the two apartment houses was to be L-shaped with one wing 300 feet long and the other 231 feet. They were to be three floors with the heighth not to exceed 34 feet at the highest point.

The developers may either reduce the size of the building for resubmittal or appeal the planning commission decision to the city council within five days. They have not indicated if they will do either.

The commission approved a revised plot plan for a drug store and two adjacent offices which showed an increase of parking spaces to 37. Submitting the plans were Dr. and Mrs. Russell Merret, who plan to build next to a present medical building on Magnolia Avenue.

The commissioner approved a lot split from one to four lots on Boardwalk 1. The 8,700 square foot lot on the end of the Boardwalk is owned by Bert Stone. It also approved architectural supervision for a 12-unit apartment in Bon Air subdivision 5 to be built by Schultz Building Co.

How Much Alcohol Do Humans Make?

NEW YORK (UPI) — On the fascinating and ironic question of whether human body chemistry makes and then uses ethyl alcohol in the normal course of its complicated business, the scientific answers for over 100 years have been both yes and no.

Now comes Dr. David Lester who says the correct answer surely is yes and this provides a biochemical basis for the disease, alcoholism. Ethyl alcohol is the potent ingredient of whisky, gin, beer and wine. A yes answer means even the most rigid teetotaler has the stuff in him.

Lester is a biochemist who works in the laboratory of applied biodynamics at Yale University. In 1858 it became technically possible to search body chemistry for self-made ethyl alcohol. Since then some 60 scientists have searched for it.

Some found not a trace of it. Others found mere traces. Still others found a great deal of it, relatively speaking. Lester surveyed all this work. He found that the more recent searchings, with greatly improved techniques, turned up natural human alcohol.

In body chemistry all chemical substances are constantly appearing, changing and disappearing. No one thing stays the same for very long. Any given substance can be transformed through many chemical steps into something quite different from what it was in the beginning.

Lester concluded that ethyl alcohol is a product of one of these steps between the beginning and the end of some of this processing. It is a "metabolite" and so its existence is fleeting. There is an enzyme in nammalian livers which oxilizes it by removing its hydrogen.

From Lester's viewpoint, the human capacity to make alcohol is a vestige of a long-gone stage of mammalian evolution. During that stage, self-made ethyl alcohol was an important part of body energy. This, he said, explains why the body chemistry of some individuals make much of it, while other body chemistries make only trace amounts.

The bearing of all this on the disease, alcoholism, which has become such a difficult problem, is that it could explain why it is some people are compulsive drinkers while other people can drink or not drink as it suits them.

In body chemistry there can be more than one "pathway" by which a given product is converted step-by-step into an end product which body chemistry must have. Ethyl alcohol could be a passing product along only one of a number of "pathways" all of which have the same beginning and come to the same end.

But if the victim of the disease, alcoholism, has a primitive body chemistry which has only the alcohol "pathway" to the essential end product, you could understand why he is compelled to drink. His body chemistry functions better when ethyl alcohol is added to it from the outside.

The scientific consensus of the disease, alcoholism, is that it is a psychological disease but most scientists hold it has to have a biochemical basis. Lester was suggesting what this basis is.

SAUSALITO MAY ACT ON DOG PROBLEM

Sausalito city council discussed possible changes in its dog ordinance before last night which, if approved, will mean that dogs will have to be leashed in commercial zones of the city. The matter was put over to Feb. 13.

Other changes recommended by citizens and the Humane Society are:

Nuisance abatment, such as noise, packs, running in streets, endangering motorists; nuisance abatment and prohibiting hazards to health and safety by "droppings" on sidewalk; protest methods for residential problems and citation provisions for citing owners or impounding dogs.

ICC Hearing On Railroad Plea To Start

Hearing of Northwestern Pacific Railroad's petition to abandon 2.46 miles of track including the caved-in Puerto Suello tunnel will start in San Francisco's New Mint Building at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow before F. Roy Linn, hearing examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Randolph Karr as attorney for Northwestern Pacific is expected to open for the petitioner. Opposition is to be provided by the City of San Rafael, supported by Marin County, four other cities and the Marin Industrial Development Foundation. The California Public Utilities Commission will make its own presentation as a party at interest.

New Refrigerator Stolen From Home

A new refrigerator worth almost $300 disappeared from a new home under construction at 27 Sandstone Court in Marinwood, the owners of the new home reported to the sheriff yesterday.

Mrs. Dorothea W. Frahm of 1430 Park Avenue, Novato, said the refrigerator was in the kitchen of her new Marinwood home Sunday afternoon. Yesterday, the appliance had vanished.

Marks on the kitchen floor indicated that thieves had pulled the heavy refrigerator out the kitchen door and loaded it onto a truck or trailer.

Commission Wants More South Senators

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Los Angeles would have four state senators instead of its present one under a recommendation by the Commission of State Senate Reapportionment. It was learned today.

The nine commissioners were reported ready to sign such a recommendation and submit it to Gov. Edmund G. Brown and the legislature for the special budget session opening Feb. 5.

LEGISLATIVE ACT

The commission was established under legislation last year to find a solution to the ticklish reapportionment problem. In 1960 voters defeated a proposal by Los Angeles interests to give half the 40 senate districts to the 10 Southern California counties.

The compromise plan drawn up by the commission would increase the membership of the senate from 40 to 43, with Los Angeles being the only county with more than one senator.

It was reported that the 43-seat plan was based on a formula that would establish a maximum of one senate district for each 1.5 million population. However, no county would be entitled to more than 10 per cent of the total districts.

SOME SHARE

The senate now is on a geographical basis, with no more than one seat for each county. Some of the less populated counties share a seat.

The assembly is apportioned on a population basis under the "federal plan" in which the legislature was established on the same general lines as Congress, with two houses.

Los Angeles County, with just one senator, contends that the rural-dominated senate has discriminated against it.

Any change in the makeup of the senate would require a constitutional amendment and vote of the people.

State Parks Ready For Visitors

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Vacationers on California highways next summer will find 21 state parks in which picnic facilities, normally designed for day use, will be available for one night's camping.

Designation of the areas in the parks for overnight camping was ordered by the state park commission in an effort to relieve some of the turnaways from campsites during the busy summer months.

Persons camping overnight in the spots will have to leave early in the morning — between 8 and 10 a.m., depending upon the area.

These areas will be operated in addition to the regular campsites, where longer stays are permitted.

The parks which will be available for one-night camping include:

Benbow Lake, Grizzly Creek Redwoods, Patrick's Point, Prairie Creek and Richardson Grove, all in Humboldt County; Big Basin Redwoods and New Brighton Beach, Santa Cruz County; Carpinteria Beach, Santa Barbara County; Caswell Memorial, San Joaquin; Clear Lake, Lake County; George J. Hatfield, and McConnell, Merced County; Jedediah Smith Redwoods, Del Norte County; McArthur-Burney Falls, Shasta County; MacKerricher Beach, Paul M. Dimmick Memorial Grove, Russian Gulch, Standish Hickey, and Van Damme Beach, Mendocino County; Mount Tamalpais and Samuel P. Taylor, Marin County; and Sonoma Coast, Sonoma County.

BABY RESCUED FROM FIERY HOME

This 10-month-old baby had just been rescued from a burning house when this photo was taken at Turin, Italy. The man holding the child, a 46-year-old workman, had gone into the blazing house to save the baby. The child's mother and sister escaped the flames which destroyed five homes in the slum district of Turin. The fire was on Jan. 18. (AP Wirephoto)

School Post For Summer Is Accepted

Douglas Lindauer, eighth grade teacher at Henry C. Hall School and last year's principal of the Larkspur School District's summer school, informed district trustees last night he would again accept the summer principalship.

The board asked him to come up with a plan creating a better teacher-pupil ratio in the 1962 summer school program than last year's. The trustees said they would put up about $1,000 to help the program.

Joe Stewart, Larkspur realty broker, told the trustees he was interested in purchasing a 2.4-acre piece of property on Corte Madera Avenue, near the top of the grade. According to the Corte Madera Master Plan, the site has been set aside for a future school site.

The trustees unanimously told Stewart they had no intention of building a school on such a small site. Stewart said he would go to the Corte Madera Planning Commission to ask for a change in the master plan.

2 Women Hurt As Auto Hits Highway Rail

A San Rafael woman driver was thrown from her car onto Highway 101 about midnight last night when her vehicle hit a rail of the Greenbrae underpass bridge.

Leonora Margarita Lindman of 510 Belle Avenue was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital though suffering from many bruises and cuts. Her passenger, Betty Young of 8 Crestview Drive, San Rafael, was treated at the hospital for a bruised chest and minor cuts.

The two had been attending a women's club meeting at a Larkspur restaurant, subsequently delivering some friends at homes in Corte Madera. As they approached the overpass, the car's left front wheel struck the center divider. This caused the car to cross the road and strike the bridge rail.

Hi-Fi Set Stolen

Mrs. George Louis Ordway reported to Mill Valley police that someone entered her home at 734 Lovell Avenue between 12:05 and 4:30 p.m. yesterday through an unlocked door and took a hi-fi set and a large glass bowl.

The pitcher plant, an insect-eating plant, collects water in hollow, banana-shaped horns. Strong odors lure the insect into the horn and stiff bristles prevent its escape. The prey can only descend to the deadly water which contains protein-digesting enzymes and bacteria.

Apartment Plan Denied By Larkspur Planners

The Larkspur Planning Commission last night denied architectural supervision for two 75-unit apartment houses on the Larkspur Plaza, by 3-1 vote.

Commissioners, F. B. Ketchum, David Scott and Vaughn Marker all indicated they felt the apartment house development would be too big for Larkspur.

Voting in favor of the development was Andrew Gilardi. The commission remains one man short of full membership as a replacement for John Vandall has not yet been appointed.

Each of the two apartment houses was to be L-shaped with one wing 300 feet long and the other 231 feet. They were to be three floors with the heighth not to exceed 34 feet at the highest point.

The developers may either reduce the size of the building for resubmittal or appeal the planning commission decision to the city council within five days. They have not indicated if they will do either.

The commission approved a revised plot plan for a drug store and two adjacent offices which showed an increase of parking spaces to 37. Submitting the plans were Dr. and Mrs. Russell Merret, who plan to build next to a present medical building on Magnolia Avenue.

The commissioner approved a lot split from one to four lots on Boardwalk 1. The 8,700 square foot lot on the end of the Boardwalk is owned by Bert Stone. It also approved architectural supervision for a 12-unit apartment in Bon Air subdivision 5 to be built by Schultz Building Co.

How Much Alcohol Do Humans Make?

NEW YORK (UPI) — On the fascinating and ironic question of whether human body chemistry makes and then uses ethyl alcohol in the normal course of its complicated business, the scientific answers for over 100 years have been both yes and no.

Now comes Dr. David Lester who says the correct answer surely is yes and this provides a biochemical basis for the disease, alcoholism. Ethyl alcohol is the potent ingredient of whisky, gin, beer and wine. A yes answer means even the most rigid teetotaler has the stuff in him.

Lester is a biochemist who works in the laboratory of applied biodynamics at Yale University. In 1858 it became technically possible to search body chemistry for self-made ethyl alcohol. Since then some 60 scientists have searched for it.

Some found not a trace of it. Others found mere traces. Still others found a great deal of it, relatively speaking. Lester surveyed all this work. He found that the more recent searchings, with greatly improved techniques, turned up natural human alcohol.

In body chemistry all chemical substances are constantly appearing, changing and disappearing. No one thing stays the same for very long. Any given substance can be transformed through many chemical steps into something quite different from what it was in the beginning.

Lester concluded that ethyl alcohol is a product of one of these steps between the beginning and the end of some of this processing. It is a "metabolite" and so its existence is fleeting. There is an enzyme in nammalian livers which oxidizes it by removing its hydrogen.

From Lester's viewpoint, the human capacity to make alcohol is a vestige of a long-gone stage of mammalian evolution. During that stage, self-made ethyl alcohol was an important part of body energy. This, he said, explains why the body chemistry of some individuals make much of it, while other body chemistries make only trace amounts.

The bearing of all this on the disease, alcoholism, which has become such a difficult problem, is that it could explain why it is some people are compulsive drinkers while other people can drink or not drink as it suits them.

In body chemistry there can be more than one "pathway" by which a given product is converted step-by-step into an end product which body chemistry must have. Ethyl alcohol could be a passing product along only one of a number of "pathways" all of which have the same beginning and come to the same end.

But if the victim of the disease, alcoholism, has a primitive body chemistry which has only the alcohol "pathway" to the essential end product, you could understand why he is compelled to drink. His body chemistry functions better when ethyl alcohol is added to it from the outside.

The scientific consensus of the disease, alcoholism, is that it is a psychological disease but most scientists hold it has to have a biochemical basis. Lester was suggesting what this basis is.

SAUSALITO MAY ACT ON DOG PROBLEM

Sausalito city council discussed possible changes in its dog ordinance before last night which, if approved, will mean that dogs will have to be leashed in commercial zones of the city. The matter was put over to Feb. 13.

Other changes recommended by citizens and the Humane Society are:

Nuisance abatment, such as noise, packs, running in streets, endangering motorists; nuisance abatment and prohibiting hazards to health and safety by "droppings" on sidewalk; protest methods for residential problems and citation provisions for citing owners or impounding dogs.

ICC Hearing On Railroad Plea To Start

Hearing of Northwestern Pacific Railroad's petition to abandon 2.46 miles of track including the caved-in Puerto Suello tunnel will start in San Francisco's New Mint Building at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow before F. Roy Linn, hearing examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Randolph Karr as attorney for Northwestern Pacific is expected to open for the petitioner. Opposition is to be provided by the City of San Rafael, supported by Marin County, four other cities and the Marin Industrial Development Foundation. The California Public Utilities Commission will make its own presentation as a party at interest.

New Refrigerator Stolen From Home

A new refrigerator worth almost $300 disappeared from a new home under construction at 27 Sandstone Court in Marinwood, the owners of the new home reported to the sheriff yesterday.

Mrs. Dorothea W. Frahm of 1430 Park Avenue, Novato, said the refrigerator was in the kitchen of her new Marinwood home Sunday afternoon. Yesterday, the appliance had vanished.

Marks on the kitchen floor indicated that thieves had pulled the heavy refrigerator out the kitchen door and loaded it onto a truck or trailer.

Commission Wants More South Senators

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Los Angeles would have four state senators instead of its present one under a recommendation by the Commission of State Senate Reapportionment. It was learned today.

The nine commissioners were reported ready to sign such a recommendation and submit it to Gov. Edmund G. Brown and the legislature for the special budget session opening Feb. 5.

LEGISLATIVE ACT

The commission was established under legislation last year to find a solution to the ticklish reapportionment problem. In 1960 voters defeated a proposal by Los Angeles interests to give half the 40 senate districts to the 10 Southern California counties.

The compromise plan drawn up by the commission would increase the membership of the senate from 40 to 43, with Los Angeles being the only county with more than one senator.

It was reported that the 43-seat plan was based on a formula that would establish a maximum of one senate district for each 1.5 million population. However, no county would be entitled to more than 10 per cent of the total districts.

SOME SHARE

The senate now is on a geographical basis, with no more than one seat for each county. Some of the less populated counties share a seat.

The assembly is apportioned on a population basis under the "federal plan" in which the legislature was established on the same general lines as Congress, with two houses.

Los Angeles County, with just one senator, contends that the rural-dominated senate has discriminated against it.

Any change in the makeup of the senate would require a constitutional amendment and vote of the people.

State Parks Ready For Visitors

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Vacationers on California highways next summer will find 21 state parks in which picnic facilities, normally designed for day use, will be available for one night's camping.

Designation of the areas in the parks for overnight camping was ordered by the state park commission in an effort to relieve some of the turnaways from campsites during the busy summer months.

Persons camping overnight in the spots will have to leave early in the morning — between 8 and 10 a.m., depending upon the area.

These areas will be operated in addition to the regular campsites, where longer stays are permitted.

The parks which will be available for one-night camping include:

Benbow Lake, Grizzly Creek Redwoods, Patrick's Point, Prairie Creek and Richardson Grove, all in Humboldt County; Big Basin Redwoods and New Brighton Beach, Santa Cruz County; Carpinteria Beach, Santa Barbara County; Caswell Memorial, San Joaquin; Clear Lake, Lake County; George J. Hatfield, and McConnell, Merced County; Jedediah Smith Redwoods, Del Norte County; McArthur-Burney Falls, Shasta County; MacKerricher Beach, Paul M. Dimmick Memorial Grove, Russian Gulch, Standish Hickey, and Van Damme Beach, Mendocino County; Mount Tamalpais and Samuel P. Taylor, Marin County; and Sonoma Coast, Sonoma County.

DEATH HALTS TRAIN

This is the scene after impact in which a Biggs, Butte County man was killed when his truck was struck by a northbound Southern Pacific freight train near Gridley. Wilford L. Rice was thrown to death from the pickup he was driving Monday, but it took the train the mile and a half to come to a stop. (AP Wirephoto)

School Chief Job Is Open In Novato

The superintendent's job in the Novato schools last night was thrown open for applicants after negotiations were definitely ended between Supt. William J. J. Smith and the school trustees.

Novato Unified School District trustees, by a familiar 3-2 vote, canceled all further negotiations with Smith. Voting the cancellation were chairman Earl Marshall, William Kirk and Joseph C. Sereda.

After that trustees voted unanimously to start receiving applications for the superintendent's job. Mrs. Leonora M. Dougherty made sure that Smith could apply for the job before she and Marett B. Boissevain Jr. voted in favor of the motion.

Tuesday, the board had voted down a motion to continue the negotiations with Smith. However, it did not then take any action actually cancelling negotiations.

Kirk moved that: (1) The district advertise for applicants; (2) a committee be selected to screen applicants; (3) someone outside the district act as a coordinator of the committee; (4) the committee recommend at least three candidates to the board and work with the board in setting up salary and qualifications for the job. This passed unanimously.

Earlier in the meeting, Smith had told the board he wanted a final decision within a week on whether negotiations would be continued.

More than 200 people filled the multi-purpose room of Marion School to standing-room-only capacity for the meeting. Although it was officially adjourned before 11 p.m., the people refused to leave until the lights were shut off at midnight.

Smith turned in his resignation on Dec. 19 after a long closed session with the board. Since then, the board has been the center of a controversy over Smith.

Supporters of the school board majority presented petitions bearing 844 signatures endorsing decision to release Smith.

A "clear thinking committee," formed to support Smith, has hired Arthur M. LeBow, San Rafael attorney, to represent it. The board voted last night to ask County Counsel E. Warren McGuire to see if a special meeting can be arranged of the board, McGuire and LeBow, probably next Tuesday. Dr. Theodore Reller of University of California, who assisted the San Rafael Board of Education in its search for a new superintendent last year, will be asked to attend the meeting.

Sausalitans To Vote On City Clerk

April 10 Election Set On Whether To End Position

Sausalitans will vote April 10 on whether to make the position of city clerk appointive instead of elective.

The Sausalito City Council voted unanimously last night to put the proposal on the ballot.

The position has been held by city manager Charles A. Brown since retirement of city clerk Amelia L. Smith last year. Most of the city clerk's duties have been transferred from the post in the past five years, including elections (other than municipal), fiscal functions, assessing and tax collection.

Last July Brown began receiving $200 as city clerk, this sum being deducted from his city manager's salary with the outcome being he receives the same total salary for both jobs as before the change, $750.

FEW DAYS LEFT TO ACT ON CORONER

If the Marin County Board of Supervisors is to join part or all of the coroner-public administrator's office to another office this year, it has six days to act, according to a letter from the county counsel and a statement by the county administrator yesterday.

County Counsel E. Warren McGuire said any ordinance combining the entire office or either of its positions with another elective office should be adopted 120 days before the June 5 gubernatorial primary election. This would be Feb. 5.

County Administrator Alan Bruce repeated an earlier promise to submit his report on the grand jury recommendation for a change in the coroner's status by Jan. 3. The jury urged that the office be on a salary basis instead of fee basis as at present.

McGuire said any consolidation ordinance should be passed "120 days before the June primary in order that candidates interested may make a declaration of candidacy in reference to the office that will exist."

Any move to join the coroner's office with the sheriff's was opposed yesterday by Supervisors William D. Fusselman and Peter H. Behr. Fusselman was sure Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos would be no happier having the added coroner's duties than he was at being named deputy civil defense coordinator.

Behr said he agreed with Coroner Frank J. Keaton in opposing the unification "because in event of a death in jail the coroner would be investigating his own problems."

Shamrock Motors Assigned Dodge Agency Franchise

Shamrock Motors, 375 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, announced today that it has been assigned an agency franchise for the distribution of Dodge automobiles in Marin County.

Owner Jerry Hannon said the firm will continue to handle Citroen cars as heretofore. He expects to start receiving stocks of Dodge cars at once.

The territory assigned to Shamrock Motors for Dodge covers all of Marin County except the Novato area which is represented by Nave's Dodge and Dodge Dart located in that city.

The agency has been open since it was given up by Hart's Dodge in San Rafael last year.

NIKITA'S KIN TO LUNCH WITH KENNEDYS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy will have the daughter and son-in-law of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev as luncheon guests at the White House Tuesday.

The son-in-law is Alexei Adzhubei, editor of the Soviet government paper Izvestia, who interviewed Kennedy in November. The interview was published in his paper.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Adzhubei and his wife, Rada, are in Havana, planning to go to Mexico City and then to Brazil by way of Washington.

FASCINATION, BEWILDERMENT

Reed Parents Hear Discussion By Panel On 'New Mathematics'

By CORENA GREEN

Attracted by a discussion of "Seeing Through Arithmetic," the Scott-Foresman arithmetic series, approximately 50 people attended last night's meeting of Reed Union School District trustees.

They listened in various stages of fascination and bewilderment as a panel of enthusiastic teachers explained this new method of teaching mathematics adopted by the district.

According to John A. Fitch, Bel Aire School principal, arithmetic has not changed but the emphasis has.

"It is no longer enough to teach simple computation. Ideas must be stressed. Too many children have failed, resulting in a genuine dislike of the subject. Three-fourths of the nation's teachers did not like arithmetic yet are charged with establishing interest and understanding," Fitch said.

Fitch said that, because the children are able to grasp the new ideas, it is possible to introduce certain procedures earlier.

"We are already finding success in our school and more children are raising their hands with the right answer," Fitch said.

The four teachers, Nancy Cook, Elizabeth Lampky, Donald Cowan and Robert Gowan, then described the approaches at the various age levels which include a great deal of visual material to insure that arithmetic will make sense.

The teachers explained that, instead of asking children to memorize different sets of rules for each kind of arithmetic problem, the theory introduces children to a single, basic procedure involving the use of equations that can be applied to all problems.

"Do they still learn their multiplication tables?" asked Mrs. Peter MacGowan, a spectator.

"Yes, they do," replied Mrs. Cook. "There is no substitute for memorization of basic facts."

The teachers then demonstrated new concepts such as a subtractive method of division—a method of proving involving casting out nine and figuring percentage and rates by ratio equations.

Parents complained that because the concepts were new they were unable to help their children at home and frequently gave them the wrong answers. Supt. Edward C. Pino promised to investigate the possibility of parent orientation sessions.

A special meeting is scheduled for Jan. 30 to hear a report of the Reed Union School District unification study committee. The meeting will be at 8 p.m. at Reed School.

Richardson Bay Ordinance To Be Drafted

An ordinance establishing pierhead and bulkhead lines in the Richardson Bay Master Plan is to be drafted by county counsel as result of an instruction voted by supervisors yesterday.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr voiced apprehension over the problem of underwater lots in private ownership.

"Everybody is swapping these properties like mad," said Behr, "so it's almost an impossible task to form an assessment district. But we shall be able to swap county-owned for private property and dredge the Saucelito Canal if we fix things so an assessment district would be behind a pierhead line, and get a lot of free fill from the dredging."

Planning Director Mary Summers showed a master plan map and confirmed the existence of a problem.

Memphis Tries To Apologize To Carl Rowan

WASHINGTON (AP)— Carl T. Rowan, Negro deputy assistant secretary of state, has been invited to return to Memphis, Tenn., where he was refused service in a restaurant Jan. 20, and be principal speaker at a club dinner.

In reply Rowan said he appreciated "your expression of regret" but previous commitments would not permit him to accept .

"We deeply regret the recent incident," the Omnibus 100 Club wired Rowan.

"To show you the true spirit of the citizenry of Memphis, the Omnibus 100 Club members extend an invitation to you to be principal speaker at a dinner."

The club said the Memphis city commissioners would attend the affair.

Rowan, top-ranking Negro in the State Department, was asked to leave a restaurant at the Memphis airport when he entered with three white companions with whom he had flown from Little Rock, Ark., in a private plane.

M'Carthy Says Demo Voters Tired Of Demos

The Democrats are tired of Democrats in office, State Senator John F. McCarthy of San Rafael told the monthly meeting of the Marin County Republican Central Committee last night in the courthouse.

He pointed out that Stanislaus County voters in a special election chose a Republican to fill the Assembly seat vacated by Speaker Ralph M. Brown, and Ventura County elected a Republican to the State Senate to succeed democrat James J. McBride.

"The people are tired of the fiscal irresponsibility of the Brown administration, and the growth of bureaucracy which exceeds the population growth," McCarthy declared.

Mrs. Henry P. Sherry of San Anselmo was elected from the second district to replace Jeanne Dausse of San Anselmo, whose resignation was accepted. Chairman David Winslow of Tiburon will shortly name a successor to Miss Dausse as precinct chairman.

The committee's treasury was enriched by $6,000 from the recent Cow Palace $100 dinner.

Chairman Winslow announced the appointment as associate committee members of Mrs. Robert S. Milmoe Jr., Greenbrae; Russell E. Teasdale, Mill Valley; Lawrence E. Hoyt, San Rafael, and William T. Griswold, Novato.

Mrs. Tom Moss of Mill Valley and Mrs. Edwin Grundstrom of Novato were also added to the list of associates, representing the Republican Women's clubs of Southern Marin and North Marin.

Thalhamer Senior Hurt In Accident

James Thalhamer Sr., 52, of 26 Maple Avenue, Fairfax, was in fair condition today in Marin General Hospital after his car crashed into a parked truck on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo police reported.

His car was a total wreck, police said, after it struck a truck owned by B. J. Parker, 85 Meerna Avenue, Fairfax. The accident took place at about 8:25 p.m. in front of 745 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Thalhamer insisted, police said, that he was not injured, and an ambulance was sent away.

His wife arrived later and asked that he be taken to the hospital where he was held for internal and head injuries.

Electric Typewriter Stolen From Vehicle

A Royal electric typewriter valued at $500 yesterday was reported stolen from an unlocked station wagon parked in San Rafael.

George Albert Broden, owner of Marin County Office Equipment Co. at 1812 Second Street, told police the machine was missing from his station wagon when he reported for work yesterday morning.

Personnel Discussed By Reed Trustees

Appointment and employment of personnel were discussed in an executive session of the Reed Union School District trustees last night.

Names of specific personnel were not revealed by Supt. Edward C. Pino who stated that no decision was reached.

Bruce Effort For New Aide Is Torpedoed

County Administrator Alan Bruce's effort to have his functions defined and to gain supervisorial approval of hiring an analyst assistant ran aground yesterday on opposition by Supervisor William D. Fusselman.

Recently ill, Fusselman had not read a long letter sent by Bruce Jan. 12 and continued for action by a full board. Moreover, he felt that the one-week delay finally granted "won't hurt."

Supervisor Peter H. Behr sided with Bruce in feeling there had already been too much delay.

"The load and deadlines are such that the assistant is essential as early as possible," said Bruce. He said he meant to keep his aide for special duties and be replaced, when absent, by Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell as usual.

Behr conceded that it might take some time and talk to agree on precise scope of the administrator's own duties henceforth but he urged immediate approval of the assistant, already provided in the current budget.

Bruce said he had no one as yet in mind but he had set up a procedure for selection.

When Fusselman reminded Bruce that on taking over, Bruce had said he didn't need such an assistant as he himself had been, Bruce replied: "I don't care what you call him. He'd be a junior member of my staff but he would not act for me in my absence."

'Coldest Night' Recorded In Marin

"Coldest night yet" was recorded in several Marin County points during last night with early morning temperatures dropped to 22 degrees in Woodacre, 25 in Novato and Larkspur.

The official forecast was for clear skies and slowly rising temperatures with possibility of rain by the weekend.

Other Marin temperatures included 28 in Tamalpais Valley, 30 in Mill Valley, 32 in Belvedere and 34 in Sausalito.

East Bay Jolted By Sharp Quake

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A moderately sharp earthquake jolted the populous east shore of San Francisco Bay today, but no major damage was reported.

The Oakland police dispatcher reported that "one woman said she was knocked out of bed and had a window cracked in her kitchen." He didn't take her name.

A police officer in Piedmont reported "we had quite a few calls, but no damage reported. It was a pretty good shake."

They listened in various stages of fascination and bewilderment as a panel of enthusiastic teachers explained this new method of teaching mathematics adopted by the district.

According to John A. Fitch, Bel Aire School principal, arithmetic has not changed but the emphasis has.

"It is no longer enough to teach simple computation. Ideas must be stressed. Too many children have failed, resulting in a genuine dislike of the subject. Three-fourths of the nation's teachers did not like arithmetic yet are charged with establishing interest and understanding," Fitch said.

Fitch said that, because the children are able to grasp the new ideas, it is possible to introduce certain procedures earlier.

"We are already finding success in our school and more children are raising their hands with the right answer," Fitch said.

The four teachers, Nancy Cook, Elizabeth Lampky, Donald Cowan and Robert Gowan, then described the approaches at the various age levels which include a great deal of visual material to insure that arithmetic will make sense.

The teachers explained that, instead of asking children to memorize different sets of rules for each kind of arithmetic problem, the theory introduces children to a single, basic procedure involving the use of equations that can be applied to all problems.

"Do they still learn their multiplication tables?" asked Mrs. Peter MacGowan, a spectator.

"Yes, they do," replied Mrs. Cook. "There is no substitute for memorization of basic facts."

The teachers then demonstrated new concepts such as a subtractive method of division—a method of proving involving casting out nine and figuring percentage and rates by ratio equations.

Parents complained that because the concepts were new they were unable to help their children at home and frequently gave them the wrong answers. Supt. Edward C. Pino promised to investigate the possibility of parent orientation sessions.

A special meeting is scheduled for Jan. 30 to hear a report of the Reed Union School District unification study committee. The meeting will be at 8 p.m. at Reed School.

Richardson Bay Ordinance To Be Drafted

An ordinance establishing pierhead and bulkhead lines in the Richardson Bay Master Plan is to be drafted by county counsel as result of an instruction voted by supervisors yesterday.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr voiced apprehension over the problem of underwater lots in private ownership.

"Everybody is swapping these properties like mad," said Behr, "so it's almost an impossible task to form an assessment district. But we shall be able to swap county-owned for private property and dredge the Saucelito Canal if we fix things so an assessment district would be behind a pierhead line, and get a lot of free fill from the dredging."

Planning Director Mary Summers showed a master plan map and confirmed the existence of a problem.

Memphis Tries To Apologize To Carl Rowan

WASHINGTON (AP)— Carl T. Rowan, Negro deputy assistant secretary of state, has been invited to return to Memphis, Tenn., where he was refused service in a restaurant Jan. 20, and be principal speaker at a club dinner.

In reply Rowan said he appreciated "your expression of regret" but previous commitments would not permit him to accept .

"We deeply regret the recent incident," the Omnibus 100 Club wired Rowan.

"To show you the true spirit of the citizenry of Memphis, the Omnibus 100 Club members extend an invitation to you to be principal speaker at a dinner."

The club said the Memphis city commissioners would attend the affair.

Rowan, top-ranking Negro in the State Department, was asked to leave a restaurant at the Memphis airport when he entered with three white companions with whom he had flown from Little Rock, Ark., in a private plane.

Meeting Planned For Opposition Of Second Span

A public meeting to let Marin County residents voice opposition to a second San Francisco-Marin bridge with Tiburon Peninsula terminus will soon be held in the county courthouse.

Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham was told by the board of supervisors yesterday to arrange for such a meeting.

Brigham mentioned attendance at a recent San Francisco meeting where Senate Bill 1273, to provide $500,000 for such a survey, and said the legislature has already laid down general outline though either Angel or Alcatraz islands could be touched from the Battery or Stockton Street in San Francisco.

M'Carthy Says Demo Voters Tired Of Demos

The Democrats are tired of Democrats in office, State Senator John F. McCarthy of San Rafael told the monthly meeting of the Marin County Republican Central Committee last night in the courthouse.

He pointed out that Stanislaus County voters in a special election chose a Republican to fill the Assembly seat vacated by Speaker Ralph M. Brown, and Ventura County elected a Republican to the State Senate to succeed democrat James J. McBride.

"The people are tired of the fiscal irresponsibility of the Brown administration, and the growth of bureaucracy which exceeds the population growth," McCarthy declared.

Mrs. Henry P. Sherry of San Anselmo was elected from the second district to replace Jeanne Dausse of San Anselmo, whose resignation was accepted. Chairman David Winslow of Tiburon will shortly name a successor to Miss Dausse as precinct chairman.

The committee's treasury was enriched by $6,000 from the recent Cow Palace $100 dinner.

Chairman Winslow announced the appointment as associate committee members of Mrs. Robert S. Milmoe Jr., Greenbrae; Russell E. Teasdale, Mill Valley; Lawrence E. Hoyt, San Rafael, and William T. Griswold, Novato.

Mrs. Tom Moss of Mill Valley and Mrs. Edwin Grundstrom of Novato were also added to the list of associates, representing the Republican Women's clubs of Southern Marin and North Marin.

Thalhamer Senior Hurt In Accident

James Thalhamer Sr., 52, of 26 Maple Avenue, Fairfax, was in fair condition today in Marin General Hospital after his car crashed into a parked truck on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo police reported.

His car was a total wreck, police said, after it struck a truck owned by B. J. Parker, 85 Meerna Avenue, Fairfax. The accident took place at about 8:25 p.m. in front of 745 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Thalhamer insisted, police said, that he was not injured, and an ambulance was sent away.

His wife arrived later and asked that he be taken to the hospital where he was held for internal and head injuries.

Electric Typewriter Stolen From Vehicle

A Royal electric typewriter valued at $500 yesterday was reported stolen from an unlocked station wagon parked in San Rafael.

George Albert Broden, owner of Marin County Office Equipment Co. at 1812 Second Street, told police the machine was missing from his station wagon when he reported for work yesterday morning.

Personnel Discussed By Reed Trustees

Appointment and employment of personnel were discussed in an executive session of the Reed Union School District trustees last night.

Names of specific personnel were not revealed by Supt. Edward C. Pino who stated that no decision was reached.

Bruce Effort For New Aide Is Torpedoed

County Administrator Alan Bruce's effort to have his functions defined and to gain supervisorial approval of hiring an analyst assistant ran aground yesterday on opposition by Supervisor William D. Fusselman.

Recently ill, Fusselman had not read a long letter sent by Bruce Jan. 12 and continued for action by a full board. Moreover, he felt that the one-week delay finally granted "won't hurt."

Supervisor Peter H. Behr sided with Bruce in feeling there had already been too much delay.

"The load and deadlines are such that the assistant is essential as early as possible," said Bruce. He said he meant to keep his aide for special duties and be replaced, when absent, by Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell as usual.

Behr conceded that it might take some time and talk to agree on precise scope of the administrator's own duties henceforth but he urged immediate approval of the assistant, already provided in the current budget.

Bruce said he had no one as yet in mind but he had set up a procedure for selection.

When Fusselman reminded Bruce that on taking over, Bruce had said he didn't need such an assistant as he himself had been, Bruce replied: "I don't care what you call him. He'd be a junior member of my staff but he would not act for me in my absence."

'Coldest Night' Recorded In Marin

"Coldest night yet" was recorded in several Marin County points during last night with early morning temperatures dropped to 22 degrees in Woodacre, 25 in Novato and Larkspur.

The official forecast was for clear skies and slowly rising temperatures with possibility of rain by the weekend.

Other Marin temperatures included 28 in Tamalpais Valley, 30 in Mill Valley, 32 in Belvedere and 34 in Sausalito.

East Bay Jolted By Sharp Quake

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A moderately sharp earthquake jolted the populous east shore of San Francisco Bay today, but no major damage was reported.

The Oakland police dispatcher reported that "one woman said she was knocked out of bed and had a window cracked in her kitchen." He didn't take her name.

A police officer in Piedmont reported "we had quite a few calls, but no damage reported. It was a pretty good shake."

SAUSALITO TABLES ANTI-RED WEEK BID

Mayor Says He Has Been Called Both Wise, Stupid For Signing Proclamation

The Sausalito City Council last night tabled Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr.'s "Anti-Communism Week" proclamation—on the mayor's motion.

Ehrlich said that his signing of a proclamation proclaiming Jan. 29-Feb. 2 as "Anti-Communist Week"—and calling attention to the "School of Anti-Communism" to be conducted that week in Oakland — had brought him enthusiastic praise from people saying "it's the only sound thing I have done in three or four years."

But, he said, it brought him an equal number of calls saying it was one of the stupidest acts ever performed by a mayor of Sausalito.

He moved the council table the resolution, but declare itself opposed to communism. The second proposal was withdrawn after Councilman Michael Harris pointed out he has already taken a loyalty oath and "I do not feel it necessary to reaffirm my loyalty."

The council accepted the withdrawal by Marian W. Frick of an appeal from planning commission denial of a use permit for an 80-room hotel at 104 Bulkley Avenue. Mrs. Frick said she did not want her appeal to become "a political football" due to the present recall move against Ehrlich and Harris.

Harris said: "I think we have to carry on on Tuesday evenings regardless of extra activities going on outside. Bring up your applications."

Notices of intention to ask for recall of Ehrlich and Harris were filed by Sausalito insurance broker Russell S. Reagan Jan. 18.

City Manager Charles A. Brown said interviews are to be conducted for two added positions in the police department, now temporarily filled. Positions are police officer and clerk typist-matron. Brown said telephones in the police station are now answered directly either by police or fire department personnel until midnight. A police expert is to make a study of the city in a few days, Brown said, and he has received a number of applications for positions as police reserves.

Ehrlich announced that the "regular council meeting" will be next Tuesday at the Alta Mira Hotel starting at 6:30 p.m. when the council will honor City Atty. John B. Ehlen, who is retiring Jan. 31. All citizens are invited to the no-host dinner, Ehrlich said.

The council also:

1. Heard that the bus shelter on Bridgeway and Bay Street is to be completed by Feb. 3.

2. Authorized payment of $288 to Police Sgt. David Cooper for 90 hours overtime spent working on the Toni Whalen case.

3. Discussed the proposed food handlers' ordinance but took no action except to say it does not agree with the City of Novato in wanting to defer the ordinance.

4. Heard a report from Harris that an agreement will be submitted at the next council meeting regarding a system of flashing traffic control lights on Bridgeway and that Sausalito Traffic Engineer Clifford Curtis is to review the proposal.

5. Heard a comment by Ann Mitchell of 204 Bulkley Avenue commending council on going through orderly process in its actions enlarging the police department. She said she feels so strongly about helping make Sausalito what the people want it to be that she would be willing to run for city councilman.

Obstetrics Issue Aired By Supervisors

County Supervisor William Gnoss put up a hard fight yesterday for the right of county-patient mothers to have their babies at Novato Hospital on equal terms with those at Marin General Hospital.

He opposed recommendation by Administrator Alan Bruce to maintain the status quo with Marin General as the one hospital used by the county for obstetrical cases.

"You frighten me when you say a woman will have a better deal at Marin General," Gnoss told Bruce. "This will scare my Novato constituents."

Bruce pointed out he hadn't said just that though he had endorsed the policy of one hospital for a given type of care.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman suggested that a deal with the Novato hospital might be made on a basis of "pay case by case with no retainer." When Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he wouldn't object to that basis, it was decided to arrange for discussion by all concerned, and take the matter up again next week.

The supervisors yesterday also:

1. Ratified a fire protection agreement with Hamilton Field Air Force Base.

2. Reappointed Neil Johnson to the Marin County Housing Authority and Mrs. Adele J. Alpers to the County Recreation Committee.

3. Delayed action, at Behr's request, on reappointing George C. Goheen to the Marin County Housing Authority. Behr said that on this matter, pertaining to operation and maintenance, he wished to recommend appointment of a person living in Marin City. He told a reporter later he had pledged this in his election campaign.

4. Received the resignation of E. C. Hubbard from the Stinson Beach Fire District Board, effective Jan. 31.

5. Approved placement of one of seven mobile first aid stations given by the state disaster office in the basement of the Mill Valley post office on authorization by acting postmaster John T. Little.

6. Learned from a Water Pollution Control Board notification that violation is charged against the Hawthorn Terrace treatment plant on the Tiburon Peninsula.

7. Approved a 25-miles-an-hour speed limit on Van Winkle Drive, Sleepy Hollow.

Carnival Ordinance Study Is Ordered

A proposed ordinance prohibiting carnivals in Novato never got up for a vote at last night's Novato City Council meeting because of its effect on the Western Weekend celebration.

The ordinance had been requested by the council because some organizations were given free carnival rights while others were denied permits. Councilman John Angeloni said he was against this as discriminatory. He said the Junior Chamber of Commerce gets to hold a carnival free during Western Weekend, while the American Legion was denied permission to hold one.

Edwin B. Gardiner, president of the junior chamber, told the council that without the proceeds from the carnival, the junior chamber could not sponsor Western Weekend.

Mayor Wayne Womack named Councilmen Charles Johnson and Everett Pozzi to work with the junior chamber to draft an ordinance regulating carnivals so that all organizations could sponsor them alike.

The council considered an appeal by Jehovah's witnesses from planning commission denial of permission for a church on a 17,650 square-foot lot on an undedicated street off Almont Avenue.

A petition bearing 11 signatures of nearby property owners favoring the church was presented to the council. Another petition signed by 45 residents objecting to the church had been sent to the council previously.

The council postponed action on the appeal until its Feb. 13 meeting.

The Novato council also:

1. Reappointed Mrs. Lucille Cannon and Robert Johnson to the planning commission for four-year terms.

2. Authorized purchase of a $15 clock for the new council chambers in the community building.

3. Set public hearings for Feb. 13 on the final maps of Sutter Hills subdivision off Tamalpais Avenue and Sunny Acres subdivision off Olive Avenue.

Board Protests Condemnation At Point Reyes

State plans for condemning Mrs. Olympia Grandi's property at Point Reyes Station for a highway equipment corporation yard should be changed and a non-residential location selected, Marin County supervisors declared yesterday.

Supervisor George Ludy of Inverness strongly supported a letter of objection by San Rafael attorney John G. Buresh on Mrs. Grandi's behalf.

"This is right where Point Reyes Station is going to develop," said Ludy. "A corporation yard doesn't have to be in town. There are plenty of other sites up along Tomales Bay."

The board ordered a letter sent to Sacramento asking that condemnation action be held up pending a conference probably early next month.

Council Names Sausalito Planners

Walter Thomson of 71 Cazneau Avenue and Victor Abrahamson of 40 Santa Rosa Avenue were appointed last night to the Sausalito Planning Commission by the city council.

Thomson, a supervisory engineering technician with the Navy at Fort Mason, succeeds Charles E. Finney to complete a term expiring Jan. 1, 1965. Abrahamson, an architect, replaces Hugh G. Lawrence for a term expiring Jan. 1, 1964.

San Quentin Escaper Returned To Prison

James Preston Winton, 23, San Quentin Prison escaper, was returned to the prison yesterday after his arrest in Florida.

Winton escaped from a work detail outside the prison walls Nov. 22, 1961. He was arrested in Florida Jan. 8. He was sentenced to San Quentin in 1960 for burglary in Fresno County.

Hub Subdivider Charges Planning Held Up Because Of Councilman

By WAT TAKESHITA

A San Anselmo subdivider and his wife bitterly charged last night that their project is being held up because a city councilman happens to live next to the area they want to develop.

And an attorney, hired by the councilman's wife, countercharged that the developer was changing subdivision maps so fast that he was never given ample time to study the plans. Furthermore, said attorney Lawrence Kuechler of Kentfield, City Engineer William Roe had made an error when he approved the map as in "full conformity" with the planning commission's lot slope policy. Kuechler said he had been retained by Mrs. John M. Reichmuth, the councilman's wife, who lives at 405 Redwood Road.

The developers are Richard White and his wife Nina, who have two acres of land at 349 Redwood Road. Last October, they asked for a subdivision of their two acres. The first map was turned down by the planning commission because the lots were too small for the steep terrain. The commission approved the second map, but the council rejected it, as not fully conforming with the lot slope policy.

Last night, the Whites submitted a third map showing six lots. When the council started to refer that one back to the planning commission, Mrs. White tore into the city council.

"Why are we having so much trouble with this subdivision?" she demanded. "Is it because a council member happens to be a neighbor? . . . When I go to the polls to elect a councilman, I expect him to be impartial. But when the councilman gets a lawyer to represent him, I don't think he is being impartial."

Mayor Carleton G. Little had to tap for order. "I'm angry!" Mrs. White bristled.

Councilman Reichmuth said his only interest in the subdivision was to see that it conformed with the lot-slope policy.

Attorney Kuechler, representing Mrs. Reichmuth, declared the planning commission had approved the map only because City Engineer Roe had twice told them it was in full conformity. "Since that time, the engineer has found that he was wrong . . . Ordinarily you rely on the city engineer. But he has been found to be in error. We want the correctness of the map checker," said Kuechler.

Roe said that the original computation, he had included an access road to one of the lots as part of the lot. That would have given enough square footage to conform to the lot-slope policy, said Roe. But to be on the safe side, he decided to delete the access road from the lot size, which made the lot too small.

Tht city engineer explained it was just a matter of deciding whether or not the access road would be considered a part of the lot.

Councilman William Franchini said he feels developer White is "being pushed around and getting a dirty deal." Councilman Arthur W. Smith agreed.

However, on the advice of City Atty. John G. Buresh, the council referred the map back to the planning commission again to make sure everything is in order.

Councilman Reichmuth abstained from voting.

Russell Spatz, chairman of the planning commission, said that as far as he is concerned, the subdivision meets the planners' lot-slope policy. He said five lots fully conform, and the sixth lot is lacking by about 400 square feet.

Spatz explained that the lot-slope policy is used by the planning commission "as a guide," and does not provide "foot-by-foot, inch-by-inch requirement." He said he feels the White subdivision meets the lot-slope policy in substance, which is all that the planning commission requires.

If the council wants foot-by-foot enforcement, it should formally adopt the lot-slope policy as a law, Spatz pointed out.

Shoplifter Is Given Suspended Jail Term

Ruell Wight Butterfield, 28, a salesman living at 967 Vernal Way, Homestead Valley, drew a 30-day suspended jail term and one year probation for walking out with a pint of whiskey from Shoreline Market without paying for it Monday night.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson sentenced him yesterday for petty theft. The judge told Butterfield he must also make restitution for all items he has taken from the market.

About 600,000 U. S. vacationers visit Mexico annually.

Four-Lane Drake Blvd. Land Sought

Marin County supervisors yesterday authorized the county public works director to negotiate for necessary property to widen Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to four lanes westward from El Portal Drive in Greenbrae to the foot of Wolfe Grade.

"Is it desirable or necessary," asked Supervisor Peter H. Behr, "to spend $180,000 to do this job when it ends in a cul de sac?"

This outraged Supervisor William D. Fusselman in whose district the project lies. Behr hastily changed "cul de sac" to "a narrow road that can never be widened," but Fusselman said "if you get to the town of Ross, maybe."

Told that cost of some nursery land would be prohibitive and thus halt the widening, Fusselman said, "There's a ditch opposite that will take you past the nursery and will have to be done sometime in the future.

He also declared the widening would "take care of tremendous traffic and for a long time you'll not need the capacity beyond Wolfe Grade."

Behr joined in a unanimous vote to acquire the land.

SAUSALITO TABLES ANTI-RED WEEK BID

Mayor Says He Has Been Called Both Wise, Stupid For Signing Proclamation

The Sausalito City Council last night tabled Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr.'s "Anti-Communism Week" proclamation—on the mayor's motion.

Ehrlich said that his signing of a proclamation proclaiming Jan. 29-Feb. 2 as "Anti-Communist Week"—and calling attention to the "School of Anti-Communism" to be conducted that week in Oakland — had brought him enthusiastic praise from people saying "it's the only sound thing I have done in three or four years."

But, he said, it brought him an equal number of calls saying it was one of the stupidest acts ever performed by a mayor of Sausalito.

He moved the council table the resolution, but declare itself opposed to communism. The second proposal was withdrawn after Councilman Michael Harris pointed out he has already taken a loyalty oath and "I do not feel it necessary to reaffirm my loyalty."

The council accepted the withdrawal by Marian W. Frick of an appeal from planning commission denial of a use permit for an 80-room hotel at 104 Bulkley Avenue. Mrs. Frick said she did not want her appeal to become "a political football" due to the present recall move against Ehrlich and Harris.

Harris said: "I think we have to carry on on Tuesday evenings regardless of extra activities going on outside. Bring up your applications."

Notices of intention to ask for recall of Ehrlich and Harris were filed by Sausalito insurance broker Russell S. Reagan Jan. 18.

City Manager Charles A. Brown said interviews are to be conducted for two added positions in the police department, now temporarily filled. Positions are police officer and clerk typist-matron. Brown said telephones in the police station are now answered directly either by police or fire department personnel until midnight. A police expert is to make a study of the city in a few days, Brown said, and he has received a number of applications for positions as police reserves.

Ehrlich announced that the "regular council meeting" will be next Tuesday at the Alta Mira Hotel starting at 6:30 p.m. when the council will honor City Atty. John B. Ehlen, who is retiring Jan. 31. All citizens are invited to the no-host dinner, Ehrlich said.

The council also:

1. Heard that the bus shelter on Bridgeway and Bay Street is to be completed by Feb. 3.
2. Authorized payment of $288 to Police Sgt. David Cooper for 90 hours overtime spent working on the Toni Whalen case.
3. Discussed the proposed food handlers' ordinance but took no action except to say it does not agree with the City of Novato in wanting to defer the ordinance.
4. Heard a report from Harris that an agreement will be submitted at the next council meeting regarding a system of flashing traffic control lights on Bridgeway and that Sausalito Traffic Engineer Clifford Curtis is to review the proposal.
5. Heard a comment by Ann Mitchell of 204 Bulkley Avenue commending council on going through orderly process in its actions enlarging the police department. She said she feels so strongly about helping make Sausalito what the people want it to be that she would be willing to run for city councilman.

The motto "In God We Trust" first began appearing on American paper money in October 1957, the $1 certificate being the first to bear the inscription.

Obstetrics Issue Aired By Supervisors

County Supervisor William Gnoss put up a hard fight yesterday for the right of county-patient mothers to have their babies at Novato Hospital on equal terms with those at Marin General Hospital.

He opposed recommendation by Administrator Alan Bruce to maintain the status quo with Marin General as the one hospital used by the county for obstetrical cases.

"You frighten me when you say a woman will have a better deal at Marin General," Gnoss told Bruce. "This will scare my Novato constituents."

Bruce pointed out he hadn't said just that though he had endorsed the policy of one hospital for a given type of care.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman suggested that a deal with the Novato hospital might be made on a basis of "pay case by case with no retainer." When Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he wouldn't object to that basis, it was decided to arrange for discussion by all concerned, and take the matter up again next week.

The supervisors yesterday also:

1. Ratified a fire protection agreement with Hamilton Field Air Force Base.
2. Reappointed Neil Johnson to the Marin County Housing Authority and Mrs. Adele J. Alpers to the County Recreation Committee.
3. Delayed action, at Behr's request, on reappointing George C. Goheen to the Marin County Housing Authority. Behr said that on this matter, pertaining to operation and maintenance, he wished to recommend appointment of a person living in Marin City. He told a reporter later he had pledged this in his election campaign.
4. Received the resignation of E. C. Hubbard from the Stinson Beach Fire District Board, effective Jan. 31.
5. Approved placement of one of seven mobile first aid stations given by the state disaster office in the basement of the Mill Valley post office on authorization by acting postmaster John T. Little.
6. Learned from a Water Pollution Control Board notification that violation is charged against the Hawthorn Terrace treatment plant on the Tiburon Peninsula.
7. Approved a 25-miles-an-hour speed limit on Van Winkle Drive, Sleepy Hollow.

Carnival Ordinance Study Is Ordered

A proposed ordinance prohibiting carnivals in Novato never got up for a vote at last night's Novato City Council meeting because of its effect on the Western Weekend celebration.

The ordinance had been requested by the council because some organizations were given free carnival rights while others were denied permits. Councilman John Angeloni said he was against this as discriminatory. He said the Junior Chamber of Commerce gets to hold a carnival free during Western Weekend, while the American Legion was denied permission to hold one.

Edwin B. Gardiner, president of the junior chamber, told the council that without the proceeds from the carnival, the junior chamber could not sponsor Western Weekend.

Mayor Wayne Womack named Councilmen Charles Johnson and Everett Pozzi to work with the junior chamber to draft an ordinance regulating carnivals so that all organizations could sponsor them alike.

The council considered an appeal by Jehovah's witnesses from planning commission denial of permission for a church on a 17,650 square-foot lot on an undedicated street off Almont Avenue.

A petition bearing 11 signatures of nearby property owners favoring the church was presented to the council. Another petition signed by 45 residents objecting to the church had been sent to the council previously.

The council postponed action on the appeal until its Feb. 13 meeting.

The Novato council also:

1. Reappointed Mrs. Lucille Cannon and Robert Johnson to the planning commission for four-year terms.
2. Authorized purchase of a $15 clock for the new council chambers in the community building.
3. Set public hearings for Feb. 13 on the final maps of Sutter Hills subdivision off Tamalpais Avenue and Sunny Acres subdivision off Olive Avenue.

Board Protests Condemnation At Point Reyes

State plans for condemning Mrs. Olympia Grandi's property at Point Reyes Station for a highway equipment corporation yard should be changed and a non-residential location selected, Marin County supervisors declared yesterday.

Supervisor George Ludy of Inverness strongly supported a letter of objection by San Rafael attorney John G. Buresh on Mrs. Grandi's behalf.

"This is right where Point Reyes Station is going to develop," said Ludy. "A corporation yard doesn't have to be in town. There are plenty of other sites up along Tomales Bay."

The board ordered a letter sent to Sacramento asking that condemnation action be held up pending a conference probably early next month.

Council Names Sausalito Planners

Walter Thomson of 71 Cazneau Avenue and Victor Abrahamson of 40 Santa Rosa Avenue were appointed last night to the Sausalito Planning Commission by the city council.

Thomson, a supervisory engineering technician with the Navy at Fort Mason, succeeds Charles E. Finney to complete a term expiring Jan. 1, 1965. Abrahamson, an architect, replaces Hugh G. Lawrence for a term expiring Jan. 1, 1964.

San Quentin Escaper Returned To Prison

James Preston Winton, 23, San Quentin Prison escaper, was returned to the prison yesterday after his arrest in Florida.

Winton escaped from a work detail outside the prison walls Nov. 22, 1961. He was arrested in Florida Jan. 8. He was sentenced to San Quentin in 1960 for burglary in Fresno County.

Hub Subdivider Charges Planning Held Up Because Of Councilman

By WAT TAKESHITA

A San Anselmo subdivider and his wife bitterly charged last night that their project is being held up because a city councilman happens to live next to the area they want to develop.

And an attorney, hired by the councilman's wife, countercharged that the developer was changing subdivision maps so fast that he was never given ample time to study the plans. Furthermore, said attorney Lawrence Kuechler of Kentfield, City Engineer William Roe had made an error when he approved the map as in "full conformity" with the planning commission's lot slope policy. Kuechler said he had been retained by Mrs. John M. Reichmuth, the councilman's wife, who lives at 405 Redwood Road.

The developers are Richard White and his wife Nina, who have two acres of land at 349 Redwood Road. Last October, they asked for a subdivision of their two acres. The first map was turned down by the planning commission because the lots were too small for the steep terrain. The commission approved the second map, but the council rejected it, as not fully conforming with the lot slope policy.

Last night, the Whites submitted a third map showing six lots. When the council started to refer that one back to the planning commission, Mrs. White tore into the city council.

"Why are we having so much trouble with this subdivision?" she demanded. "Is it because a council member happens to be a neighbor? . . . When I go to the polls to elect a councilman, I expect him to be impartial. But when the councilman gets a lawyer to represent him, I don't think he is being impartial."

Mayor Carleton G. Little had to tap for order. "I'm angry!" Mrs. White bristled.

Councilman Reichmuth said his only interest in the subdivision was to see that it conformed with the lot-slope policy.

Attorney Kuechler, representing Mrs. Reichmuth, declared the planning commission had approved the map only because City Engineer Roe had twice told them it was in full conformity. "Since that time, the engineer has found that he was wrong . . . Ordinarily you rely on the city engineer. But he has been found to be in error. We want the correctness of the map checker," said Kuechler.

Roe said that the original computation, he had included an access road to one of the lots as part of the lot. That would have given enough square footage to conform to the lot-slope policy, said Roe. But to be on the safe side, he decided to delete the access road from the lot size, which made the lot too small.

Tht city engineer explained it was just a matter of deciding whether or not the access road would be considered a part of the lot.

Councilman William Franchini said he feels developer White is "being pushed around and getting a dirty deal." Councilman Arthur W. Smith agreed.

However, on the advice of City Atty. John G. Buresh, the council referred the map back to the planning commission again to make sure everything is in order.

Councilman Reichmuth abstained from voting.

Russell Spatz, chairman of the planning commission, said that as far as he is concerned, the subdivision meets the planners' lot-slope policy. He said five lots fully conform, and the sixth lot is lacking by about 400 square feet.

Spatz explained that the lot-slope policy is used by the planning commission "as a guide," and does not provide "foot-by-foot, inch-by-inch requirement." He said he feels the White subdivision meets the lot-slope policy in substance, which is all that the planning commission requires.

If the council wants foot-by-foot enforcement, it should formally adopt the lot-slope policy as a law, Spatz pointed out.

Shoplifter Is Given Suspended Jail Term

Ruell Wight Butterfield, 28, a salesman living at 967 Vernal Way, Homestead Valley, drew a 30-day suspended jail term and one year probation for walking out with a pint of whiskey from Shoreline Market without paying for it Monday night.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson sentenced him yesterday for petty theft. The judge told Butterfield he must also make restitution for all items he has taken from the market.

About 600,000 U. S. vacationers visit Mexico annually.

Four-Lane Drake Blvd. Land Sought

Marin County supervisors yesterday authorized the county public works director to negotiate for necessary property to widen Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to four lanes westward from El Portal Drive in Greenbrae to the foot of Wolfe Grade.

"Is it desirable or necessary," asked Supervisor Peter H. Behr, "to spend $180,000 to do this job when it ends in a cul de sac?"

This outraged Supervisor William D. Fusselman in whose district the project lies. Behr hastily changed "cul de sac" to "a narrow road that can never be widened," but Fusselman said "if you get to the town of Ross, maybe."

Told that cost of some nursery land would be prohibitive and thus halt the widening, Fusselman said, "There's a ditch opposite that will take you past the nursery and will have to be done sometime in the future.

He also declared the widening would "take care of tremendous traffic and for a long time you'll not need the capacity beyond Wolfe Grade."

Behr joined in a unanimous vote to acquire the land.

Legion Commends Huber For Anti-Red Week Action

Mill Valley Mayor Robert D. Huber was commended Monday night by Mill Valley Post 284 of the American Legion "for his action and fine patriotic leadership" to the community.

Action came at a "roll call" meeting of the legion on civil defense. Former City Councilman T. J. De Lasaux moved the resolution. Former City Councilman Robert Laughead seconded the motion and it passed unanimously.

The resolution was immediately followed by a motion by Legionnaire Williams of Sausalito that Sausalito Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. be commended in addition to the 53 other mayors in the Bay Area signing the proclamation declaring Jan. 19-Feb. 2 "Anti-Communism Week."

The resolution reads that "the U.S. is engaged in a gigantic world struggle with communism. One of the dedicated purposes of the Communist Party is to overthrow the United States government by [illegible] It is our belief that every patriotic American citizen should combat the communistic conspiracy whenever the opportunity presents itself."

Former commander Roy A. Ibach reported 106 Legionnaires answered the roll call of the organization's 276 members.

Dr. Carrie E. Chapman of Mill Valley was presented a citation for meritorious service for her work in rehabilitation at the Oakland Veteran's Hospital.

The Presidio of San Francisco was won in the war with Mexico.

RESULTS OF SURVEY

Novatans Want Big Central Park

By THERON A. NEWELL

Novato is a city of new home owners, not much addicted to club joining, who like their city government and police force and want a big central city park.

These were some of the highlights of a report to the city council last night by the junior chamber of commerce on a survey of residents' desires and feelings for their city.

The junior chamber made the 37-question survey in one out of four houses throughout the incorporated city. James McConnell, chairman of the survey committee presented the findings.

Of those surveyed, 85 per cent owned their own homes. However, 45 per cent had lived in Novato less than three years; 35 per cent between four and 10 years, and only 20 per cent more than 10 years.

Social and service clubs could claim only 45 per cent membership. Of the non-members, 70 per cent stated they were not interested in joining any clubs.

Municipal governments in favor with the people, according to the 850 survey returns. The police department rated "good" with 99 per cent of those polled.

Only 30 per cent of the people said city hall services were satisfactory, but 69 per cent said they never had used them. Only 1 per cent said they were unsatisfactory. The city council was rated as fair and impartial by 88 per cent. The Novato Fire Department came in for 99 per cent approval.

Library services were thought adequate by 40 per cent, inadequate by 30 per cent and 30 per cent didn't even know Novato had a library.

The people registered a big majority for the city bonding itself for a city hall and park. Park facilities should be built by the city according to 83 per cent answering; 70 per cent favored a central park over smaller scattered parks. Seventy-nine per cent said the city should build a city hall, but only 59 per cent favored a bond issue to pay for it.

A swimming pool and playground tied for being the things most wanted in recreation. The people were willing, 82 per cent of them, to bond themselves for these facilities.

Other facts brought out by the survey include: That the people want a department store and a bigger selection of merchandise from Novato merchants; they want light but not heavy industry; the city needs an ambulance, recreation center and sidewalks; they are against parking meters 9 to 1 and want highway 101 moved east of its present location.

Of those polled, 66 per cent were in favor of putting fluoride in the drinking water with 34 per cent against. One citizen wanted whiskey in his drinking water.

Homes To Be Sought For Sonoma Patients

An attempt to find Marin foster homes for Sonoma State Hospital patients ready to live in the community will be launched at a meeting of Marin Aid to Retarded Children Feb. 12 at 8 p.m. in the MARC work training center at San Rafael High School.

The meeting will be addressed by Robert Carberry of the California Department of Mental Hygiene, and Clarence La Voie, psychiatric social worker at Sonoma.

New County Grand Jury Is Impaneled

San Rafael shoe store owner Irving Chapman will head the Marin County Grand Jury for 1962.

He and 18 were impaneled last night by Presiding Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court.

Of 30 prospective jurors originally nominated by the three superior court judges, 25 names were drawn in Judge Sims chambers last week. Out of the 25, the 19 grand jurors were drawn last night in the courthouse.

The new grand jurors besides Chapman are as follows:

Theo Barron Sr., Marin City, businessman; Frank P. Bottarini, San Rafael, union official; Alfred W. Bowman, Novato, retired businessman.

Mrs. Tanny Duncan, Belvedere, housewife; Peter J. Ferrarese, Novato, bank manager; George Goodfellow, Tamalpais Valley, union official; Walter S. Joseph, Kentfield, retired businessman; Russ Lauterwasser, Larkspur, contractor.

Edgar T. Lindner, Ross, stock broker; Charles R. Markt, Fairfax union official; James Marshall, Tomales, rancher and former Supervisor; Elmer Martinelli, Point Reyes Station, rancher; Charles H. Merrill Jr., Sausalito, businessman.

Mrs. Helen Newman, Tiburon, housewife; Harry A. Patsnick, Mill Valley, retired businessman; Edward Ravizza, Mill Valley real estate broker; Milton Schwartz, San Rafael, businessman; Mrs. Nancy C. Swadesh, Mill Valley, housewife.

Syrian sarafs, traditional money-lenders, still flourish in competition with modern commercial banks in that country.

NEW PERMIT ISSUED

Myrtle Avenue Dust Stirred Up Again

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

Two attorneys and a court reporter last night turned the San Rafael Planning Commission meeting into a court of law as embattled housewives of Myrtle Avenue demanded an end to the excavations of Merz Construction Co.

Smiles on the faces of the attorneys—Richard Gladstein for the housewives and Douglas J. Maloney for Frank Merz—indicated victory for both sides as the stormy session ended.

The decision handed down by the planners revoked Merz's current excavation permit and issued him a new one designed to give the residents of Myrtle and Glen Park Avenues (1) more sleep, (2) less dust, (3) less danger from speeding trucks, and (4) hope that the job would come to an end by March 23.

The trouble began, the housewives said, two years ago when Merz was given an excavation permit to remove earth from a proposed subdivision in the hills above the neighborhood. It came to a noisy climax last week when irate mothers along Myrtle Avenue barricaded their street against the earth-filled trucks.

The action was termed "shocking and outrageous" by Maloney last night. "It was an unmitigated bid for publicity and designed to create a hostile attitude toward my client," the young attorney charged.

"My clients had called on every possible government agency to help them," Gladstein countered. "This gentleman (Merz) is not entitled to all eternity to finish his job."

Gladstein, who said he owned property in the neighborhood, charged Merz with violating his permit by allowing his trucks to exceed the speed limit, creating unbearable conditions of dust and dirt, waking the neighborhood by rolling trucks as early as 6 a.m., and taking too steep a cut in the hillside.

Maloney declared a soils expert had held that the cut was safe.

"I have known all sorts of experts," Gladstein said. "Other experts might say just the opposite."

Finally making themselves heard over the confusion in the audience, the planners ended the permit and issued a new one requiring Merz to water down all earth, keep the speed of trucks under 5 miles per hour, work from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and complete the job in 30 working days prior to March 23.

"What we needed tonight was a city attorney," commented Chairman Pat Hetherton as the vocal petitioners filed out.

Busterud Says He Won't Run

John A. Busterud, San Francisco assemblyman now living in Santa Rosa, announced officially today he will not seek Republican nomination for Congress from the First Congressional District, which includes Marin County.

Busterud said "a number of Republican leaders, including former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Minority Floor Leader Joseph Shell," had urged him to seek statewide office, "such as controller or treasurer."

"Such a step will, of course, preclude my entering the race for Congress," Busterud declared.

Terra Linda Makes Plans For Firehouse

Terra Linda Community Services District directors decided last night the district can afford to keep its old fire engine as well as buy a new one and enlarge the firehouse.

Fire Chief Richard Flaherty proposed to the directors that elimination of extra equipment and fire hose for the new $22,000 pumper would save the district $1,100. At a cost of $1,300 the firehouse stalls could be enlarged, allowing room for both the new and old engines and two pickup trucks. District directors authorized the fire department to go ahead with the plan.

The extra construction at the firehouse will be done by volunteer firemen, Flaherty said.

Church Money Thefts Admitted

A man who has admitted robbing church poor boxes in Marin County was arrested yesterday in Santa Rosa for the same offense, according to a teletype received by San Rafael police.

Victor Anthony Surdi, 32, who gave no address, was arrested for robbing a Catholic church box yesterday, the teletype said. Surdi told police there he had robbed boxes in San Rafael, San Anselmo, Fairfax, Vallejo and Burlingame.

The teletype added that Surdi had been convicted of the same offense in Marin County and San Francisco in 1955 and 1957.

Car Wash Set For Orphanage

A YMCA girls group in San Rafael will wash cars Saturday to help an orphanage in Africa as part of its world service project.

Members of Nautie-Ettes will wash cars from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday at the R and R Richfield Station, Second and E Street, San Rafael, club adviser Aurora Leveroni announced.

The girls will charge 90 cents per car.

Elective Posts To Be Discussed

L. L. Purkey former Larkspur city councilman, will discuss whether the city clerk and city treasurer should be elected or appointed tonight at 8 o'clock in a public forum in the Larkspur City Hall.

Purkey will also discuss city manager type of local government.

Presiding over the forum will be councilman Daniel Allen.

ANTI-RED WEEK CRITICISM NOW VOICED IN HUB

A San Anselmo citizen last night criticized the mayor for signing an Anti-Communism Week proclamation. Mayor Carleton G. Little read the letter of criticism and turned it over to the city administrator for filing without comment.

The letter, by John F. West of 21 Crescent Lane, said in part:

"I can't but feel that you've had a snow job and that you've shown little discernment. This endorsement seems very unbecoming to all of you, whom I have regarded as thoughtful and conscientious."

He asked the mayor and the council to revoke the endorsement.

San Anselmo Employees To Get Raise

San Anselmo city employees will get a 5 per cent across-the-board increase in salary from Feb. 1, the city council decided last night.

The only position that will not get the one-step increase is the cashier-clerk's post held by Mrs. Anne Grant, former city controller. Administrator Douglas Flautt reported the cashier-clerk's salary is now about 10 per cent higher than pay for similar positions in other comparable cities.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith, who wanted a 5 per cent raise for all employees without exception, voted against the salary raise because the one position was not included.

Flautt said the pay raise would mean a payroll of about $1,000 per month more than at present. He presented a salary survey which he said shows San Anselmo's pay is running about two or three per cent below the median of other comparable cities.

Councilman William Franchini at first suggested a three per cent raise but later went along with five per cent.

In other actions last night, the San Anselmo Council:

1. Denied a six-unit apartment for B. F. Bates at 1554 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The planning commission had denied the request because of parking in front and insufficient side setbacks.
2. Approved 60 feet of "no parking" on the southeast corner of Morningside Court and San Anselmo Avenue because the corner constitutes a traffic hazard.
3. Renewed Clarence Smith's taxicab license for another year with no change in rates.
4. Authorized the administrator to contact consultants to be interviewed by the seven-man Parks and Recreation Advisory Committee. Actual hiring of consultant will be up to the city council.
5. Decided to ask Sleepy Hollow Fire District officials to attend the Feb. 26 meeting of the city council to discuss a new contract. San Anselmo provides fire protection for Sleepy Hollow under a yearly contract.

Police Watch On Hospital Road Planned

Marin County Hospital District directors last night agreed to maintain a police watch on the road going through the hospital grounds to keep cars from blocking the access road.

Since construction of the new Babcock Memorial Wing began, the fire access road leading to Bon Air Road from the hospital has been blocked by illegally parked cars. This road is also used for emergency entrance to the hospital.

The directors urged all visitors to use the lower parking areas and to not park in any of the "No Parking" zones. They said they would attempt to get patrol of the sheriff's office during the peak hours.

The directors authorized the purchase of a surgical monitor at a cost of $2,400.

Dr. Wilson P. Goddard of Bolinas was re-elected president of the board of directors. Also re-elected were Charles A. Rowe, vice president, and Mrs. Marion C. Ibach, secretary.

Body Is Found On Beach At Tomales Bay

A body, tentatively identified as that of Harry J. Tyrell, 52, of Woodland, Yolo County, was found early today on a Tomales Bay beach.

The body was discovered in the sand between the John McClure and Jim Kehoe ranches by Al Speegle of Inverness, according to Coroner Frank J. Keaton. A wallet contained identification naming the man as Tyrell.

Keaton said Tyrell reportedly fell in the water while fishing about six weeks ago at Lawson's resort at Dillon Beach. A boat was dispatched this morning to recover the body. According to Keaton, the beach cannot be reached except by boat.

Mill Valley Scout Hall Paper Drive Is Slated

Trustees of Mill Valley Scout Hall announced today that there will be a newspaper drive in the Mill Valley and Strawberry areas on April 14.

All Explorer, Sea, Boy and Cub Scout groups using Mill Valley Scout Hall will participate, according to co-chairmen Lowell Jett and Clayton Underhill.

Terra Linda Makes Plans For Firehouse

Terra Linda Community Services District directors decided last night the district can afford to keep its old fire engine as well as buy a new one and enlarge the firehouse.

Fire Chief Richard Flaherty proposed to the directors that elimination of extra equipment and fire hose for the new $22,000 pumper would save the district $1,100. At a cost of $1,300 the firehouse stalls could be enlarged, allowing room for both the new and old engines and two pickup trucks. District directors authorized the fire department to go ahead with the plan.

The extra construction at the firehouse will be done by volunteer firemen, Flaherty said.

Church Money Thefts Admitted

A man who has admitted robbing church poor boxes in Marin County was arrested yesterday in Santa Rosa for the same offense, according to a teletype received by San Rafael police.

Victor Anthony Surdi, 32, who gave no address, was arrested for robbing a Catholic church box yesterday, the teletype said. Surdi told police there he had robbed boxes in San Rafael, San Anselmo, Fairfax, Vallejo and Burlingame.

The teletype added that Surdi had been convicted of the same offense in Marin County and San Francisco in 1955 and 1957.

Car Wash Set For Orphanage

A YMCA girls group in San Rafael will wash cars Saturday to help an orphanage in Africa as part of its world service project.

Members of Nautie-Ettes will wash cars from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday at the R and R Richfield Station, Second and E Street, San Rafael, club adviser Aurora Leveroni announced.

The girls will charge 90 cents per car.

Elective Posts To Be Discussed

L. L. Purkey former Larkspur city councilman, will discuss whether the city clerk and city treasurer should be elected or appointed tonight at 8 o'clock in a public forum in the Larkspur City Hall.

Purkey will also discuss city manager type of local government.

Presiding over the forum will be councilman Daniel Allen.

ANTI-RED WEEK CRITICISM NOW VOICED IN HUB

A San Anselmo citizen last night criticized the mayor for signing an Anti-Communism Week proclamation. Mayor Carleton G. Little read the letter of criticism and turned it over to the city administrator for filing without comment.

The letter, by John F. West of 21 Crescent Lane, said in part:

"I can't but feel that you've had a snow job and that you've shown little discernment. This endorsement seems very unbecoming to all of you, whom I have regarded as thoughtful and conscientious."

He asked the mayor and the council to revoke the endorsement.

San Anselmo Employees To Get Raise

San Anselmo city employees will get a 5 per cent across-the-board increase in salary from Feb. 1, the city council decided last night.

The only position that will not get the one-step increase is the cashier-clerk's post held by Mrs. Anne Grant, former city controller. Administrator Douglas Flautt reported the cashier-clerk's salary is now about 10 per cent higher than pay for similar positions in other comparable cities.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith, who wanted a 5 per cent raise for all employees without exception, voted against the salary raise because the one position was not included.

Flautt said the pay raise would mean a payroll of about $1,000 per month more than at present. He presented a salary survey which he said shows San Anselmo's pay is running about two or three per cent below the median of other comparable cities.

Councilman William Franchini at first suggested a three per cent raise but later went along with five per cent.

In other actions last night, the San Anselmo Council:

1. Denied a six-unit apartment for B. F. Bates at 1554 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The planning commission had denied the request because of parking in front and insufficient side setbacks.
2. Approved 60 feet of "no parking" on the southeast corner of Morningside Court and San Anselmo Avenue because the corner constitutes a traffic hazard.
3. Renewed Clarence Smith's taxicab license for another year with no change in rates.
4. Authorized the administrator to contact consultants to be interviewed by the seven-man Parks and Recreation Advisory Committee. Actual hiring of consultant will be up to the city council.
5. Decided to ask Sleepy Hollow Fire District officials to attend the Feb. 26 meeting of the city council to discuss a new contract. San Anselmo provides fire protection for Sleepy Hollow under a yearly contract.

Police Watch On Hospital Road Planned

Marin County Hospital District directors last night agreed to maintain a police watch on the road going through the hospital grounds to keep cars from blocking the access road.

Since construction of the new Babcock Memorial Wing began, the fire access road leading to Bon Air Road from the hospital has been blocked by illegally parked cars. This road is also used for emergency entrance to the hospital.

The directors urged all visitors to use the lower parking areas and to not park in any of the "No Parking" zones. They said they would attempt to get patrol of the sheriff's office during the peak hours.

The directors authorized the purchase of a surgical monitor at a cost of $2,400.

Dr. Wilson P. Goddard of Bolinas was re-elected president of the board of directors. Also re-elected were Charles A. Rowe, vice president, and Mrs. Marion C. Ibach, secretary.

Body Is Found On Beach At Tomales Bay

A body, tentatively identified as that of Harry J. Tyrell, 52, of Woodland, Yolo County, was found early today on a Tomales Bay beach.

The body was discovered in the sand between the John McClure and Jim Kehoe ranches by Al Speegle of Inverness, according to Coroner Frank J. Keaton. A wallet contained identification naming the man as Tyrell.

Keaton said Tyrell reportedly fell in the water while fishing about six weeks ago at Lawson's resort at Dillon Beach. A boat was dispatched this morning to recover the body. According to Keaton, the beach cannot be reached except by boat.

RESULTS OF SURVEY

Novatans Want Big Central Park

By THERON A. NEWELL

Novato is a city of new home owners, not much addicted to club joining, who like their city government and police force and want a big central city park.

These were some of the highlights of a report to the city council last night by the junior chamber of commerce on a survey of residents' desires and feelings for their city.

The junior chamber made the 37-question survey in one out of four houses throughout the incorporated city. James McConnell, chairman of the survey committee presented the findings.

Of those surveyed, 85 per cent owned their own homes. However, 45 per cent had lived in Novato less than three years; 35 per cent between four and 10 years, and only 20 per cent more than 10 years.

Social and service clubs could claim only 45 per cent membership. Of the non-members, 70 per cent stated they were not interested in joining any clubs.

Municipal governments in favor with the people, according to the 850 survey returns. The police department rated "good" with 99 per cent of those polled.

Only 30 per cent of the people said city hall services were satisfactory, but 69 per cent said they never had used them. Only 1 per cent said they were unsatisfactory. The city council was rated as fair and impartial by 88 per cent. The Novato Fire Department came in for 99 per cent approval.

Library services were thought adequate by 40 per cent, inadequate by 30 per cent and 30 per cent didn't even know Novato had a library.

The people registered a big majority for the city bonding itself for a city hall and park. Park facilities should be built by the city according to 83 per cent answering; 70 per cent favored a central park over smaller scattered parks. Seventy-nine per cent said the city should build a city hall, but only 59 per cent favored a bond issue to pay for it.

A swimming pool and playground tied for being the things most wanted in recreation. The people were willing, 82 per cent of them, to bond themselves for these facilities.

Other facts brought out by the survey include: That the people want a department store and a bigger selection of merchandise from Novato merchants; they want light but not heavy industry; the city needs an ambulance, recreation center and sidewalks; they are against parking meters 9 to 1 and want highway 101 moved east of its present location.

Of those polled, 66 per cent were in favor of putting fluoride in the drinking water with 34 per cent against. One citizen wanted whiskey in his drinking water.

Homes To Be Sought For Sonoma Patients

An attempt to find Marin foster homes for Sonoma State Hospital patients ready to live in the community will be launched at a meeting of Marin Aid to Retarded Children Feb. 12 at 8 p.m. in the MARC work training center at San Rafael High School.

The meeting will be addressed by Robert Carberry of the California Department of Mental Hygiene, and Clarence La Voie, psychiatric social worker at Sonoma.

New County Grand Jury Is Impaneled

San Rafael shoe store owner Irving Chapman will head the Marin County Grand Jury for 1962.

He and 18 were impaneled last night by Presiding Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court.

Of 30 prospective jurors originally nominated by the three superior court judges, 25 names were drawn in Judge Sims chambers last week. Out of the 25, the 19 grand jurors were drawn last night in the courthouse.

The new grand jurors besides Chapman are as follows:

Theo Barron Sr., Marin City, businessman; Frank P. Bottarini, San Rafael, union official; Alfred W. Bowman, Novato, retired businessman.

Mrs. Tanny Duncan, Belvedere, housewife; Peter J. Ferrarese, Novato, bank manager; George Goodfellow, Tamalpais Valley, union official; Walter S. Joseph, Kentfield, retired businessman; Russ Lauterwasser, Larkspur, contractor.

Edgar T. Lindner, Ross, stock broker; Charles R. Markt, Fairfax union official; James Marshall, Tomales, rancher and former Supervisor; Elmer Martinelli, Point Reyes Station, rancher; Charles H. Merrill Jr., Sausalito, businessman.

Mrs. Helen Newman, Tiburon, housewife; Harry A. Patsnick, Mill Valley, retired businessman; Edward Ravizza, Mill Valley real estate broker; Milton Schwartz, San Rafael, businessman; Mrs. Nancy C. Swadesh, Mill Valley, housewife.

Syrian sarafs, traditional money-lenders, still flourish in competition with modern commercial banks in that country.

NEW PERMIT ISSUED

Myrtle Avenue Dust Stirred Up Again

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

Two attorneys and a court reporter last night turned the San Rafael Planning Commission meeting into a court of law as embattled housewives of Myrtle Avenue demanded an end to the excavations of Merz Construction Co.

Smiles on the faces of the attorneys—Richard Gladstein for the housewives and Douglas J. Maloney for Frank Merz—indicated victory for both sides as the stormy session ended.

The decision handed down by the planners revoked Merz's current excavation permit and issued him a new one designed to give the residents of Myrtle and Glen Park Avenues (1) more sleep, (2) less dust, (3) less danger from speeding trucks, and (4) hope that the job would come to an end by March 23.

The trouble began, the housewives said, two years ago when Merz was given an excavation permit to remove earth from a proposed subdivision in the hills above the neighborhood. It came to a noisy climax last week when irate mothers along Myrtle Avenue barricaded their street against the earth-filled trucks.

The action was termed "shocking and outrageous" by Maloney last night. "It was an unmitigated bid for publicity and designed to create a hostile attitude toward my client," the young attorney charged.

"My clients had called on every possible government agency to help them," Gladstein countered. "This gentleman (Merz) is not entitled to all eternity to finish his job."

Gladstein, who said he owned property in the neighborhood, charged Merz with violating his permit by allowing his trucks to exceed the speed limit, creating unbearable conditions of dust and dirt, waking the neighborhood by rolling trucks as early as 6 a.m., and taking too steep a cut in the hillside.

Maloney declared a soils expert had held that the cut was safe.

"I have known all sorts of experts," Gladstein said. "Other experts might say just the opposite."

Finally making themselves heard over the confusion in the audience, the planners ended the permit and issued a new one requiring Merz to water down all earth, keep the speed of trucks under 5 miles per hour, work from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and complete the job in 30 working days prior to March 23.

"What we needed tonight was a city attorney," commented Chairman Pat Hetherton as the vocal petitioners filed out.

Busterud Says He Won't Run

John A. Busterud, San Francisco assemblyman now living in Santa Rosa, announced officially today he will not seek Republican nomination for Congress from the First Congressional District, which includes Marin County.

Busterud said "a number of Republican leaders, including former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Minority Floor Leader Joseph Shell," had urged him to seek statewide office, "such as controller or treasurer."

"Such a step will, of course, preclude my entering the race for Congress," Busterud declared.

Violence, Death In Caracas As Hemisphere Talks Go On

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Sixteen persons were reported killed and 80 wounded yesterday in left-wing violence in which military police battled snipers.

Bombs exploded in scattered parts of the city and eight buses were burned during the fighting in the second day of clashes brought on by leftist agitators against the government of President Romulo Betancourt.

Twenty-three persons have been killed and more than 100 injured in the disorders which coincided with the meeting of Western Hemisphere foreign ministers at Punta del Este, Uruguay, to consider action against Fidel Castros Cuba.

The violence was accompanied by a nationwide transit strike called in defiance of the government.

At La Paz one man was killed and several others were injured yesterday in street fighting between pro-Castro and anti-Castro mobs in the streets.

Caracas appeared fairly calm this morning after a night in which heavy gunfire was heard in many sections of the city.

Caracas' Central University, where police said pro-Castro extremists holed up and fired on them, was cleared of its students by university authorities.

Two hundred persons were reported arrested.

For unknown reasons, not one case of influenza was laboratory-confirmed in California in 1960.

THREE AGENTS WILL ANSWER TAX QUESTIONS

The U.S. Internal Revenue Service will station three agents at 1601 Second Street, near Hayes Street, in San Rafael every Monday until April 15 to provide information to citizens preparing tax returns, District Director Joseph M. Cullen announced in San Francisco today.

Taxpayers may get their information by phone or in person. The hours are 8:15 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m.

The Carson Mansion in Eureka, built in 1884, is a State Historical Monument.

Senior Citizens To Install Officers At Feb. 10 Meeting

Ethel Bryce of San Rafael will be installed for another year's term as president of the Marin Senior Assn. at a meeting at 1:30 p.m. on Feb. 10 in Isabel Cook School, San Anselmo.

Miss Bryce was elected without opposition at the association's annual election.

Also elected without opposition were:

Mrs. Kay Stephenson, first vice president; Mrs. Betty Nickerson, second vice president; Mrs. Adelaide Lawrence, treasurer; Mrs. Margaret Shinn, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ethel Beckwith, recording secretary; George Bennett, auditor, and the following directors at large: Mrs. Edna Praun, Mrs. Jessie Stetson, Elmer Shattuck, Mrs. Florence Bennett and Will Vorhees.

Election was by vote of the board of directors.

The board also created a new office, "good will ambassador," and elected Manny Charnow, one of the founders of the organization and probably its best known member, to fill the position.

The poinsettia is named for Joel Poinsett, the first U. S. Minister to Mexico, 1825-29.

Boy Confesses Killing Denver Mother, Child

DENVER (UPI)—The mother's screams of anguish were more than veteran police officers could bear.

Some bowed their heads. Others moved outside the police building to escape the voice of torment.

"Raymond! Raymond! Raymond!," the mother screamed over and over again. "I don't want to live! I don't want to live!"

Mrs. Herman Patton had just been informed that her 16-year-old san, Raymond Patton, had confessed to one of Denver's most brutal crimes in recent years. Police said he had confessed the bludgeon slayings last Thursday of Mrs. Shirley Jean Duckworth, 26, and her 5-year-old son, Dale, who tried to save her.

The Pattons and Duckworths are next-door neighbors in southwest Denver.

Police, who were stumped on the killing, were surprised when young Patton, taken from class for routine questioning yesterday, blurted out the confession.

Patton, a junior in high school, could not give a reason for the homicidal outburst.

Raymond told police he had not gone to school that day, and went next door and asked Mrs. Duckworth for a tool to fix his bike.

"All of a sudden, I don't know what came over me, I saw the big hammer and hit her in the head. I kept hitting her until the hammer slipped from my hand.

He said the little boy came running up, screaming "no, no, no."

"He tried to pull me off—he grabbed and kept yelling, 'don't! Don't!' and I hit him, and I hit him, and hit him."

Fight Launched Against Insects

RIVERSIDE (UPI) — The University of California at Riverside is seeking biological methods of fighting pesky flies, mosquitoes and eye gnats.

The project, financed by a $30,000 appropriation from the State Legislature, will attempt to find natural insect enemies of the three pests. Special emphasis is being focused on eye gnats.

Hub City Approves Intersection Landscape Plans

San Anselmo's hub intersection will be decorated with three islands of greenery including a small park with a first-class lighted fountain and shrubbery, watered with a completely automatic sprinkler system.

The city council last night looked over several landscaping plans presented by landscape architect William L. Kapranos and decided to buy a complete package plan costing an estimated $8,085. This would include the cost of plants, shrubs and trees, concrete paving and concrete benches for the park, a living Christmas tree, a fountain with a pool 20 feet in diameter, and a complete sprinkler system which will turn itself on and off and at desired intervals.

City councilmen decided that since the intersection is one of the main entrances to the city, they should get an attractive fountain and a first-class landscaping job and an automatic system that will maintain the islands in first-class condition once the landscaping is installed.

City forces will do the groundwork, planting, and installation of sprinklers and plumbing. Pool, fountain, concrete benches and pavement will probably be by contract, Kapranos said.

The biggest island, with the park and fountain, will be located on the west side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, between Center Street and an existing service station at the Hub. Two smaller islands will be on the east side of Sir Francis Drake, between Greenfield Avenue and the Miracle Mile, and between Miracle Mile and Redhill Avenue.

The landscaped islands will go up in conjunction with a Hub widening project that is now underway at the intersection to relieve traffic congestion at the hub, where traffic from Ross, Fairfax and San Rafael come together.

Youths In Hub Theater Disturbance Plead Guilty

A San Rafael youth, who twisted and fractured the arm of a theater usher in San Anselmo Sunday, pleaded guilty to battery before Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin Municipal Court yesterday.

He is Richard L. Aregger, 18. His companion, William H. Switzer, 18, of San Anselmo, pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace and illegal possession of liquor.

The judge set 3 p.m. Feb. 15 as the time to hear a probation report on the youths and for sentencing.

Glenda Dooley, 27, of 27 Warner Court, San Rafael, who was working as usher at the Tamalpais Theater, was treated for a fractured right arm.

San Anselmo police said Mrs. Dooley asked the two youths to leave the theater, and they refused, using profane language. When she asked another patron to call the police, she said Aregger grabbed her arm and twisted it.

Mrs. Dooley said the youths had a half gallon of wine with them and were creating a disturbance.

Teen Group In Bake Sale For 'Dimes'

Church-A-Teens of Stinson Beach will hold a bake sale Saturday starting at 9 a.m. on the porch of Bill's Superette.

The $1,330 will be augmented by other monies to be raised and when the teen-agers have $1,500, the money will be used to purchase an organ for the community chapel.

Two Boys Nabbed For Stealing Car

Two boys from San Geronimo Valley, aged 14 and 15, stole a car in Forest Knolls but ran out of gasoline in Fort Bragg where they were nabbed by police, sheriff's deputies reported Monday.

The car, owned by Edwin A. Richardson of Forest Knolls, disappeared last Friday. On Sunday, Fort Bragg police caught the two boys, who admitted they had stolen the car. The vehicle's gas tank was empty, but it appeared to be undamaged, police reported.

The boys were returned to Marin Sunday night and will be referred to juvenile authorities.

Judge Sentences Drunken Drivers

Patrick Edward Murphy, 55, Inverness, paid $166 fine and drew six months probation yesterday for his first drunken driving offense.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him for driving while intoxicated along Shoreline Highway south of Olema last Nov. 22.

Viggo Larsen, 52, of Carson Road, Woodacre, drew $84 fine and six months probation. He was caught on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Fairfax last Dec. 29.

Boy Confesses Killing Denver Mother, Child

DENVER (UPI)—The mother's screams of anguish were more than veteran police officers could bear.

Some bowed their heads. Others moved outside the police building to escape the voice of torment.

"Raymond! Raymond! Raymond!," the mother screamed over and over again. "I don't want to live! I don't want to live!"

Mrs. Herman Patton had just been informed that her 16-year-old san, Raymond Patton, had confessed to one of Denver's most brutal crimes in recent years. Police said he had confessed the bludgeon slayings last Thursday of Mrs. Shirley Jean Duckworth, 26, and her 5-year-old son, Dale, who tried to save her.

The Pattons and Duckworths are next-door neighbors in southwest Denver.

Police, who were stumped on the killing, were surprised when young Patton, taken from class for routine questioning yesterday, blurted out the confession.

Patton, a junior in high school, could not give a reason for the homicidal outburst.

Raymond told police he had not gone to school that day, and went next door and asked Mrs. Duckworth for a tool to fix his bike.

"All of a sudden, I don't know what came over me, I saw the big hammer and hit her in the head. I kept hitting her until the hammer slipped from my hand.

He said the little boy came running up, screaming "no, no, no."

"He tried to pull me off—he grabbed and kept yelling, 'don't! Don't!' and I hit him, and I hit him, and hit him."

Fight Launched Against Insects

RIVERSIDE (UPI) — The University of California at Riverside is seeking biological methods of fighting pesky flies, mosquitoes and eye gnats.

The project, financed by a $30,000 appropriation from the State Legislature, will attempt to find natural insect enemies of the three pests. Special emphasis is being focused on eye gnats.

Violence, Death In Caracas As Hemisphere Talks Go On

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Sixteen persons were reported killed and 80 wounded yesterday in left-wing violence in which military police battled snipers.

Bombs exploded in scattered parts of the city and eight buses were burned during the fighting in the second day of clashes brought on by leftist agitators against the government of President Romulo Betancourt.

Twenty-three persons have been killed and more than 100 injured in the disorders which coincided with the meeting of Western Hemisphere foreign ministers at Punta del Este, Uruguay, to consider action against Fidel Castros Cuba.

The violence was accompanied by a nationwide transit strike called in defiance of the government.

At La Paz one man was killed and several others were injured yesterday in street fighting between pro-Castro and anti-Castro mobs in the streets.

Caracas appeared fairly calm this morning after a night in which heavy gunfire was heard in many sections of the city.

Caracas' Central University, where police said pro-Castro extremists holed up and fired on them, was cleared of its students by university authorities.

Two hundred persons were reported arrested.

For unknown reasons, not one case of influenza was laboratory-confirmed in California in 1960.

THREE AGENTS WILL ANSWER TAX QUESTIONS

The U.S. Internal Revenue Service will station three agents at 1601 Second Street, near Hayes Street, in San Rafael every Monday until April 15 to provide information to citizens preparing tax returns, District Director Joseph M. Cullen announced in San Francisco today.

Taxpayers may get their information by phone or in person. The hours are 8:15 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m.

The Carson Mansion in Eureka, built in 1884, is a State Historical Monument.

Senior Citizens To Install Officers At Feb. 10 Meeting

Ethel Bryce of San Rafael will be installed for another year's term as president of the Marin Senior Assn. at a meeting at 1:30 p.m. on Feb. 10 in Isabel Cook School, San Anselmo.

Miss Bryce was elected without opposition at the association's annual election.

Also elected without opposition were:

Mrs. Kay Stephenson, first vice president; Mrs. Betty Nickerson, second vice president; Mrs. Adelaide Lawrence, treasurer; Mrs. Margaret Shinn, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ethel Beckwith, recording secretary; George Bennett, auditor, and the following directors at large: Mrs. Edna Praun, Mrs. Jessie Stetson, Elmer Shattuck, Mrs. Florence Bennett and Will Vorhees.

Election was by vote of the board of directors.

The board also created a new office, "good will ambassador," and elected Manny Charnow, one of the founders of the organization and probably its best known member, to fill the position.

The poinsettia is named for Joel Poinsett, the first U. S. Minister to Mexico, 1825-29.

97-YEAR-OLD MUSIC-MAKER

When 97-year-old Emily Stevens sat down at the Lions Club piano at yesterday's meeting in Detroit, Mich., nobody laughed. But after half an hour of patter, music and community singing she had everyone chuckling. Mrs. Stevens, a widow, has been playing the piano and entertaining since since she was 11 years old. She was once accompanist for Fritz Kreisler. "I'll never stop playing," she says. (AP Wirephoto)

San Rafael School Board Backs Brown Act Changes

A proposal to amend the Ralph M. Brown Act to legalize closed conferences of school boards with their attorneys in matters of pending or active litigation was approved last night by the San Rafael Board of Education.

The board two weeks ago turned thumbs down on a proposal from Dr. Stephen E. Epler, College of Marin president, through the Marin County School Administrators Assn., that it endorse revision of the act to permit closed meetings with attorneys on "pending or possible litigation." Board president Roderick P. Martinelli pointed out that any action of a public board could possibly result in litigation.

Martinelli at that time said he "would go along" with revision of the act to legalize such conferences on actual litigation.

Last night the board was presented a resolution which Martinelli said he "had a hand in drafting." It calls attention to conflicting opinions of the attorney general and legislative counsel as to whether such attorney-client conferences are legal, and winds up:

"Resolved, that the Board of Education, City of San Rafael, urge the legislature to revise the Brown Act to state specifically that public bodies may meet in executive session with their legal counsel on matters relating to pending litigation."

"Pending litigation," said Martinelli, refers to lawsuits actually filed though not yet brought to trial.

The Marin County Grand Jury last fall adopted a resolution asking the legislature to clarify the status of conference of boards with their attorneys by amendment to the act.

Dettner Jewels Are Found —'Finds It Embarrassing'

An embarrassed Mrs. Shirley Dettner of Sausalito telephoned police yesterday afternoon that she had found the $10,000 worth of jewels she thought she had sent to the laundry Jan. 15.

She told Police Chief Howard Goerndt that somehow the jewels—two rings, a pin, a pendant and a bracelet—had been put under a large hope chest in her bedroom. When Mrs. Dettner moved the chest, she found them.

"She was embarrassed," said Goerndt.

Mrs. Dettner, wife of Arthur Dettner Jr., reported last week the jewels were missing and that they may have become tangled with sheets and sent to the laundry since they were kept under the mattress in a jewel box.

The priests of the Greek healer Asclepius had patients sleep in a sacred portico known as the Abaton where the gods might visit them in dreams and work cures. For those who failed to dream, an official dreamer was provided.

School Board Approves West End Lot Purchase

Purchase of a 64-foot-wide lot that will make possible considerable expansion of the West End School playground was approved by the San Rafael Board of Education last night.

Mrs. Esther E. Henley, who is moving to Custer, Wash., accepted San Rafael Elementary School District's offer of $22,500 for the house and lot at 1841 Fifth Avenue. The offer was upped $1,000 from the school district's original proposal. Mrs. Henley had asked $26,950.

The lot is surrounded on three sides by the present school property, making a 54-foot strip of the school yard to the west unusable except for a driveway. The school district plans to demolish the house to utilize more of its property for playground.

The board also gave the go-ahead to architect Carl F. Gromme to draw detailed plans for improvements of grounds at Davidson and Sun Valley schools.

The Sun Valley improvement will involve considerable grading, and installation by San Rafael of a turfed area for a baseball diamond, to be used in the city recreation program. Gromme said Joseph Rodota, recreation director, "expects that to be a mowed lawn by the first of July."

The plan approved by the board will not involve removing any of the large trees.

At Davidson, said Gromme, "irregular settlement of the marshland" has caused drops of as much as 24 inches at some points. Moreover, "rats and skunks" get under the building, he declared.

He proposed installation of several thousand feet of underground piping to correct the drainage, and boarding up sides of the crawl space under the buildings, which are on pilings.

The board, although approving a baseball diamond for Sun Valley, held back on approving installation by the Little League of a concession stand between the two diamonds at Davidson. This was requested by Charles Adam on behalf of the National and American Little Leagues. Board members Rex Silvernale and Bella H. Aaron expressed doubt of the propriety of such an arrangement. At suggestion of board member John M. Bagshaw, Supt. Bert C. Corona was instructed to examine records of similar requests in the past and of arrangements agreed on with the San Rafael Recreation Department regarding the baseball diamonds on school grounds.

While actng to mprove the grounds at the schools, the board gave a nudge to the Cty of San Rafael in hope of selling the E Street School — a possible city hall site. Corona was directed to write the city council that the board would like a commitment at the council's Feb. 5 meeting.

Also at last night's meeting:

1. Continuance of the team teaching plan inaugurated this year at Terra Linda High School was approved unanimously.
2. Alteration of the West End School bus route serving Fairhills to go via Valley View Drive to Oakmont for Rafael Highlands pupils was approved, as was an additional bus route from San Pedro School to serve Marin Bay.
3. Mrs. Mildred B. Barnard, assistant superintendent for elementary schools, reported meetings are being held on changes in mathematics and teaching of foreign languages to comply with a new law.
4. Principal Alfred N. Thomson disclosed an oboe was stolen from the San Rafael High School music office in November. The board authorized buying a replacement.
5. Thomson's request for an additional English teacher, to assist three San Rafael High teachers who, he said, have excessive class loads, was approved.
6. The board commended Terra Linda parents for installation of bleachers at the Terra Linda High football field.
7. John Cassidy was assigned as inspector of the fourth addition to Terra Linda High.
8. Bids were called, for opening Feb. 23 at 11 a.m., on an electric scoreboard for Terra Linda High gymnasium; a tractor for the schools' maintenance work, and equipment, furniture and lockers for Terra Linda High — the last including some $26,000 worth of furniture and $23,000 worth of lockers.
9. Mrs. Carole Seigle was hired to teach sixth grade at San Pedro School, effective Jan. 29.
10. Mrs. Marion Willits was hired as textbook, library and audio-visual clerk at Terra Linda High, and Peter Boch as bus driver.
11. Mrs. Betty Taylor resigned as cafeteria helper at Terra Linda High.

Hub City Approves Intersection Landscape Plans

San Anselmo's hub intersection will be decorated with three islands of greenery including a small park with a first-class lighted fountain and shrubbery, watered with a completely automatic sprinkler system.

The city council last night looked over several landscaping plans presented by landscape architect William L. Kapranos and decided to buy a complete package plan costing an estimated $8,085. This would include the cost of plants, shrubs and trees, concrete paving and concrete benches for the park, a living Christmas tree, a fountain with a pool 20 feet in diameter, and a complete sprinkler system which will turn itself on and off and at desired intervals.

City councilmen decided that since the intersection is one of the main entrances to the city, they should get an attractive fountain and a first-class landscaping job and an automatic system that will maintain the islands in first-class condition once the landscaping is installed.

City forces will do the groundwork, planting, and installation of sprinklers and plumbing. Pool, fountain, concrete benches and pavement will probably be by contract, Kapranos said.

The biggest island, with the park and fountain, will be located on the west side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, between Center Street and an existing service station at the Hub. Two smaller islands will be on the east side of Sir Francis Drake, between Greenfield Avenue and the Miracle Mile, and between Miracle Mile and Redhill Avenue.

The landscaped islands will go up in conjunction with a Hub widening project that is now underway at the intersection to relieve traffic congestion at the hub, where traffic from Ross, Fairfax and San Rafael come together.

J. W. Walsh of the Marinwood Citizens Committee, Howard Council, president of the Marinwood Community Services District, and Ernest Stewart, a Marinwood resident, will be among speakers, announced Kitty Oppenheimer, program conductor.

Youths In Hub Theater Disturbance Plead Guilty

A San Rafael youth, who twisted and fractured the arm of a theater usher in San Anselmo Sunday, pleaded guilty to battery before Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin Municipal Court yesterday.

He is Richard L. Aregger, 18. His companion, William H. Switzer, 18, of San Anselmo, pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace and illegal possession of liquor.

The judge set 3 p.m. Feb. 15 as the time to hear a probation report on the youths and for sentencing.

Glenda Dooley, 27, of 27 Warner Court, San Rafael, who was working as usher at the Tamalpais Theater, was treated for a fractured right arm.

San Anselmo police said Mrs. Dooley asked the two youths to leave the theater, and they refused, using profane language. When she asked another patron to call the police, she said Aregger grabbed her arm and twisted it.

Mrs. Dooley said the youths had a half gallon of wine with them and were creating a disturbance.

Teen Group In Bake Sale For 'Dimes'

Church-A-Teens of Stinson Beach will hold a bake sale Saturday starting at 9 a.m. on the porch of Bill's Superette.

The teen-age group, which has raised $1,330 through car washes, bake sales, ice cream socials and other activities since it was organized in 1956, will give the Saturday bake sale returns to the March of Dimes. The sale will run until all bakery goods are sold.

The $1,330 will be augmented by other monies to be raised and when the teen-agers have $1,500, the money will be used to purchase an organ for the community chapel.

Two Boys Nabbed For Stealing Car

Two boys from San Geronimo Valley, aged 14 and 15, stole a car in Forest Knolls but ran out of gasoline in Fort Bragg where they were nabbed by police, sheriff's deputies reported Monday.

The car, owned by Edwin A. Richardson of Forest Knolls, disappeared last Friday. On Sunday, Fort Bragg police caught the two boys, who admitted they had stolen the car. The vehicle's gas tank was empty, but it appeared to be undamaged, police reported.

The boys were returned to Marin Sunday night and will be referred to juvenile authorities.

Judge Sentences Drunken Drivers

Patrick Edward Murphy, 55, Inverness, paid $166 fine and drew six months probation yesterday for his first drunken driving offense.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him for driving while intoxicated along Shoreline Highway south of Olema last Nov. 22.

Viggo Larsen, 52, of Carson Road, Woodacre, drew $84 fine and six months probation. He was caught on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Fairfax last Dec. 29.

Directors of the firm were listed as Robert D. Powell and Robert B. Monroe, 935 Lootens Place, San Rafael; and C. R. E. Smith, Oakland.

97-YEAR-OLD MUSIC-MAKER

When 97-year-old Emily Stevens sat down at the Lions Club piano at yesterday's meeting in Detroit, Mich., nobody laughed. But after half an hour of patter, music and community singing she had everyone chuckling. Mrs. Stevens, a widow, has been playing the piano and entertaining since since she was 11 years old. She was once accompanist for Fritz Kreisler. "I'll never stop playing," she says. (AP Wirephoto)

San Rafael School Board Backs Brown Act Changes

A proposal to amend the Ralph M. Brown Act to legalize closed conferences of school boards with their attorneys in matters of pending or active litigation was approved last night by the San Rafael Board of Education.

The board two weeks ago turned thumbs down on a proposal from Dr. Stephen E. Epler, College of Marin president, through the Marin County School Administrators Assn., that it endorse revision of the act to permit closed meetings with attorneys on "pending or possible litigation." Board president Roderick P. Martinelli pointed out that any action of a public board could possibly result in litigation.

Martinelli at that time said he "would go along" with revision of the act to legalize such conferences on actual litigation.

Last night the board was presented a resolution which Martinelli said he "had a hand in drafting." It calls attention to conflicting opinions of the attorney general and legislative counsel as to whether such attorney-client conferences are legal, and winds up:

"Resolved, that the Board of Education, City of San Rafael, urge the legislature to revise the Brown Act to state specifically that public bodies may meet in executive session with their legal counsel on matters relating to pending litigation."

"Pending litigation," said Martinelli, refers to lawsuits actually filed though not yet brought to trial.

The Marin County Grand Jury last fall adopted a resolution asking the legislature to clarify the status of conference of boards with their attorneys by amendment to the act.

The San Francisco National Cemetery, in the Presidio of San Francisco, was the first national cemetery in the West. The Island of Tasmania, smallest state in the commonwealth of Australia, was first sighted in 1642 by Abel Tasman.

Dettner Jewels Are Found —'Finds It Embarrassing'

An embarrassed Mrs. Shirley Dettner of Sausalito telephoned police yesterday afternoon that she had found the $10,000 worth of jewels she thought she had sent to the laundry Jan. 15.

She told Police Chief Howard Goerndt that somehow the jewels—two rings, a pin, a pendant and a bracelet—had been put under a large hope chest in her bedroom. When Mrs. Dettner moved the chest, she found them.

"She was embarrassed," said Goerndt.

Mrs. Dettner, wife of Arthur Dettner Jr., reported last week the jewels were missing and that they may have become tangled with sheets and sent to the laundry since they were kept under the mattress in a jewel box.

The priests of the Greek healer Asclepius had patients sleep in a sacred portico known as the Abaton where the gods might visit them in dreams and work cures. For those who failed to dream, an official dreamer was provided.

School Board Approves West End Lot Purchase

Purchase of a 64-foot-wide lot that will make possible considerable expansion of the West End School playground was approved by the San Rafael Board of Education last night.

Mrs. Esther E. Henley, who is moving to Custer, Wash., accepted San Rafael Elementary School District's offer of $22,500 for the house and lot at 1841 Fifth Avenue. The offer was upped $1,000 from the school district's original proposal. Mrs. Henley had asked $26,950.

The lot is surrounded on three sides by the present school property, making a 54-foot strip of the school yard to the west unusable except for a driveway. The school district plans to demolish the house to utilize more of its property for playground.

The board also gave the go-ahead to architect Carl F. Gromme to draw detailed plans for improvements of grounds at Davidson and Sun Valley schools.

The Sun Valley improvement will involve considerable grading, and installation by San Rafael of a turfed area for a baseball diamond, to be used in the city recreation program. Gromme said Joseph Rodota, recreation director, "expects that to be a mowed lawn by the first of July."

The plan approved by the board will not involve removing any of the large trees.

At Davidson, said Gromme, "irregular settlement of the marshland" has caused drops of as much as 24 inches at some points. Moreover, "rats and skunks" get under the building, he declared.

He proposed installation of several thousand feet of underground piping to correct the drainage, and boarding up sides of the crawl space under the buildings, which are on pilings.

The board, although approving a baseball diamond for Sun Valley, held back on approving installation by the Little League of a concession stand between the two diamonds at Davidson. This was requested by Charles Adam on behalf of the National and American Little Leagues. Board members Rex Silvernale and Bella H. Aaron expressed doubt of the propriety of such an arrangement. At suggestion of board member John M. Bagshaw, Supt. Bert C. Corona was instructed to examine records of similar requests in the past and of arrangements agreed on with the San Rafael Recreation Department regarding the baseball diamonds on school grounds.

While actng to mprove the grounds at the schools, the board gave a nudge to the Cty of San Rafael in hope of selling the E Street School — a possible city hall site. Corona was directed to write the city council that the board would like a commitment at the council's Feb. 5 meeting.

Also at last night's meeting:

1. Continuance of the team teaching plan inaugurated this year at Terra Linda High School was approved unanimously.
2. Alteration of the West End School bus route serving Fairhills to go via Valley View Drive to Oakmont for Rafael Highlands pupils was approved, as was an additional bus route from San Pedro School to serve Marin Bay.
3. Mrs. Mildred B. Barnard, assistant superintendent for elementary schools, reported meetings are being held on changes in mathematics and teaching of foreign languages to comply with a new law.
4. Principal Alfred N. Thomson disclosed an oboe was stolen from the San Rafael High School music office in November. The board authorized buying a replacement.
5. Thomson's request for an additional English teacher, to assist three San Rafael High teachers who, he said, have excessive class loads, was approved.
6. The board commended Terra Linda parents for installation of bleachers at the Terra Linda High football field.
7. John Cassidy was assigned as inspector of the fourth addition to Terra Linda High.
8. Bids were called, for opening Feb. 23 at 11 a.m., on an electric scoreboard for Terra Linda High gymnasium; a tractor for the schools' maintenance work, and equipment, furniture and lockers for Terra Linda High — the last including some $26,000 worth of furniture and $23,000 worth of lockers.
9. Mrs. Carole Seigle was hired to teach sixth grade at San Pedro School, effective Jan. 29.
10. Mrs. Marion Willits was hired as textbook, library and audio-visual clerk at Terra Linda High, and Peter Boch as bus driver.
11. Mrs. Betty Taylor resigned as cafeteria helper at Terra Linda High.

American, Eastern Air Lines Seek Approval To Merge

NEW YORK (AP) — American Airlines and Eastern Air Lines will combine into the nation's biggest system if stockholder and government approval is forthcoming.

They announced yesterday plans to merge.

The consolidated line would be called American Airlines, erasing the name of the pioneer Eastern Air Lines from the roster of American carriers.

The proposal to create a system with 900 million dollars in assets, 39,000 employees and 400 aircraft will be submitted to stockholders of both companies and the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The board, which has generally encouraged mergers, had no immediate comment.

There was no mention in the announcement of Eddie Rickenbacker, 71, famed World War I air ace who is chairman of the board and chairman of the executive committee of Eastern.

An Eastern Air Lines spokesman said only that Rickenbacker would continue to hold those posts as long as Eastern remained an entity.

The merger would be another step in the quickening scramble to tie together competing transportation lines in an effort to pull out of a financial morass.

United Air Lines and heavily-in-debt Capital Airlines merged last May, making United the biggest of the domestic carriers.

C. R. Smith, president of American, and Malcolm A. MacIntyre, president of Eastern, jointly announced that the aim of the merger was to provide a stronger system "which can survive today's financial crisis, meet its obligations to the public and cope with the technological demands of the future."

Warning Given On 'Blue Laws'

A warning on possible enactment of "blue laws" was given members of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church in Fairfax on Saturday by Rev. H. A. Rentfro.

Recent laws passed in Virginia, Rentfro said, make it illegal for a citizen to wash his automobile or mow his lawn on Sunday. Advocates of the law argue that such legislation would insure better attendance at church.

"Forty per cent of our citizens do not belong to any church," Rentfro said. "Sometimes they make better citizens than some churchgoers.

"Let us not make laws that make criminals out of good men."

Du Pont Tax Relief Bill Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a measure that would cut millions of dollars from the tax bill of Du Pont stockholders in the event they receive 3.5 billion dollars in General Motors stock from an antitrust decision.

Senate passage late yesterday, after a week of debate and months of maneuvers, completed congressional action on the legislation. The House passed it last September. President John F. Kennedy's approval is considered certain.

The Supreme Court has ruled that Du Pont's possession of 63 million shares of G. M. violates antitrust laws and that the chemical firm must dispose of it.

Du Pont said it would prefer to do this by distributing the shares to its stockholders but could not because of the heavy taxes under present law, which would require the recipients to pay on the full value of the G. M. stock at regular income tax rates.

Boys Need Remedial Reading More

Boys who need remedial reading in the Mill Valley School District o u t-number girls four to one, principal Glenn Skelton of Park School told trustees Monday night.

Skelton said remedial work is going on in every Mill Valley schoolroom by the classroom teacher, who is "the most important person in the area of remedial work."

Dr. Logan Miles, assistant superintendent, reported on the district's foreign language program, saying 30 teachers are studying languages now and that Spanish is being concentrated on.

Trustees were told that Jane E. Clayton, third grade teacher for the past four years at Old Mill School, has announced she will resign as of Feb. 2 since she and her husband are adopting a two-month old boy.

A moment of silence was observed at the beginning of the meeting in memory of Alfred E. Bedecarrax, transportation foreman, who died Jan. 19.

30 Days, Fine In Death Of Family

MARTINEZ (UPI) — Walter J. Bohne, 45, a Richmond banker, received a $1,000 fine, an installment plan jail sentence and three years probation Monday as a result of an auto accident in which a family of three was killed.

Superior Judge Martin Rothenberg ordered Bohne, manager of the Richmond branch of the Central Valley Bank, to spend 15 weekends in jail, after a jury found him guilty of manslaughter.

Victims of the accident four miles south of Rodeo last Sept. 30 were Donald Hawkins, 34, his wife, Nona, 32, and their daughter, Linda, 6.

American, Eastern Air Lines Seek Approval To Merge

NEW YORK (AP) — American Airlines and Eastern Air Lines will combine into the nation's biggest system if stockholder and government approval is forthcoming.

They announced yesterday plans to merge.

The consolidated line would be called American Airlines, erasing the name of the pioneer Eastern Air Lines from the roster of American carriers.

The proposal to create a system with 900 million dollars in assets, 39,000 employees and 400 aircraft will be submitted to stockholders of both companies and the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The board, which has generally encouraged mergers, had no immediate comment.

There was no mention in the announcement of Eddie Rickenbacker, 71, famed World War I air ace who is chairman of the board and chairman of the executive committee of Eastern.

An Eastern Air Lines spokesman said only that Rickenbacker would continue to hold those posts as long as Eastern remained an entity.

The merger would be another step in the quickening scramble to tie together competing transportation lines in an effort to pull out of a financial morass.

United Air Lines and heavily-in-debt Capital Airlines merged last May, making United the biggest of the domestic carriers.

C. R. Smith, president of American, and Malcolm A. MacIntyre, president of Eastern, jointly announced that the aim of the merger was to provide a stronger system "which can survive today's financial crisis, meet its obligations to the public and cope with the technological demands of the future."

Warning Given On 'Blue Laws'

A warning on possible enactment of "blue laws" was given members of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church in Fairfax on Saturday by Rev. H. A. Rentfro.

Recent laws passed in Virginia, Rentfro said, make it illegal for a citizen to wash his automobile or mow his lawn on Sunday. Advocates of the law argue that such legislation would insure better attendance at church.

"Forty per cent of our citizens do not belong to any church," Rentfro said. "Sometimes they make better citizens than some churchgoers.

"Let us not make laws that make criminals out of good men."

Du Pont Tax Relief Bill Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a measure that would cut millions of dollars from the tax bill of Du Pont stockholders in the event they receive 3.5 billion dollars in General Motors stock from an antitrust decision.

Senate passage late yesterday, after a week of debate and months of maneuvers, completed congressional action on the legislation. The House passed it last September. President John F. Kennedy's approval is considered certain.

The Supreme Court has ruled that Du Pont's possession of 63 million shares of G. M. violates antitrust laws and that the chemical firm must dispose of it.

Du Pont said it would prefer to do this by distributing the shares to its stockholders but could not because of the heavy taxes under present law, which would require the recipients to pay on the full value of the G. M. stock at regular income tax rates.

Boys Need Remedial Reading More

Boys who need remedial reading in the Mill Valley School District out-number girls four to one, principal Glenn Skelton of Park School told trustees Monday night.

Skelton said remedial work is going on in every Mill Valley schoolroom by the classroom teacher, who is "the most important person in the area of remedial work."

Dr. Logan Miles, assistant superintendent, reported on the district's foreign language program, saying 30 teachers are studying languages now and that Spanish is being concentrated on.

Trustees were told that Jane E. Clayton, third grade teacher for the past four years at Old Mill School, has announced she will resign as of Feb. 2 since she and her husband are adopting a two-month old boy.

A moment of silence was observed at the beginning of the meeting in memory of Alfred E. Bedecarrax, transportation foreman, who died Jan. 19.

30 Days, Fine In Death Of Family

MARTINEZ (UPI) — Walter J. Bohne, 45, a Richmond banker, received a $1,000 fine, an installment plan jail sentence and three years probation Monday as a result of an auto accident in which a family of three was killed.

Superior Judge Martin Rothenberg ordered Bohne, manager of the Richmond branch of the Central Valley Bank, to spend 15 weekends in jail, after a jury found him guilty of manslaughter.

Victims of the accident four miles south of Rodeo last Sept. 30 were Donald Hawkins, 34, his wife, Nona, 32, and their daughter, Linda, 6.

Lucky Golf Faces D-D-Deep F-F-F-reeze

The touring golf professionals, once upon a time labelled the "follow the sun" guys, jump from the ice box into the deep freeze tomorrow when they open play in the $50,000 Lucky International tournament at San Francisco.

The weather man says it will be "fair," but the thermometer may be down around freezing—and the wind will be from 10 to 20 miles an hour.

After battling rain and ice in San Diego; snow, slush, wind and rain at Pebble Beach, however, the golfers are just about ready for anything.

If there is a favorite for this tournament, it has to be young Phil Rodgers, the 23-year-old La Jolla, Calif., shotmaker who definitely is headed for "rookie of the year" honors.

Phil is the leading money-winner of the short 1962 campaign. He has pocketed $9,720 in official earnings, including the championship of the Los Angeles Open and a strong third place in the Bing Crosby affair which ended Monday.

The other leading money winners this year are:

—Tommy Jacobs, who won the San Diego Open, and picked up good chunks of cash in Los Angeles and Pebble Beach, with $5,960 to his credit.

—Doug Ford, a great scrambler and rough weather player, who won at Pebble, $5,300 won.

CAMPBELL CONSISTENT

—Joe Campbell, who has been consistent with $4,746 won in the first three weeks, including second at Pebble Beach.

The defending champion is South Africa's Gary Player, but Gary has been a bit off his stick. He failed to make the cut at the Crosby clambake; picked up $900 in San Diego and only $155 in Los Angeles for a $1,055 total. He was the leading money-winner last year, with more than $65,000 to his credit.

The great Arnold Palmer has not been exactly a ball of fire on the tour of this year, either. The British Open champion won more than $63,000 last year and has to his credit so far $1,655 this season and has not been a big threat in any of the three tournaments.

Doug Sanders, who also won more than $60,000 last year, is going about at the same speed with $1,605 earnings.

The Lucky International, which always attracts big foreign fields, this time also gets Bernard Hunt, the great British star who has been doing better than the average foreigner. He has won $1,550 so far.

Play is over the Harding Park course, a municipal layout, that is an exacting test. Heavily lined with trees, the course plays especially long after rains. And it has had plenty of "wet" in recent days.

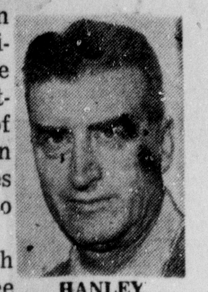
Very Few Collegiate Athletes Today Are Amateurs At Heart



HANLEY

It wasn't so long ago that young men endowed with athletic talents participated in college sports primarily for the honor of winning a coveted varsity letter. Nowadays, it seems that most of them are serving four or less years in the amateur ranks until the time comes for converting college reputations into cold cash.

Certainly there is nothing wrong with that attitude but it would be nice to see a resurgence of a true collegiate amateur spirit. Few college stars now are real amateurs at heart in the sense Bobby Jones was an amateur.

In Jones' era, there were few college men in pro golfing ranks. Now, most of the recent recruits on the tournament trail are college men. The lucrative prize money, of course, is responsible.

The tournament golf picture has been improving every year. In 1961, for example, purses on the tour totaled $1,800,000. That record figure is expected to go even higher this year. Can't blame a college man for leveling his sights on that kind of loot.

"In 1961," says Jim Caquin, PGA tournament manager who is a college man himself, "there were 48 regulation 72-hole tournaments, not counting the five on the Caribbean Tour, and nearly 60 pro-am events.

"The growing purses have proved irresistible to virtually every young player with ability. Pro golf now has more good players than ever. It is now possible for a sponsor to lack some of the 'names' and still have a great tournament.

"The PGA tournament schedule now is full and there is keen competition among some cities for certain dates. While this works to the players' advantage, the PGA regrets it cannot bring big league golf to every city interested in it.

"Relations between tournament players and sponsors never have been better, a most encouraging sign from the PGA's standpoint in view of the fact that every player is his own agent."

A college trained man should be able to negotiate his own deals. Saves the customary agent's fee.

"In my days," recalls Byron Nelson, "boys came from the caddy ranks. They started when they were 13 or 14 years old, and by 20 were apprentice pros. Now, most of the young pros are college graduates."

San Rafael Blasts Novato Five, 71-43

The Marin County Athletic League leading San Rafael Bulldogs slapped the Novato Hornets all over the court yesterday, and the final wound was 71-43.

San Rafael's 6-foot-2 forward Rod Monti showed he is on the comeback trail after so much bench time from injuries. He stacked up 21 points for San Rafael yesterday. The other big gunner of the game was Novato's Joe Colfer who again carried the Hornets on his back. He tallied 18 for the contest. Colfer did most of the work on eight field goals, and Monti on six FGs and nine charities.

San Rafael threw an opening blow of 21 to Novato's 3 points in the first quarter. Then Bulldog coach Mike Diaz ran in his reserve team, Monti excepted, and Novato's Colfer hit five straight field goals against it. It was the only period Novato outscored San Rafael. The Hornets put up a good fight, however, in the third period, scoring only one point less than the Bulldogs (14-13). But San Rafael took charge in the fourth quarter and tallied 20 to Novato's 8.

The San Rafael B's also came through with a victory: 38-36. High man for the Bulldogs was John Franzman with 14. Both teams had a rough time hitting the hole. For example, Novato took 65 shots, hit 15 per cent of them.

Matson, Los Angeles Rams fullback and member of the United States 1952 track team, explained the importance of sending outstanding distance runners from this country to Olympic games. He spoke at the home of Vezie, 430 William Avenue, Larkspur, where the coach held a banquet for his team. Matson is the brother-in-law of Tam football and basketball coach Henry Marshall.

The cross-country team members were awarded blocks. The runners' captain is Bill Nelson.

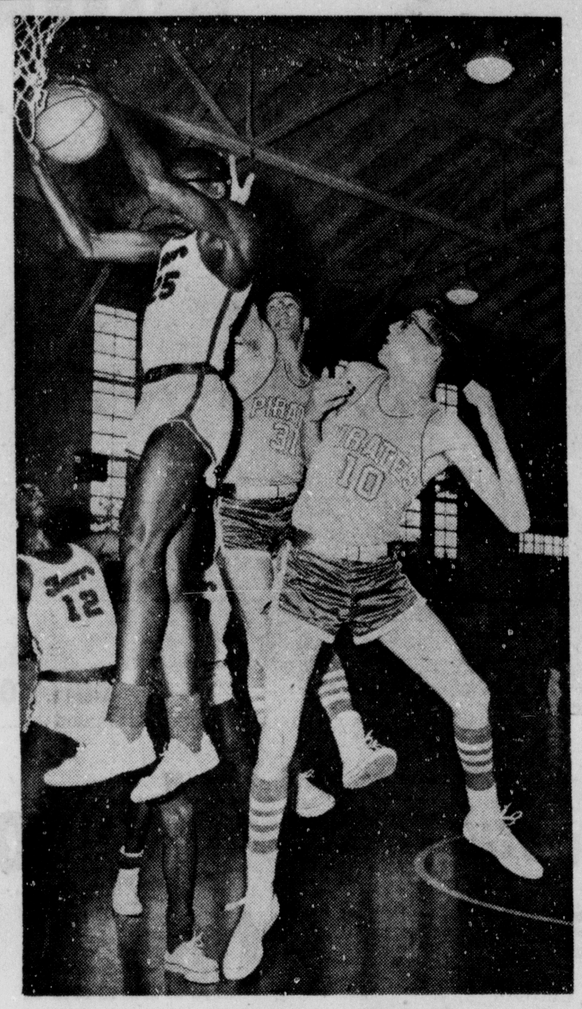
Day-Night Twin Bill At Single Game Price

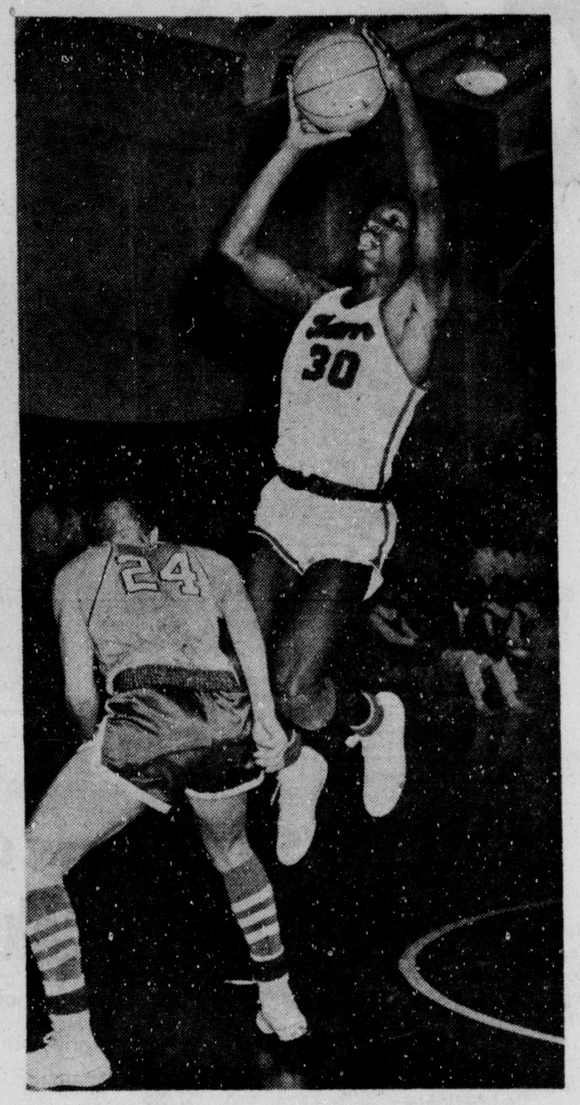
RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Richmond Virginians will open their International League baseball season here Wednesday, April 25, with a day-night double-header—at single-game prices.

"In reply to charges that baseball hasn't done anything different in 40 years, this certainly is one move which is not only different but which is accommodating to the fans," said Jerry Waring, general manager of the New York Yankees' triple-A farm club.

Terra Linda Loses

The Terra Linda Junior Varsity basketball team was beaten 47-26 yesterday by the San Rafael Jay Vees. Bill Pendergast scored 21 points for the winning team.





TAMALPAIS JUMPERS—In a Marin County Athletic League basketball game between Tamalpais and Sir Francis Drake high schools yesterday Tam's players looked like they were constantly airborne. Left, Tam's Art Foster goes high to take a rebound from Drake's defensive players Dave Manuel (31) and Bruce Ketron (10). Right Warren Domino, Tam guard, leaps high to score a jump shot in front of Drake's Mike Boero. Drake was edged by Tam, 38-32. (Jim Kean photos)

Marin Cats Defeat Redwood, Challenge S. R. For Pennant

A hot-firing Marin Catholic High School basketball team has set itself exclusively in second place and laid ground for a possible crack at first spot in the Marin County Athletic League standings.

The Wildcats did all this yesterday by outlasting the MCAL defending champion Redwood Giants 52-47.

It gave Marin three wins and a loss in the league. The Wildcats will clash Friday with San Rafael, league leader, with a 4-0 record. By defeating San Rafael coach Bernie Schneider's Wildcats would be in a tie with the Bulldogs for top berth. Redwood, now with a 2-2 record, will be facing Tam tomorrow in a fight for third spot.

In the exciting contest yesterday that went almost neck-and-neck to the wire, Marin led 12-9 in the first quarter, then Redwood surged to the front with 12 points in the second quarter to lead at halftime 21-17.

In the final second of the third period fans quivered as Wildcat guard Jerry Smith lofted a half-court field goal to tie the count 35-35.

SCORING SPREE

In both those final quarters, the Catholics were hotter than pistols. The Marin team scored 18 points in the third period and 17 in the fourth. Their hit per centage was well over 55. It broke a six-point spread coach Nick Hart's Giants had gathered in the third period.

The first half of the game was Redwood's. Giant guard Jay Johnson picked up 14 of Redwood's 21 points in that period. Star Smith only hit for two. He scored 16 points, however, in the second half. Johnson fired in seven. While Johnson and Grant Stephenson did most of Redwood's scoring, Schneider's first five players all came through well for Marin.

The Redwood Bs won their game, 44-42. Sam Mercer of the Giants was high man with 16 points. The Redwood Jay Vees also won, 34-31.

VARSITY SCORERS

Marin Catholic—Williams 4-2-10, Enos 4-0-8, Smith 6-6-18, O'Connell 2-4-8, Mankinson 4-0-8.

Tam Retains 3d Place In Cage League

Tamalpais Indian cagers held on to third spot in the Marin County Athletic League yesterday by just getting by winless Sir Francis Drake, 38-32.

The win gives the Tamites a 2-2, won-loss count and puts them in a tie with Redwood in the MCAL standings. Drake sunk deeper (0-4).

It was slow starting in the first period as Drake had the edge 5-4 at its conclusion. In the second period Indian Pete Bardea picked up six points while Warren Domino gave the game some pepper and hit and passed well. Bardea paced Tam with 14 points. Drake scrambled for nine counts in the second period, but could not get underway even in the third when the Pirates tallied five points to Tam's 14.

BUSCH STARS

Drake started to come around in the final period, but there was not enough time as Pirate Brad Busch pumped in eight points in those final minutes. It gave Busch the game's high point honors with 15.

Among the best defensive players of the game were Ellis Williams and Pete Bardea of Tam, and Mark Boero of Drake.

VARSITY SCORERS

Tam—Durbin 0-1-1, Williams 1-0-2, Foster 1-1-3, Bardea 7-0-14, Ford 1-0-2, Domino 3-2-8, Gilingham 4-0-8.

Foss Claims, AFL Ready For Title Playoff With NFL

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Commissioner Joe Foss of the American Football League again has thrown down the gauntlet to the older National Football League.

On the basis of a banner year in signing rookies and improved television money, Foss said the young AFL would be ready for championship contention with the NFL this fall.

"We're ready for a pro championship game with the National Football League right now," Foss said yesterday. And with another year of competition, he said, the AFL will be equal to the NFL, top to bottom.

Player Returns To Scene That Led Him To Riches

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — This was the week a year ago when South Africa's Gary Player started the surge that won him more money in 1961 than any other golfer collected.

Lightly regarded at the start of the 1961 San Francisco International Open, Player came from four strokes off the pace on a final day to shoot a six-under-par 65 for a 272 total winning the $9,000 first prize.

He shoots over the same Harding Park course starting Thursday in the $50,000 tournament. So far this year, he hasn't been pleased with his scores and didn't shoot well enough in the Bing Crosby even to reach the finals this week at Pebble Beach, Calif.

So he came here early for some practice, and yesterday finished with a pair of birdies for a one-under-par 70.

"The course was playing very heavy after the rain and snow, but the weather conditions were beautiful," he commented. He added he was putting very nicely compared with his recent work on the greens.

After his San Francisco victory, Player went on to become the first non-U.S. golfer to win the Masters title, and his $64,540.65 was the highest seasonal winnings for any golfer last year.

Today he will play in the pro-amateur preliminary as the pros get in their final pre-tournament work.

Bentley Hero In Seals' 4-3 Win Over Stampeders

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Calgary Stampeders will have to overcome one problem — namely, goalie Bev Bentley—if they are to turn the tables on the San Francisco Seals in a Western Hockey League clash tonight.

Bentley made 33 saves last night as the Seals beat the Stampeders 4-3 in the first of a two-game series at the Cow Palace.

Seal right wing Buddy Boone fired home the winning goal early in the final period. Ron Leopold scored for the Stampeders at 10:27 to make it 4-3.

The Stampeders kept the puck in front ofthe Seals' net for most of the remaining time but were unable to penetrate Bentley's stout defense.

Feller, Robinson Gain Hall Of Fame; Both Say It's Their Biggest Thrill

BOSTON (AP)—Jackie Robinson, first Negro to play in the major leagues, today is the first of his race ever elected to baseball's highest honor—its Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y.

The graying former Brooklyn Dodgers infielder was enshrined yesterday along with Bob Feller, the quiet farm boy from Iowa who blazed a fast ball through the American League for nearly 20 years.

Both won election to the hall the first time they were eligible, a five-year retirement from baseball being mandatory. It was the first time the Baseball Writers of America had named anyone on their first eligible shot since the original five — Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Walter Johnson, Honus Wagner and Christy Mathewson—were tapped in the first election, in 1936.

Candidates needed 75 per cent of the votes cast. Feller, now an insurance executive in Cleveland, received 150 votes.

Robinson, vice president of a restaurant and coffee company, got 124 votes, four more than the minimum needed.

"It's a once in a lifetime thrill, said Robinson at his Stamford, Conn., home. It's hard to describe my feelings fully at this time. I am pleased and honored. My family is so excited no one wants to eat."

Feller, typically, was less emotional but nevertheless just as thrilled.

"Naturally, I'm happy about it," he said. "But now it's almost as if I had nothing to look forward to—except going to Cooperstown this summer. I thought I might have to wait longer. Joe DiMaggio had to go around a couple of times. But then maybe the competition was rougher then."

Robinson broke baseball's color line in 1947. Branch Rickey, then general manager of the Dodgers, had startled the baseball world the year before when he signed Jackie to a Brooklyn farm contract. Robinson, who had been an outstanding football player for UCLA, was with the Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro American League at the time. He spent one year of seasoning at Montreal, leading the International League in batting and fielding and then joined Brooklyn as a second baseman.

Quiet, hard working and always both an offensive and defensive threat, Robinson flirted with the .300 mark his first two seasons and batted a lusty .342 in 1949 to lead the National League.

His fielding and baserunning always were joys to behold. In one season he committed only seven errors, still the major league record. He participated in 137 double plays that same season, 1951, setting a National League mark.

Jackie was the most feared baserunner around in the decade from the late '40s to the late '50s. Once he stole home in a World Series game.

"I think it was recognition purely on merit," Rickey said of his protege's selection to the Hall of Fame. "It is well deserved.

"I think it also means a lot to our whole country. We are in serious disrepute in some of our international relations, and I think this will help a lot. All of our people should be very happy."

Feller was a 17-year-old farm boy who had sharpened his eye by throwing at a bullseye painted on a barn when he arrived in the majors in 1936. He was what the game needed—a blazing fastball pitcher who packed in the crowds.

Twenty years later — with three years out for Navy service during World War II in his pitching prime—Rapid Robert Feller had compiled 266 victories.

Among those wins were three no-hitters, a dozen one-hitters. Only two other pitchers had three no-hit games. No other ever tossed 12 one-hit jobs.

As exciting as Feller's low-hit games were, his strikeouts were even more dramatic. He struck out 2,581 batters, including 15 in his first major league starting job.

"Feller must be ranged among the top five pitchers I ever faced," says American League President Joe Cronin. "Everybody talked about his fast ball but he had a tremendous curve."

Six times Feller won 20 or more games. His high came in 1940 when he notched 27 triumphs. He set the modern mark of 18 strikeouts in a nine-inning game against Detroit, Oct. 2, 1938, though Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers since has tied the record. Feller's 348 strikeouts in 1946 still stands as a major league mark.

The two baseball greats were the first elected to the Hall of Fame by the writers in their biennial polls since 1956 when Cronin and Hank Greenberg were chosen. Billy Hamilton and Max Carey were elected last year by a special "Old Timers" committee.

FAIRFAX STORE: SIR FRANCIS DRAKE & PASTORI

CANDLESTICK IS COLD, JURY AGREES

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A municipal court has ordered the San Francisco Giants to return lawyer Melvin Belli the $1,597 he paid to shiver through the 1960 baseball season at Candlestick Park.

Belli sued the Giants for the price of a season ticket because they did not deliver the promised heat to his box seat.

His suit was supported 11-1 by the jury yesterday after 20 minutes of deliberation.

Belli, well known San Francisco lawyer, had testified that the situation was so bad that he could not give away tickets for Giants games.

He said that when he went to a game "I wore long underwear, a parka and heavy socks, but I had to leave anyway. I felt no heat in my box at any time."

GIANTS TO APPEAL

He pleaded for "a return to the good old American principle of morality."

Giants' attorney Morris Doyle said that the Giants would appeal the decision.

The Giants' Candlestick Park has come under much criticism for its windy location, but this was the first time anyone had sought legal redress for wind and cold.

An expensive heating system was built into the park, but customers have complained that it has so far been ineffectual.

A CUTIE FOR HIS COOK

Lucas Cinch To Turn Pro, Says Mikan

NEW YORK (AP) — George Mikan, a former great himself, hailed Ohio State's Jerry Lucas as one of the outstanding basketball players of all time, and a cinch to turn professional.

Lucas, a two-time All-America and star of the champion Olympic team in 1960, has indicated in the past that he may enter business after he graduates in June and pass up pro ball.

The Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association, who already have two of the NBA's best in Oscar Robertson (Lucas' teammate on the Olympic squad) and Jack Twyman, are eager to pay Jerry a fortune to play with them.

"Will he turn pro?" said Mikan in repeating a question—"There's no question in my mind that he will. He's already gotten himself an agent in the guy that handles golfer Jack Nicklaus. If you're not going to play for money what do you need an agent for?"

Mikan, now 37, was picked as the greatest basketball player of the half century in an Associated Press poll in 1950. He first starred at DePaul and then with the Minneapolis Lakers. He quit playing in 1954 after hanging up many scoring records. Mikan, a lawyer in Minnepolis, was interviewed while in New York this week.

Celts Bomb L.A. Lakers

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Playing the Boston Celtics is like sitting on a powder keg—your hopes are liable to go up in smoke at any moment.

The Celtics gave another performance of their explosive ability last night when they downed the Los Angeles Lakers, 118-103. In a game between the Eastern and Western division leaders of the National Basketball Assn.

The Celtics fell behind by 11 points but went on a spurt that cut Los Angeles' lead to 26-24. They tied the score at 30-30 in the first minute of the second period and raced to a 62-50 halftime advantage. The Lakers pulled to within nine points with 8:42 left in the game but the Celtics responded with an 11-3 splurge that iced the contest.

It was Boston's 38th win in 47 games and boosted its lead over the second-place Philadelphia Warriors to 10 games.

The Chicago Packers defeated the New York Knickerbockers, 109-103, and the St. Louis Hawks scored a 115-107 victory over the Syracuse Nationals in other games.

The Cincinnati Reds, National League champions, have 14 rookies on their 1962 roster.

Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns has won the National Football League rushing title the last five seasons.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
IJ Fish and Game Writer

Northern California Fishermen Make Our Writer Eat His Words

STEVENS

I plead guilty to the crime of having, in the past, labeled all Bay Area anglers as softies. I humbly retract that calumny.

The reason? Driving across the Bay Bridge on the way to San Francisco we passed a number of cars with snow on the roofs and trunks. The hills south of the city were conspicuous from patches of snow. The north wind that struck us as we left the car at San Rafael made our teeth chatter. The wind frosted the bay waters with white caps. I told the wife: "No fishing today. Only an Eskimo could take this sort of weather and water."

I was mistaken. While crossing the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, I stared in amazement. Clustered not far from San Quentin Point and opposite Red Rock were some 40 boats slowly moving back and forth—cruisers, party boats and skiffs. So it behooved me to learn the reason for the armada.

The answer was plain. In spite of stiffened fingers and shivering bodies, those boats were peopled by native Californians in pursuit or fish.

They were getting them, too. Lots of them. One boat out of the Berkeley Harbor, the Troller, was back in port by 1:30 p.m. (Sunday) with seven limits to 20 pounds. The Troller, I learned, had done about the same good job on Saturday—six passengers, six limits to 12 pounds, at Red Rock.

The book at Lee Anderson's Bait Shop in Oakland listed the Ge-Ge with five limits to 15 pounds on Saturday in the California City region, the Sea Bee had four limits for four anglers to 12 pounds in the Red Rock area, and the R.S.P. netted six limits in the same sector.

The fish were found on the bottom as expected and it seems that the anticipated runs of bass in January has materialized.

Talking to Garth Reynolds of Caruso's Sausalito spot, I learned that the fishing is not confined to the Red Rock sector, but that fishing has been active in many spots such as Red Rock, Racoon Strait, Richardson Bay (at the mouth) as well as Richardson Bay proper and around Alcatraz.

Joe Nerviani, of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia, reported an epic adventure by one of his customers, Al Lockett. Al, with two buddies, hooked, played and landed a sturgeon measuring 70 inches and weighing 85 pounds. Our hero was using a light tackel outfit with a No. 2 hook on a 15-pound test line. The hook broke as the big fish was alongside the boat; Al grabbed it by the tail and wrestled it aboard. Because of rough water and a fear that he might lose his prize, Al put in at China Camp and left the sturgeon there while he drove his boat to Joe's Place, and, then in his car, hurried back to China Camp for the sturgeon.

So, to any of my readers who were among those who braved the wintry blasts of the past two days and fished: Please accept by apologies for the appelation of "softies."

A.L. Slates Early Start

BOSTON (AP)—The American League has an unusually early 1962 opener, April 9, at Washington's new baseball stadium.

The schedule, announced by President Joe Cronin, lists Detroit at Washington for the traditional opener.

The new Washington park also will be the site of the first All- Star game July 10. The second All-Star tilt is scheduled for Chicago's Wrigley Field July 30.

Los Angeles launches its second year of A.L. membership by moving to the Chavez Ravine.

Two managers make their debuts. Billy Hitchcock succeeds Paul Richards at Baltimore. The latter left to become general manager of the new Houston franchise in the National League.

Mel McGaha is the new Cleveland pilot, succeeding Jimmy Dykes, now a Milwaukee Braves coach.

Ford Voted Ruth Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees will receive the Babe Ruth Award this Sunday at the 39th annual dinner of the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association.

The 33-year-old southpaw was selected yesterday by the chapter as the outstanding performer in the 1961 World Series.

Ford earned the award with two victories over the Cincinnati Reds in the series. He hurled 14 scoreless innings to extend his string of runless frames to 32. This bettered Ruth's record of 29⅔ innings.

Lucky Golf Faces D-D-Deep F-F-F-reeze

The touring golf professionals, once upon a time labelled the "follow the sun" guys, jump from the ice box into the deep freeze tomorrow when they open play in the $50,000 Lucky International tournament at San Francisco.

The weather man says it will be "fair," but the thermometer may be down around freezing —and the wind will be from 10 to 20 miles an hour.

After battling rain and ice in San Diego; snow, slush, wind and rain at Pebble Beach, however, the golfers are just about ready for anything.

If there is a favorite for this tournament, it has to be young Phil Rodgers, the 23-year-old La Jolla, Calif., shotmaker who definitely is headed for "rookie of the year" honors.

Phil is the leading money-winner of the short 1962 campaign. He has pocketed $9,720 in official earnings, including the championship of the Los Angeles Open and a strong third place in the Bing Crosby affair which ended Monday.

The other leading money winners this year are:

—Tommy Jacobs, who won the San Diego Open, and picked up good chunks of cash in Los Angeles and Pebble Beach, with $5,960 to his credit.

—Doug Ford, a great scrambler and rough weather player, who won at Pebble, $5,300 won.

CAMPBELL CONSISTENT

—Joe Campbell, who has been consistent with $4,746 won in the first three weeks, including second at Pebble Beach.

The defending champion is South Africa's Gary Player, but Gary has been a bit off his stick. He failed to make the cut at the Crosby clambake; picked up $900 in San Diego and only $155 in Los Angeles for a $1,055 total. He was the leading money-winner last year, with more than $65,000 to his credit.

The great Arnold Palmer has not been exactly a ball of fire on the tour of this year, either. The British Open champion won more than $63,000 last year and has to his credit so far $1,655 this season and has not been a big threat in any of the three tournaments.

Doug Sanders, who also won more than $60,000 last year, is going about at the same speed with $1,605 earnings.

The Lucky International, which always attracts big foreign fields, this time also gets Bernard Hunt, the great British star who has been doing better than the average foreigner. He has won $1,550 so far.

Play is over the Harding Park course, a municipal layout, that is an exacting test. Heavily lined with trees, the course plays especially long after rains. And it has had plenty of "wet" in recent days.

Very Few Collegiate Athletes Today Are Amateurs At Heart

HANLEY

It wasn't so long ago that young men endowed with athletic talents participated in college sports primarily for the honor of winning a coveted varsity letter. Nowadays, it seems that most of them are serving four or less years in the amateur ranks until the time comes for converting college reputations into cold cash.

Certainly there is nothing wrong with that attitude but it would be nice to see a resurgence of a true collegiate amateur spirit. Few college stars now are real amateurs at heart in the sense Bobby Jones was an amateur.

In Jones' era, there were few college men in pro golfing ranks. Now, most of the recent recruits on the tournament trail are college men. The lucrative prize money, of course, is responsible.

The tournament golf picture has been improving every year. In 1961, for example, purses on the tour totaled $1,800,000. That record figure is expected to go even higher this year. Can't blame a college man for leveling his sights on that kind of loot.

"In 1961," says Jim Caquin, PGA tournament manager who is a college man himself, "there were 48 regulation 72-hole tournaments, not counting the five on the Caribbean Tour, and nearly 60 pro-am events.

"The growing purses have proved irresistible to virtually every young player with ability. Pro golf now has more good players than ever. It is now possible for a sponsor to lack some of the 'names' and still have a great tournament.

"The PGA tournament schedule now is full and there is keen competition among some cities for certain dates. While this works to the players' advantage, the PGA regrets it cannot bring big league golf to every city interested in it.

"Relations between tournament players and sponsors never have been better, a most encouraging sign from the PGA's standpoint in view of the fact that every player is his own agent."

A college trained man should be able to negotiate his own deals. Saves the customary agent's fee.

"In my days," recalls Byron Nelson, "boys came from the caddy ranks. They started when they were 13 or 14 years old, and by 20 were apprentice pros. Now, most of the young pros are college graduates."

San Rafael Blasts Novato Five, 71-43

The Marin County Athletic League leading San Rafael Bulldogs slapped the Novato Hornets all over the court yesterday, and the final wound was 71-43.

San Rafael's 6-foot-2 forward Rod Monti showed he is on the comeback trail after so much bench time from injuries. He stacked up 21 points for San Rafael yesterday. The other big gunner of the game was Novato's Joe Colfer who again carried the Hornets on his back. He tallied 18 for the contest. Colfer did most of the work on eight field goals, and Monti on six FGs and nine charities.

San Rafael threw an opening blow of 21 to Novato's 3 points in the first quarter. Then Bulldog coach Mike Diaz ran in his reserve team, Monti excepted, and Novato's Colfer hit five straight field goals against it. It was the only period Novato outscored San Rafael. The Hornets put up a good fight, however, in the third period, scoring only one point less than the Bulldogs (14-13). But San Rafael took charge in the fourth quarter and tallied 20 to Novato's 8.

The San Rafael B's also came through with a victory: 38-36. High man for the Bulldogs was John Franzman with 14. Both teams had a rough time hitting the hole. For example, Novato took 65 shots, hit 15 per cent of them.

Day-Night Twin Bill At Single Game Price

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Richmond Virginians will open their International League baseball season here Wednesday, April 25, with a day-night double-header—at single-game prices.

"In reply to charges that baseball hasn't done anything different in 40 years, this certainly is one move which is not only different but which is accommodating to the fans," said Jerry Waring, general manager of the New York Yankees' triple-A farm club.

The Terra Linda Junior Varsity basketball team was beaten 47-26 yesterday by the San Rafael Jay Vees. Bill Pendergast scored 21 points for the winning team.

Marin Cats Defeat Redwood, Challenge S. R. For Pennant

A hot-firing Marin Catholic High School basketball team has set itself exclusively in second place and laid ground for a possible crack at first spot in the Marin County Athletic League standings.

The Wildcats did all this yesterday by outlasting the MCAL defending champion Redwood Giants 52-47.

It gave Marin three wins and a loss in the league. The Wildcats will clash Friday with San Rafael, league leader, with a 4-0 record. By defeating San Rafael coach Bernie Schneider's Wildcats would be in a tie with the Bulldogs for top berth. Redwood, now with a 2-2 record, will be facing Tam tomorrow in a fight for third spot.

In the exciting contest yesterday that went almost neck-and-neck to the wire, Marin led 12-9 in the first quarter, then Redwood surged to the front with 12 points in the second quarter to lead at halftime 21-17.

In the final second of the third period fans quivered as Wildcat guard Jerry Smith lofted a half-court field goal to tie the count 35-35.

SCORING SPREE

In both those final quarters, the Catholics were hotter than pistols. The Marin team scored 18 points in the third period and 17 in the fourth. Their hit per centage was well over 55. It broke a six-point spread coach Nick Hart's Giants had gathered in the third period.

The first half of the game was Redwood's. Giant guard Jay Johnson picked up 14 of Redwood's 21 points in that period. Star Smith only hit for two. He scored 16 points, however, in the second half. Johnson fired in seven. While Johnson and Grant Stephenson did most of Redwood's scoring, Schneider's first five players all came through well for Marin.

The Redwood Bs won their game, 44-42. Sam Mercer of the Giants was high man with 16 points. The Redwood Jay Vees also won, 34-31.

Tam Retains 3d Place In Cage League

Tamalpais Indian cagers held on to third spot in the Marin County Athletic League yesterday by just getting by winless Sir Francis Drake, 38-32.

The win gives the Tamites a 2-2, won-loss count and puts them in a tie with Redwood in the MCAL standings. Drake sunk deeper (0-4).

It was slow starting in the first period as Drake had the edge 5-4 at its conclusion. In the second period Indian Pete Bardea picked up six points while Warren Domino gave the game some pepper and hit and passed well. Bardea paced Tam with 14 points. Drake scrambled for nine counts in the second period, but could not get underway even in the third when the Pirates tallied five points to Tam's 14.

BUSCH STARS

Drake started to come around in the final period, but there was not enough time as Pirate Brad Busch pumped in eight points in those final minutes. It gave Busch the game's high point honors with 15.

Among the best defensive players of the game were Ellis Williams and Pete Bardea of Tam, and Mark Boero of Drake.

Player Returns To Scene That Led Him To Riches

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — This was the week a year ago when South Africa's Gary Player started the surge that won him more money in 1961 than any other golfer collected.

Lightly regarded at the start of the 1961 San Francisco International Open, Player came from four strokes off the pace on a final day to shoot a six-under-par 65 for a 272 total winning the $9,000 first prize.

He shoots over the same Harding Park course starting Thursday in the $50,000 tournament. So far this year, he hasn't been pleased with his scores and didn't shoot well enough in the Bing Crosby even to reach the finals this week at Pebble Beach, Calif.

So he came here early for some practice, and yesterday finished with a pair of birdies for a one-under-par 70.

"The course was playing very heavy after the rain and snow, but the weather conditions were beautiful," he commented. He added he was putting very nicely compared with his recent work on the greens.

After his San Francisco victory, Player went on to become the first non-U.S. golfer to win the Masters title, and his $64,540.65 was the highest seasonal winnings for any golfer last year.

Today he will play in the pro-amateur preliminary as the pros get in their final pre-tournament work.

Foss Claims, AFL Ready For Title Playoff With NFL

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Commissioner Joe Foss of the American Football League again has thrown down the gauntlet to the older National Football League.

On the basis of a banner year in signing rookies and improved television money, Foss said the young AFL would be ready for championship contention with the NFL this fall.

"We're ready for a pro championship game with the National Football League right now," Foss said yesterday. And with another year of competition, he said, the AFL will be equal to the NFL, top to bottom.

Bentley Hero In Seals' 4-3 Win Over Stampeders

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Calgary Stampeders will have to overcome one problem — namely, goalie Bev Bentley— if they are to turn the tables on the San Francisco Seals in a Western Hockey League clash tonight.

Bentley made 33 saves last night as the Seals beat the Stampeders 4-3 in the first of a two-game series at the Cow Palace.

Seal right wing Buddy Boone fired home the winning goal early in the final period. Ron Leopold scored for the Stampeders at 10:27 to make it 4-3.

The Stampeders kept the puck in front of the Seals' net for most of the remaining time but were unable to penetrate Bentley's stout defense.

Feller, Robinson Gain Hall Of Fame; Both Say It's Their Biggest Thrill

BOSTON (AP)—Jackie Robinson, first Negro to play in the major leagues, today is the first of his race ever elected to baseball's highest honor—its Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y.

The graying former Brooklyn Dodgers infielder was enshrined yesterday along with Bob Feller, the quiet farm boy from Iowa who blazed a fast ball through the American League for nearly 20 years.

Both won election to the hall the first time they were eligible, a five-year retirement from baseball being mandatory. It was the first time the Baseball Writers of America had named anyone on their first eligible shot since the original five — Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Walter Johnson, Honus Wagner and Christy Mathewson—were tapped in the first election, in 1936.

Candidates needed 75 per cent of the votes cast. Feller, now an insurance executive in Cleveland, received 150 votes.

Robinson, vice president of a restaurant and coffee company, got 124 votes, four more than the minimum needed.

"It's a once in a lifetime thrill, said Robinson at his Stamford, Conn., home. It's hard to describe my feelings fully at this time. I am pleased and honored. My family is so excited no one wants to eat."

Feller, typically, was less emotional but nevertheless just as thrilled.

"Naturally, I'm happy about it," he said. "But now it's almost as if I had nothing to look forward to—except going to Cooperstown this summer. I thought I might have to wait longer. Joe DiMaggio had to go around a couple of times. But then maybe the competition was rougher then."

Robinson broke baseball's color line in 1947. Branch Rickey, then general manager of the Dodgers, had startled the baseball world the year before when he signed Jackie to a Brooklyn farm contract. Robinson, who had been an outstanding football player for UCLA, was with the Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro American League at the time. He spent one year of seasoning at Montreal, leading the International League in batting and fielding and then joined Brooklyn as a second baseman.

Quiet, hard working and always both an offensive and defensive threat, Robinson flirted with the .300 mark his first two seasons and batted a lusty .342 in 1949 to lead the National League.

His fielding and baserunning always were joys to behold. In one season he committed only seven errors, still the major league record. He participated in 137 double plays that same season, 1951, setting a National League mark.

Jackie was the most feared baserunner around in the decade from the late '40s to the late '50s. Once he stole home in a World Series game.

"I think it was recognition purely on merit," Rickey said of his protege's selection to the Hall of Fame. "It is well deserved.

"I think it also means a lot to our whole country. We are in serious disrepute in some of our international relations, and I think this will help a lot. All of our people should be very happy."

Feller was a 17-year-old farm boy who had sharpened his eye by throwing at a bullseye painted on a barn when he arrived in the majors in 1936. He was what the game needed—a blazing fastball pitcher who packed in the crowds.

Twenty years later — with three years out for Navy service during World War II in his pitching prime—Rapid Robert Feller had compiled 266 victories.

Among those wins were three no-hitters, a dozen one-hitters. Only two other pitchers had three no-hit games. No other ever tossed 12 one-hit jobs.

As exciting as Feller's low-hit games were, his strikeouts were even more dramatic. He struck out 2,581 batters, including 15 in his first major league starting job.

"Feller must be ranged among the top five pitchers I ever faced," says American League President Joe Cronin. "Everybody talked about his fast ball but he had a tremendous curve."

Six times Feller won 20 or more games. His high came in 1940 when he notched 27 triumphs. He set the modern mark of 18 strikeouts in a nine-inning game against Detroit, Oct. 2, 1938, though Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers since has tied the record. Feller's 348 strikeouts in 1946 still stands as a major league mark.

The two baseball greats were the first elected to the Hall of Fame by the writers in their biennial polls since 1956 when Cronin and Hank Greenberg were chosen. Billy Hamilton and Max Carey were elected last year by a special "Old Timers" committee.

CANDLESTICK IS COLD, JURY AGREES

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A municipal court has ordered the San Francisco Giants to return lawyer Melvin Belli the $1,597 he paid to shiver through the 1960 baseball season at Candlestick Park.

Belli sued the Giants for the price of a season ticket because they did not deliver the promised heat to his box seat.

His suit was supported 11-1 by the jury yesterday after 20 minutes of deliberation.

Belli, well known San Francisco lawyer, had testified that the situation was so bad that he could not give away tickets for Giants games.

He said that when he went to a game "I wore long underwear, a parka and heavy socks, but I had to leave anyway. I felt no heat in my box at any time."

GIANTS TO APPEAL

He pleaded for "a return to the good old American principle of morality."

Giants' attorney Morris Doyle said that the Giants would appeal the decision.

The Giants' Candlestick Park has come under much criticism for its windy location, but this was the first time anyone had sought legal redress for wind and cold.

An expensive heating system was built into the park, but customers have complained that it has so far been ineffectual.

Lucas Cinch To Turn Pro, Says Mikan

NEW YORK (AP) — George Mikan, a former great himself, hailed Ohio State's Jerry Lucas as one of the outstanding basketball players of all time, and a cinch to turn professional.

Lucas, a two-time All-America and star of the champion Olympic team in 1960, has indicated in the past that he may enter business after he graduates in June and pass up pro ball.

The Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association, who already have two of the NBA's best in Oscar Robertson (Lucas' teammate on the Olympic squad) and Jack Twyman, are eager to pay Jerry a fortune to play with them.

"Will he turn pro?" said Mikan in repeating a question—"There's no question in my mind that he will. He's already gotten himself an agent in the guy that handles golfer Jack Nicklaus. If you're not going to play for money what do you need an agent for?"

Mikan, now 37, was picked as the greatest basketball player of the half century in an Associated Press poll in 1950. He first starred at DePaul and then with the Minneapolis Lakers. He quit playing in 1954 after hanging up many scoring records. Mikan, a lawyer in Minnepolis, was interviewed while in New York this week.

Celts Bomb L.A. Lakers

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Playing the Boston Celtics is like sitting on a powder keg—your hopes are liable to go up in smoke at any moment.

The Celtics gave another performance of their explosive ability last night when they downed the Los Angeles Lakers, 118-103. In a game between the Eastern and Western division leaders of the National Basketball Assn.

The Celtics fell behind by 11 points but went on a spurt that cut Los Angeles' lead to 26-24. They tied the score at 30-30 in the first minute of the second period and raced to a 62-50 halftime advantage. The Lakers pulled to within nine points with 8:42 left in the game but the Celtics responded with an 11-3 splurge that iced the contest.

It was Boston's 38th win in 47 games and boosted its lead over the second-place Philadelphia Warriors to 10 games.

The Chicago Packers defeated the New York Knickerbockers, 109-103, and the St. Louis Hawks scored a 115-107 victory over the Syracuse Nationals in other games.

The Cincinnati Reds, National League champions, have 14 rookies on their 1962 roster.

Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns has won the National Football League rushing title the last five seasons.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
IJ Fish and Game Writer

STEVENS

I plead guilty to the crime of having, in the past, labeled all Bay Area anglers as softies. I humbly retract that calumny.

The reason? Driving across the Bay Bridge on the way to San Francisco we passed a number of cars with snow on the roofs and trunks. The hills south of the city were conspicuous from patches of snow. The north wind that struck us as we left the car at San Rafael made our teeth chatter. The wind frosted the bay waters with white caps. I told the wife: "No fishing today. Only an Eskimo could take this sort of weather and water."

I was mistaken. While crossing the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, I stared in amazement. Clustered not far from San Quentin Point and opposite Red Rock were some 40 boats slowly moving back and forth—cruisers, party boats and skiffs. So it behooved me to learn the reason for the armada.

The answer was plain. In spite of stiffened fingers and shivering bodies, those boats were peopled by native Californians in pursuit or fish.

They were getting them, too. Lots of them. One boat out of the Berkeley Harbor, the Troller, was back in port by 1:30 p.m. (Sunday) with seven limits to 20 pounds. The Troller, I learned, had done about the same good job on Saturday—six passengers, six limits to 12 pounds, at Red Rock.

The book at Lee Anderson's Bait Shop in Oakland listed the Ge-Ge with five limits to 15 pounds on Saturday in the California City region, the Sea Bee had four limits for four anglers to 12 pounds in the Red Rock area, and the R.S.P. netted six limits in the same sector.

The fish were found on the bottom as expected and it seems that the anticipated runs of bass in January has materialized.

Talking to Garth Reynolds of Caruso's Sausalito spot, I learned that the fishing is not confined to the Red Rock sector, but that fishing has been active in many spots such as Red Rock, Racoon Strait, Richardson Bay (at the mouth) as well as Richardson Bay proper and around Alcatraz.

Joe Nerviani, of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia, reported an epic adventure by one of his customers, Al Lockett. Al, with two buddies, hooked, played and landed a sturgeon measuring 70 inches and weighing 85 pounds. Our hero was using a light tackel outfit with a No. 2 hook on a 15-pound test line. The hook broke as the big fish was alongside the boat; Al grabbed it by the tail and wrestled it aboard. Because of rough water and a fear that he might lose his prize, Al put in at China Camp and left the sturgeon there while he drove his boat to Joe's Place, and, then in his car, hurried back to China Camp for the sturgeon.

So, to any of my readers who were among those who braved the wintry blasts of the past two days and fished: Please accept by apologies for the appelation of "softies."

A.L. Slates Early Start

BOSTON (AP)—The American League has an unusually early 1962 opener, April 9, at Washington's new baseball stadium.

The schedule, announced by President Joe Cronin, lists Detroit at Washington for the traditional opener.

The new Washington park also will be the site of the first All-Star game July 10. The second All-Star tilt is scheduled for Chicago's Wrigley Field July 30.

Los Angeles launches its second year of A.L. membership by moving to the Chavez Ravine.

Two managers make their debuts. Billy Hitchcock succeeds Paul Richards at Baltimore. The latter left to become general manager of the new Houston franchise in the National League.

Mel McGaha is the new Cleveland pilot, succeeding Jimmy Dykes, now a Milwaukee Braves coach.

Ford Voted Ruth Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees will receive the Babe Ruth Award this Sunday at the 39th annual dinner of the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association.

The 33-year-old southpaw was selected yesterday by the chapter as the outstanding performer in the 1961 World Series.

Ford earned the award with two victories over the Cincinnati Reds in the series. He hurled 14 scoreless innings to extend his string of runless frames to 32. This bettered Ruth's record of 29⅔ innings.

Chef's Supreme Pie Speciality

One specialty which members of the Marin Golf Club in Ignacio look forward to at the host of parties and buffets at the club is Marshmellow Supreme Pie, the favorite recipe of Chef Les Johnston.

Johnston served as chef at such hotels and restaurants as the Roosevelt Hotel in New Orleans and Highlands Inn in Carmel before coming to the Marin club. He has also served as location chef for many movies including "Shane" where he prepared all the food and acted as consultant on food and set-ups in the picture.

MARSHMALLOW
SUPREME PIE

Melt one pound of marshmallows in double boiler with 1 cup milk, cool until very thick. Add ½ cup chopped drained pineapple, ½ cup chopped pecans, and 1 pint whipped whipping cream. Mix well and pour into baked pie shell. (Graham carcker crust may be used, if desired.) Top with chopped nuts.

Mushroom Soup Rated A Favorite

Anyone who likes mushrooms is considered by many to be of fine tastes, a gourmet. Perhaps this is because a liking for mushrooms is relatively new for Americans, especially when you consider that the enjoyment of mushrooms dates back to Egyptian days. Our comparatively recent interest in mushrooms may be due to the fact that it was not until the latter part of the nineteenth century that the cultivation of mushrooms was begun in America.

A general taste for mushrooms began in this country, we venture to say, with the advent of mushroom soup. Yet, today, reports indicate that at least every other can of mushroom soup is used for cooking.

In Europe, where fresh mushrooms are more readily available than here, the people demand the fresh mushroom taste even in the mushroom soups they buy in the grocery store.

Best Foods, Division of Corn Products, is bringing the Knorr Soups, products of one of their famous European companies, to America. They are now being made in a new modern plant in Argo, Ill. Among them is their best selling Cream of Mushroom Soup which promises to be well received. It is a soup for soup drinkers. You can, of course, cook with the soup, too. Best Foods has developed several recipes for cooking with the new Knorr Cream of Mushroom Soup. Some recipes are on the packages of soup. You'll find the soups in continental looking light green boxes with a copper kettle as an identifying mark on each box. Each box contains two copper foil paks of soup with three to four servings per pak.

THE DANES ARE noted for their open faced sandwiches and flaky pastry, but when you mention Scandinavian foods, soup should be among them, for soup tureen appears at the table daily. According to Knorr, the makers of Europe's best selling soups, Cream of Mushroom Soup is a Scandinavian favorite. Among the seven new Knorr soups is this Cream of Mushroom Soup.

Next time you're preparing baked stuffed potatoes, mash the potato pulp with sour cream, butter and minced parsley; top with cheddar cheese and reheat until piping hot through and the tops are lightly browned.

Fascinating Cruisine Offered By The Greeks

Some of the most fascinating cooking goes on in families of Greek origin.

One of the best known of these dishes—probably because it's often found in restaurants throughout the country — is Greek Salad. Its chief ingredients are tomatoes, onions or scallions, green peppers, anchovies and black olives; sometimes cucumbers and salad greens are also added. The dressing consists of olive oil, lemon juice or wine vinegar, salt and pepper; that's all.

Knowing cooks say that the trick in making the salad is to cut up the ingredients instead of slicing them. When we make this salad we are careful to divest the tomatoes of their seeds and juice—but this may not be traditional! We also hasten to say that there are a number of versions of Greek Salad, so do not be surprised if you see varying recipes for it in cook books.

Mint is used in interesting ways in Greek cuisine. For example, it may flavor meat balls, snap beans or artichokes. Fresh mint is preferred, but we've seen dried mint substituted when the fresh isn't available.

Cinnamon is another favorite flavor. It's sometimes added to a chicken stewed in a tomato gravy.

Currants and nuts used alone or in combination are favored by Greek cooks. Together the dried fruit and nuts may go into a rice stuffing for baked tomatoes or a pastry.

The following recipe is a strictly American version of the famous Greek pastry called Baklava. By the way, we like this dessert reheated in the oven because it becomes slightly crusty in the process.

ERSATZ BAKLAVA

2 cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup light brown sugar
½ cup butter
2 eggs (separated)
1 cup chopped filberts
1 teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup honey
2 tablespoons hot water

Stir together the flour, salt and ½ cup of the brown sugar; cut in the butter until combined. Add the egg yolks; cut in with a pastry blender to make a smooth but pebbly mixture. Add unbeaten egg whites; stir until a dough forms. Divide dough into sixths. Roll out one portion at a time between two sheets of waxed paper to make a thin layer to fit the bottom of a baking pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches); chill; peel off waxed paper. If dough sticks, chill again before removing paper. Fit one layer of rolled dough into baking pan. Mix filberts, remaining ¼ cup brown sugar, and nutmeg; sprinkle a few tablespoons of this filling over the dough. Roll out and fit second layer of dough over filling; sprinkle with nut mixture; continue until all the pastry and filling are used, having top layer the nut mixture. Mix honey with hot water; pour a few tablespoons of mixture over top; bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 35 to 40 minutes. Serve warm with remaining honey mixture.

Chef's Supreme Pie Speciality

One specialty which members of the Marin Golf Club in Ignacio look forward to at the host of parties and buffets at the club is Marshmellow Supreme Pie, the favorite recipe of Chef Les Johnston.

Johnston served as chef at such hotels and restaurants as the Roosevelt Hotel in New Orleans and Highlands Inn in Carmel before coming to the Marin club. He has also served as location chef for many movies including "Shane" where he prepared all the food and acted as consultant on food and set-ups in the picture.

MARSHMALLOW
SUPREME PIE

Melt one pound of marshmallows in double boiler with 1 cup milk, cool until very thick. Add ½ cup chopped drained pineapple, ½ cup chopped pecans, and 1 pint whipped whipping cream. Mix well and pour into baked pie shell. (Graham carcker crust may be used, if desired.) Top with chopped nuts.

Mushroom Soup Rated A Favorite

Anyone who likes mushrooms is considered by many to be of fine tastes, a gourmet. Perhaps this is because a liking for mushrooms is relatively new for Americans, especially when you consider that the enjoyment of mushrooms dates back to Egyptian days. Our comparatively recent interest in mushrooms may be due to the fact that it was not until the latter part of the nineteenth century that the cultivation of mushrooms was begun in America.

A general taste for mushrooms began in this country, we venture to say, with the advent of mushroom soup. Yet, today, reports indicate that at least every other can of mushroom soup is used for cooking.

In Europe, where fresh mushrooms are more readily available than here, the people demand the fresh mushroom taste even in the mushroom soups they buy in the grocery store.

Best Foods, Division of Corn Products, is bringing the Knorr Soups, products of one of their famous European companies, to America. They are now being made in a new modern plant in Argo, Ill. Among them is their best selling Cream of Mushroom Soup which promises to be well received. It is a soup for soup drinkers. You can, of course, cook with the soup, too. Best Foods has developed several recipes for cooking with the new Knorr Cream of Mushroom Soup. Some recipes are on the packages of soup. You'll find the soups in continental looking light green boxes with a copper kettle as an identifying mark on each box. Each box contains two copper foil paks of soup with three to four servings per pak.

THE DANES ARE noted for their open faced sandwiches and flaky pastry, but when you mention Scandinavian foods, soup should be among them, for soup tureen appears at the table daily. According to Knorr, the makers of Europe's best selling soups, Cream of Mushroom Soup is a Scandinavian favorite. Among the seven new Knorr soups is this Cream of Mushroom Soup.

Baked Potatoes

Next time you're preparing baked stuffed potatoes, mash the potato pulp with sour cream, butter and minced parsley; top with cheddar cheese and reheat until piping hot through and the tops are lightly browned.

Fascinating Cruisine Offered By The Greeks

Some of the most fascinating cooking goes on in families of Greek origin.

One of the best known of these dishes—probably because it's often found in restaurants throughout the country — is Greek Salad. Its chief ingredients are tomatoes, onions or scallions, green peppers, anchovies and black olives; sometimes cucumbers and salad greens are also added. The dressing consists of olive oil, lemon juice or wine vinegar, salt and pepper; that's all.

Knowing cooks say that the trick in making the salad is to cut up the ingredients instead of slicing them. When we make this salad we are careful to divest the tomatoes of their seeds and juice—but this may not be traditional! We also hasten to say that there are a number of versions of Greek Salad, so do not be surprised if you see varying recipes for it in cook books.

Mint is used in interesting ways in Greek cuisine. For example, it may flavor meat balls, snap beans or artichokes. Fresh mint is preferred, but we've seen dried mint substituted when the fresh isn't available.

Cinnamon is another favorite flavor. It's sometimes added to a chicken stewed in a tomato gravy.

Currants and nuts used alone or in combination are favored by Greek cooks. Together the dried fruit and nuts may go into a rice stuffing for baked tomatoes or a pastry.

The following recipe is a strictly American version of the famous Greek pastry called Baklava. By the way, we like this dessert reheated in the oven because it becomes slightly crusty in the process.

ERSATZ BAKLAVA

2 cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup light brown sugar
½ cup butter
2 eggs (separated)
1 cup chopped filberts
1 teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup honey
2 tablespoons hot water

Stir together the flour, salt and ½ cup of the brown sugar; cut in the butter until combined. Add the egg yolks; cut in with a pastry blender to make a smooth but pebbly mixture. Add unbeaten egg whites; stir until a dough forms. Divide dough into sixths. Roll out one portion at a time between two sheets of waxed paper to make a thin layer to fit the bottom of a baking pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches); chill; peel off waxed paper. If dough sticks, chill again before removing paper. Fit one layer of rolled dough into baking pan. Mix filberts, remaining ¼ cup brown sugar, and nutmeg; sprinkle a few tablespoons of this filling over the dough. Roll out and fit second layer of dough over filling; sprinkle with nut mixture; continue until all the pastry and filling are used, having top layer the nut mixture. Mix honey with hot water; pour a few tablespoons of mixture over top; bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 35 to 40 minutes. Serve warm with remaining honey mixture.

Vanguards Schedule Program To Brighten Spring Menus

The Vanguards of the City of Hope, North Marin's chapter of the National City of Hope, have scheduled a program designed to brighten the spring menus of all would-be gourmets and housewives who are tired of cooking the same old "meat and potato" meals.

Starting Jan. 31 at the Bernard Hoffman School in Terra Linda, the Vanguards will present Paul Mayer, well-known culinary artist, in a series of three demonstrations in the art of Cordon Bleu cookery. Mayer attended the Cordon Bleu cooking schools in Paris and New York. He travels to Europe annually to bring back new and unusual dishes for his demonstrations.

The series of local demonstrations will run for three consecutive Wednesdays Jan. 31, Feb. 7 and Feb. 14. Mayer will prepare a different gourmet dinner each evening and will encourage questions from the audience during performances. Mrs. Steven Bauer, chairman of the series, said that the gourmet dinners will be given away each evening.

Tickets will be sold for the complete series or per night. The sessions will run from 8 until 10 p.m. All proceeds from the demonstrations will go to the Donald Russ Memorial Fund of the City of Hope.

Tickets are handled by Mrs. Lloyd Duggan, 611 Las Colindas Rd., Terra Linda, or Mrs. Harold Newman, 627 Tanbark Ter., Terra Linda.

Carefully Chosen Accessory Adds Distinction Says de Vries

It is the carefully chosen accessory, perhaps an unusual antique, a well framed print, or an outstanding lamp that adds the touch of distinction to any well decorated room.

However, as John de Vries, guest interior designer at the Designer's Showcase luncheon-program at Sabella's Monday, pointed out, this aspect of interior design is too often neglected or avoided by the homeowner. In considering the thousands of dollars invested in its furnishings, a proportional amount should be considered in the decorating budget in order to acquire accent pieces that reflect the individual's personality and taste.

Speaking before a capacity crowd at the unique benefit sponsored by the Grape Booth Guild of Sunny Hills, de Vries delighted his audience with a commentary sparked with humor. His discussion touched on highlights and new features that the homeowner would see develop in 1962 in the carpets, draperies, furniture and fabrics fields.

Synthetic materials for carpeting have made great strides in development and in 1961, nylon carpeting outsold wool floor-coverings. In draperies, probably the most important feature, regardless of style or fabric, is that they be well made. The trend away from heavily designed fabrics continues because of view window homes, and attention seems now directed to the variety of linens on the market. Guests were shown samples of a fine Irish imported linen available in solid tones as well as a fabric of the same texture that had a dainty leaf pattern. Many color combinations were for the choosing. It was suggested that the plain material be used in the living room and an adjoining dining area window treated with the printed.

Furniture in proportion to the room size and in relation to other pieces is a prime requisite and a more interesting room is achieved by coordinating period pieces rather than using all one style. A small sized chest in the Italian Provincial style was one of the pieces displayed on the stage area to illustrate this point.

Several question and answer periods were held during the commentary, the queries ranged from the importance of color plans to what was the most satisfactory type of cushion construction. The color question, always based on individual tastes, was best answered by the designer's beautiful display of a Spanish imported Manta Rug (in turquoise and black) accented with swatches of gold, leaf green, citron yellow and apricot, which showed the many variations possible. Spring construction is still the most highly recommended but the new combination of polyfoam wrapped in dacron seems far superior.

Yacht Club Auxiliary Plans Events

The Sausalito Yacht Club Women's Auxiliary has planned several events for the year. The first will be the annual spring fashion show to be the evening of Feb. 17 at the Sausalito Yacht Club under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Whitaker, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Beringer.

In June there will be a "49er Night" with decor and games following this theme.

On Aug. 19 there will be a "Crazy Race" and barbecue, and Sept. 19 and 30 have been chosen for the annual rummage Sale. The children's Christmas party will be on Dec. 16.

Last year's program to teach auxiliary members to sail was considered such a success that the sailing program is being continued this year under the leadership of Mrs. Louis Wilkinson.

Bridge lessons are in session now with the group meeting on the first and fourth Thursdays.

Mothers, Remember It's You Who Serve To Influence Your Sons

This is especially for mothers of little boys. Mama, you are the greatest woman in the world. Your son worships you. Did you know that?

Already you have taught him the most important lesson in life. It came while he was a tiny baby. You taught him that he was safe in your love. Nothing could hurt him because you protected him. His world was a friendly, good place. Now he feels self-confident and secure.

He is anxious to please you, even when he is bad. He resists you sometimes. He has strong primitive impulses. He must learn to control them. You're elected to teach him how, and it is not easy. But beneath his resistance he depends on you, and knows it.

Your boy is learning about females. He judges all of them by the standard you set. He learns more from what you do than what you say. But your words still are important. When he is 8 or 9 he'll become a woman hater, except for you. Girls will irritate him. He'll live in a rugged, masculine world. But he'll still look to you for guidance.

In his teens he will discover that girls are nice after all. He'll fall in and out of love. He'll be happy or blue, depending on his girl friends. But throughout he'll favor the ones who remind him of you. When he seeks a bride he'll try to get a girl like the girl who married dear old dad.

At death's door he may try to return to your arms. In agony he may call to you for help. "Mama, mama, where are you?" "Mama, I need you!" God bless you, mama, and your little boy.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My husband says our son should be able to stay out all hours, and go where he pleases. Yet he thinks our daughter should be strictly chaperoned and controlled. Do you agree?"

Mrs. R.A.S.

(A) No, I don't. Boys' welfare is just as important as girls'. Reasonably high standards should be applied to both sexes.

Vanguards Schedule Program To Brighten Spring Menus

The Vanguards of the City of Hope, North Marin's chapter of the National City of Hope, have scheduled a program designed to brighten the spring menus of all would-be gourmets and housewives who are tired of cooking the same old "meat and potato" meals.

Starting Jan. 31 at the Bernard Hoffman School in Terra Linda, the Vanguards will present Paul Mayer, well-known culinary artist, in a series of three demonstrations in the art of Cordon Bleu cookery. Mayer attended the Cordon Bleu cooking schools in Paris and New York. He travels to Europe annually to bring back new and unusual dishes for his demonstrations.

The series of local demonstrations will run for three consecutive Wednesdays Jan. 31, Feb. 7 and Feb. 14. Mayer will prepare a different gourmet dinner each evening and will encourage questions from the audience during performances. Mrs. Steven Bauer, chairman of the series, said that the gourmet dinners will be given away each evening.

Tickets will be sold for the complete series or per night. The sessions will run from 8 until 10 p.m. All proceeds from the demonstrations will go to the Donald Russ Memorial Fund of the City of Hope.

Tickets are handled by Mrs. Lloyd Duggan, 611 Las Colindas Rd., Terra Linda, or Mrs. Harold Newman, 627 Tanbark Ter., Terra Linda.

Effect Of Television On Youth Topic Of District CCPT Meeting

The state of television has received governmental attention with hearings opening yesterday before the Federal Communications Commission, led by Newton Minow, its chairman.

And closer to home one aspect of television—its possible harmful impact on young minds—was singled out by the 14th District, comprising Marin and Sonoma, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, as subject for its meeting in Santa Rosa Thursday.

"Are Films and Television Harmful to Our Children?" was the topic for discussion by James Day, general manager of educational television station KQED; Mrs. Ruth B. Hedges of Los Angeles, motion picture preview chairman for the California Congress of Parents and Teachers; George Saleebey, chief of the Division of Probation and Delinquency Prevention Services, California Youth Authority; and Dennis Kennedy, director of public relations for the Northern California Theater Assn. Panel moderator was Dr. Mitchel Soso, assistant superintendent of Santa Rosa City Schools.

Speaking for the film industry, Kennedy said that the motion picture production code was initiated in the 1930s as censorship by the industry itself to forestall possible governmental intervention and that this system remains in effect. He said that the individuals in it but not the industry as such feel responsibility to the nation's children, and he stated that "the great majority of people making and producing films are upstanding individuals who keep this responsibility in mind."

This is enough to assure that the conditions will be well handled, he said. Kennedy explained that all scripts are presented to the motion picture code board, though he said, certain independent producers do not abide by the code even though the great majority do.

Mrs. Hedges, who attends previews in Hollywood to review new films for the CCPT publication, said that parents must become interested in seeing the films their children see. "We're not going to the movies enough," she said, adding that most people don't see all the fine films that are made.

She said that she remembered a time when the motion picture code was enforced and when the industry "accepted responsibility for the values it presented."

TEEN-AGE STARS

Mrs. Hedges said that the great indictment of the motion picture industry was that it now "uses teen-age stars in highly questionable situations, uses material that is not ethical, but makes pictures for young audiences."

She said, "the industry knows that youth makes up half the audiences. It wants children in the audience," she stated, and it will "fight legislation to keep them out."

"I feel that the industry has got us into a corner, and the only escape is to say to them, 'you shall not do this to our children,'" she concluded.

Speaking for the Youth Authority, Saleebey said that for the past six years juvenile crime rate has remained on a plateau, neither increasing nor decreasing. However, he said that generally his colleagues feel that there has been an increase in brutality and in senseless crimes by juveniles, though he had no statistics to cite.

He said that children need guidance in their use of television and that parents should ask themselves, whether their child is learning from television or escaping responsibility through its use.

Saleebey said that in 1957 the California Youth Authority director asked the staff for direct examples of television and films causing damage in children and that response was meager because the staff did not wish to hypothecate instances. Their chief agreement was that television and movies made violence look so easy and impermanent and children cannot distinguish between what is real and unreal.

CITES A CASE

One example he cited was a case in which a boy stabbed another with an ice pick but felt justifited because he hadn't stabbed him in the heart. The boy said he just wanted to hurt the other a little bit and in television the hero gets up again, Saleebey related.

He concluded that parents should band together to get across the idea that either there should be "good movies and television or no movies and television."

James Day, educational television station manager, said that studies cannot show direct evidence that television and film violence have direct influence on delinquency, and that there is a strong temptation to give television as a cause rather than a symptom of present day society.

He said that television is largely a parental responsibility and parents must lead in this area, giving viewing guidance to their children. Television provides an unreal world for children, he said, and that it should not be used as a baby sitter. To a child that is already disturbed, television violence may be a catalyst, Day remarked. He suggested that parents have their children keep logs of what they watch and give subjective evaluations of them as a means of teaching. At its best, he said, television is a window to the world and can open new vistas for children.

Carefully Chosen Accessory Adds Distinction Says de Vries

It is the carefully chosen accessory, perhaps an unusual antique, a well framed print, or an outstanding lamp that adds the touch of distinction to any well decorated room.

However, as John de Vries, guest interior designer at the Designer's Showcase luncheon-program at Sabella's Monday, pointed out, this aspect of interior design is too often neglected or avoided by the homeowner. In considering the thousands of dollars invested in its furnishings, a proportional amount should be considered in the decorating budget in order to acquire accent pieces that reflect the individual's personality and taste.

Speaking before a capacity crowd at the unique benefit sponsored by the Grape Booth Guild of Sunny Hills, de Vries delighted his audience with a commentary sparked with humor. His discussion touched on highlights and new features that the homeowner would see develop in 1962 in the carpets, draperies, furniture and fabrics fields.

Synthetic materials for carpeting have made great strides in development and in 1961, nylon carpeting outsold wool floor-coverings. In draperies, probably the most important feature, regardless of style or fabric, is that they be well made. The trend away from heavily designed fabrics continues because of view window homes, and attention seems now directed to the variety of linens on the market. Guests were shown samples of a fine Irish imported linen available in solid tones as well as a fabric of the same texture that had a dainty leaf pattern. Many color combinations were for the choosing. It was suggested that the plain material be used in the living room and an adjoining dining area window treated with the printed.

Furniture in proportion to the room size and in relation to other pieces is a prime requisite and a more interesting room is achieved by coordinating period pieces rather than using all one style. A small sized chest in the Italian Provincial style was one of the pieces displayed on the stage area to illustrate this point.

Several question and answer periods were held during the commentary, the queries ranged from the importance of color plans to what was the most satisfactory type of cushion construction. The color question, always based on individual tastes, was best answered by the designer's beautiful display of a Spanish imported Manta Rug (in turquoise and black) accented with swatches of gold, leaf green, citron yellow and apricot, which showed the many variations possible. Spring construction is still the most highly recommended but the new combination of polyfoam wrapped in dacron seems far superior.

Yacht Club Auxiliary Plans Events

The Sausalito Yacht Club Women's Auxiliary has planned several events for the year. The first will be the annual spring fashion show to be the evening of Feb. 17 at the Sausalito Yacht Club under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Whitaker, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Beringer.

In June there will be a "49er Night" with decor and games following this theme.

On Aug. 19 there will be a "Crazy Race" and barbecue, and Sept. 19 and 30 have been chosen for the annual rummage Sale. The children's Christmas party will be on Dec. 16.

Last year's program to teach auxiliary members to sail was considered such a success that the sailing program is being continued this year under the leadership of Mrs. Louis Wilkinson.

Bridge lessons are in session now with the group meeting on the first and fourth Thursdays.

Mothers, Remember It's You Who Serve To Influence Your Sons

This is especially for mothers of little boys. Mama, you are the greatest woman in the world. Your son worships you. Did you know that?

Already you have taught him the most important lesson in life. It came while he was a tiny baby. You taught him that he was safe in your love. Nothing could hurt him because you protected him. His world was a friendly, good place. Now he feels self-confident and secure.

He is anxious to please you, even when he is bad. He resists you sometimes. He has strong primitive impulses. He must learn to control them. You're elected to teach him how, and it is not easy. But beneath his resistance he depends on you, and knows it.

Your boy is learning about females. He judges all of them by the standard you set. He learns more from what you do than what you say. But your words still are important. When he is 8 or 9 he'll become a woman hater, except for you. Girls will irritate him. He'll live in a rugged, masculine world. But he'll still look to you for guidance.

In his teens he will discover that girls are nice after all. He'll fall in and out of love. He'll be happy or blue, depending on his girl friends. But throughout he'll favor the ones who remind him of you. When he seeks a bride he'll try to get a girl like the girl who married dear old dad.

At death's door he may try to return to your arms. In agony he may call to you for help. "Mama, mama, where are you?" "Mama, I need you!" God bless you, mama, and your little boy.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My husband says our son should be able to stay out all hours, and go where he pleases. Yet he thinks our daughter should be strictly chaperoned and controlled. Do you agree?"

Mrs. R.A.S.

(A) No, I don't. Boys' welfare is just as important as girls'. Reasonably high standards should be applied to both sexes.

Effect Of Television On Youth Topic Of District CCPT Meeting

The state of television has received governmental attention with hearings opening yesterday before the Federal Communications Commission, led by Newton Minow, its chairman.

And closer to home one aspect of television—its possible harmful impact on young minds—was singled out by the 14th District, comprising Marin and Sonoma, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, as subject for its meeting in Santa Rosa Thursday.

"Are Films and Television Harmful to Our Children?" was the topic for discussion by James Day, general manager of educational television station KQED; Mrs. Ruth B. Hedges of Los Angeles, motion picture preview chairman for the California Congress of Parents and Teachers; George Saleebey, chief of the Division of Probation and Delinquency Prevention Services, California Youth Authority; and Dennis Kennedy, director of public relations for the Northern California Theater Assn. Panel moderator was Dr. Mitchel Soso, assistant superintendent of Santa Rosa City Schools.

Speaking for the film industry, Kennedy said that the motion picture production code was initiated in the 1930s as censorship by the industry itself to forestall possible governmental intervention and that this system remains in effect. He said that the individuals in it but not the industry as such feel responsibility to the nation's children, and he stated that "the great majority of people making and producing films are upstanding individuals who keep this responsibility in mind."

This is enough to assure that the conditions will be well handled, he said. Kennedy explained that all scripts are presented to the motion picture code board, though he said, certain independent producers do not abide by the code even though the great majority do.

Mrs. Hedges, who attends previews in Hollywood to review new films for the CCPT publication, said that parents might become interested in seeing the films their children see. "We're not going to the movies enough," she said, adding that most people don't see all the fine films that are made.

She said that she remembered a time when the motion picture code was enforced and when the industry "accepted responsibility for the values it presented."

TEEN-AGE STARS

Mrs. Hedges said that the great indictment of the motion picture industry was that it now "uses teen-age stars in highly questionable situations, uses material that is not ethical, but makes pictures for young audiences."

She said, "the industry knows that youth makes up half the audiences. It wants children in the audience," she stated, and it will "fight legislation to keep them out."

"I feel that the industry has got us into a corner, and the only escape is to say to them, 'you shall not do this to our children,'" she concluded.

Speaking for the Youth Authority, Saleebey said that for the past six years juvenile crime rate has remained on a plateau, neither increasing nor decreasing. However, he said that generally his colleagues feel that there has been an increase in brutality and in senseless crimes by juveniles, though he had no statistics to cite.

He said that children need guidance in their use of television and that parents should ask themselves, whether their child is learning from television or escaping responsibility through its use.

Saleebey said that in 1957 the California Youth Authority director asked the staff for direct examples of television and films causing damage in children and that response was meager because the staff did not wish to hypothecate instances. Their chief agreement was that television and movies made violence look so easy and impermanent and children cannot distinguish between what is real and unreal.

CITES A CASE

One example he cited was a case in which a boy stabbed another with an ice pick but felt justifited because he hadn't stabbed him in the heart. The boy said he just wanted to hurt the other a little bit and in television the hero gets up again, Saleebey related.

He concluded that parents should band together to get across the idea that either there should be "good movies and television or no movies and television."

James Day, educational television station manager, said that studies cannot show direct evidence that television and film violence have direct influence on delinquency, and that there is a strong temptation to give television as a cause rather than a symptom of present day society.

He said that television is largely a parental responsibility and parents must lead in this area, giving viewing guidance to their children. Television provides an unreal world for children, he said, and that it should not be used as a baby sitter. To a child that is already disturbed, television violence may be a catalyst, Day remarked. He suggested that parents have their children keep logs of what they watch and give subjective evaluations of them as a means of teaching. At its best, he said, television is a window to the world and can open new vistas for children.

'Salvador, Why You Take Our Painting?'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Salvador Dali, who painted an incomprehensible abstract for a midtown hotel in return for a $3,500 masterpiece of realism showing frolicking nymphs, collected his prize over the protests of the hotel's regretful management.

Dali originally made the deal so he could take the Perkshire Hotel's huge canvas "Satyr Surrounded by Nymphs" by the French 19th Century artist Adolphe Bouguereau, out of circulation. He said then he considered it "the worst of bad art."

ADMIRED

But Monday he disclosed he is a great admirer of Bouguereau's. Dali said he is making a collection of Bouguereau for his elegant hotel apartment here and his home in Spain.

"Bouguereau has been out of date but he is coming back," said the moustachioed surrealist painter. "I already have four big canvasses and now I'll have five."

Alfred Hayhurst, the hotel manager, said Dali was supposed to collect the painting last September according to the terms of a contract. The painting has been the focal point of the hotel's Victorian Barberry Room.

SUDDENLY . . .

"Suddenly he called and said he wants it right now," said Hayhurst. "He didn't even give us time to have the painting copied."

Dali promised the hotel an "impression" of the Bouguereau work, purchased in 1960 for $250, in return for the original and the hotel expected a Dali masterwork. The Bouguereau was recently valued at $3,500. When Dali painted his "impression" on March 22, 1960, he dashed if off in 10 minutes.

"It didn't turn out to be one of Dali's beautiful paintings," said the hotel spokesman. "It's an abstract that looks more like a small piano with the music rack up than a covey of nymphs.

"We've got 17,000 expensive menus with the picture printed on them. It's our trademark. If Mr. Dali could realize how many hearts he is breaking, perhaps he would return these maidens to their admirers."

Youngster Tries Cooking—Burned

An attempt to make hot chocolate turned out to be an unhappy experience Monday for a 10-year-old San Rafael boy.

Young Charles Freschl's shirt caught fire as he was mixing the chocolate on the kitchen stove of his parents' home at 344 Devon Drive. He suffered chest burns, but was reported in satisfactory condition today in San Rafael General Hospital.

Recall Ideas Rampant In Marin Government Units

Looks like 1962 may be recalled as the Year of Recall. With the new year less than a month gone, a rash of recall threats and petition circulating is feverishly under way in various forms of Marin County governmental units. Perhaps the mechanics of recall might be added to the women's county government seminar, now being held at Tamalpais Union High School.

In Sausalito, Major Philip S. Erhlich, Jr., and Councilman Michael Harris are targets for a recall action. If enough qualified signatures are obtained in time, this will be an added main event for the municipal election on April 10.

A Novato committee has been formed to seek recall of three members of the school district as a result of the row over accepting Superintendent William J. J. Smith's resignation.

"There will be a recall!" was the strident shout frequently heard above the other fireworks at last week's stormy meeting of the Marinwood Community Services District, a meeting culminating in resignation of Fire Chief Donald Ray.

And elsewhere, the word recall creeps speculatively into conversations about activities—or inactivities—of Marin governmental units, obviously sparked by last month's supervisorial recall.

All dissident groups have the right to call a recall election. The recall is valid under the State Constitution, to safeguard good government by definitely determining the will of the majority affected. Provided sufficient verified signatures are obtained, it is mandatory for the governmental unit to hold such an election.

We have no objection to use of the recall when officials and their stands on issues are of real importance. In the case of significant issues, the recall reminds officials that they are representatives of the people, not dictators. And a recall can clarify the views of affected voters. In many cases, the final balloting sustains the officials under fire. Results indicate the desires of the silent majority, often at variance with the noisy minority, and when the smoke clears, a community mandate is given.

The recall is a powerful weapon in maintaining government by officials fully responsible to the electors.

But let us keep this powerful weapon for serious situations.

More Teen-Agers Make Headlines

Weekend San Mateo County police reports revealed two new teen-age activities; one a new high in brash courage, the other a new low in a "let's-scare-the-heck-out-of-them" idea. Both are newsworthy, for different reasons.

A Menlo Park lad was close to the cashier in a supermarket when a masked man, flourishing a knife, demanded the day's receipts. Immediately, the youth stepped out of line and began throwing cans of tomatoes at the robber. The latter grabbed a few dollars and fled—leaving behind his stolen getaway car.

At about the same time, a new example of juvenile thoughtlessness — or stupidity — which could justifiably brought death or injury. They had a red light on top of their auto. Which led to desire to scare somebody.

The first car they flashed pulled over to the curb all right—but out stepped two Redwood City policemen. Caught after a short chase through two red traffic signals, the lads were booked on several charges.

It was thrill-seeking with a red light on his car that started Caryl Chessman on his horrorful career of crime that ended in San Quentin's gas chamber.

Let us hope that the outcome of this instance of juvenile asininity will stifle similar ambitions by other teen-agers. Just suppose the "victim" car contained someone intent upon evading the law, even to the point of shooting.

A Concord teen-ager became a fatality when a 23-year-old father of three was demonstrating the technique of quick-draw with a pistol. Senseless pride in a worse than useless trick.

Meantime, leading colleges and universities give high ratings to entrants from Marin County's high schools, and our youngsters continue to exercise their enthusiasm in many ways; some stupid, most of them constructive. But no red lights on cars, please. Nor quick-draw showoffs.

Odds Were Against Success, But Immigrant's Son Now Wealthy

NEW YORK (AP)—"Success begins at home," said Jeno F. Paulucci, who in 15 years built a borrowed $2,500 into a 40-million-dollar food empire.

"No matter how depressed the area you live in may seem, if you look around you can find idle resources you can develop. Growth is possible anywhere."

Jeno is the son of an immigrant Italian miner in Minnesota's hard-hit Mesabi iron range.

At 13 he earned $2.50 a week in a grocery store and rememebrs "sometimes I had to take my pay in spotted fruits and vegetables."

At 17 he became a wholesale grocery salesman, slept in his car at night, ate his own food samples to cut down expenses.

At 27 he borrowed $2,500 to grow beansprouts. His office was a rented quonset hut, and the first year he took in $400,000. This year he expects to gross exactly 100 times that figure—or 40 million dollars.

At 43, Jeno has become far more than America's beansprout king. As president of the Chun King Corp., headquartering in Duluth, Minn., he is the nation's largest manufacturer of American-Oriental foods.

He also packages Italian delicacies. He has a food empire that stretches from Minnesota to Florida. He has six plants, some 1,600 employees, a fleet of 40 trailer trucks. He raises or processes everything from mushrooms to blueberries, wild rice to celery—on more than 700,000 acres.

He even markets potting soil, sod and moss. He has just started a nationwide chain of Chinese drive-in restaurants.

ONE THING led to another for Paulucci, a slender, blue-eyed man with a passion for growth.

"Just as a farmer must plow something back into his soil, so must a businessman. He must create a service, or make something grow where nothing grew before," he says.

"THERE IS a tremendous satisfaction in building a business against odds in a geographical area where other industries have failed.

"You turn a handicap into an advantage—that's one of the great secrets. It unlocks your mind and makes you alert and creative. Handicaps strengthen your organization."

Parent Praises Phonics System

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I write to thank you for the good coverage you are giving the meetings of the Citizens Curriculum Committee appointed by the San Rafael Board of Education. I think that it is important to bring out that all the meetings held by this committee are open to the public for any interested person to attend.

This group is having educational and important information presented to it by experts from our school district, reporting on how and what our children are being taught. Consultants are also speaking to the committee on specific problems being studied (such as reading). This kind of information is almost unobtainable by a lone parent.

The subject of reading is causing considerable interest both locally and nationally and the committee is currently studying this subject. In accord with the state text, our children are taught to read using the word method which is generally accepted as a good method for fast reading. A few first grade teachers, at their own discretion, are also giving their children a reading-readiness instruction in phonics.

From my personal observation, and those of many other parents, this approach to reading (that is, reading-readiness phonics and then the word method) has almost amazing success. These children appear never to have a reading problem and are, on the average, accelerated in their reading ability. Some schools have adopted this method in their primary grades such as Sausalito and Los Gatos. I think that the San Rafael Elementary School District should also.

There are, of course, many phonics methods. The method used by some teachers in this district is a system developed by Mrs. Cecelia Wagner, who now resides in San Rafael. I have seen it demonstrated several times and my daughter was given the Wagner system for reading-readiness with results which are a joy to any parent wanting the best for his child. (Incidentally, the "old wives' tale" that phonics causes poor spelling and slow reading is just not true.)

I am not criticizing the present reading instruction of the San Rafael Elementary School District, which I believe is good; but I do think we must provide our children with the best if they are to compete successfully in this world. Since reading is the basic skill necessary to all education, I think that if you could carry some articles on this subject you would be performing a rewarding public service.

(Editor's Note: The San Rafael Curriculum Committee was instructed by President Roderick P. Martinelli of the board of education, at the time it was organized, that its meetings would be open to the public.)

Looks Forward To Etzioni's Talk

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Recently in a letter to the editor, A. Schwartz said somehow we "must find methods for settling international disputes." I couldn't agree more. I'd also like to add it's about time we stop crying "Peace" and get down to studying the specific and complicated approaches to peace which everyone is in favor of.

I have been glad to see some new names and ideas in the current muddle over what to do about our survival. At U.C., Amitai Etzioni, the visiting professor from Columbia, has been making notable comments. For example, he says it is unacceptable to be either Red or dead. Rather, we want to be free and alive."

We are fortunate to have Dr. Etzioni speak at San Rafael High School tomorrow night.

Hopefully he will explain further his idea of the "Gradualists" approach to the cold war. In fact, not only A. Schwartz and myself, but a lot of other individuals that have recently expressed their ever-increasing concern about where we are going might be interested in this town meeting at the high school where not only Dr. Etzioni but three other specialists will discuss New Roads to World Peace.

REMEMBER WHEN?

Atmosphere Nuclear Test Foes Increasing Pressure Tactics

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy deserves overwhelming public support whenever he decides it is necessary to resume nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

This new testing may not be necessary. We can hope that it will not. But the President should not have to be in doubt that he will have the clear backing of the nation whenever he should conclude that atmospheric testing is needed to prevent a dangerous security gap.

At this stage the most articulate and organized pressure directed at the White House seeks to persuade Kennedy that the American people do not want to resume tests in the air under any circumstance. This is the declared view of the organization called the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy. This is the effect of the Women Strike for Peace picketeers who, with respect to nuclear testing, say, "We must refuse to give consent."

MOST AMERICANS, I think, are prepared to agree that need to resume atmospheric testing in order to maintain the strength of our nuclear deterrent can only be judged by those in government who have access to all the technical and classified information. I certainly take that position. The advocates of a unilateral abstention of testing, after the Soviets have massively violated the moratorium, pretend that they know that it is unnecessary and that it will continue to be unnecessary. I doubt that they do know or can know. To me it is a wishful, fearful, honest, head-in-the-sand attitude.

The public statements of the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy show the weakness of its position. They express concern over the hazards of radioactive fallout and then "profoundly regret that test explosions have been resumed by the Soviet Union and underground by the United States." Thus they equate equally Soviet tests in the atmosphere—which produce radioactive fall-out — with American underground tests which produce no radioactive fall-out.

THIS COMMITTEE contends that there is "no imperative" for the U. S. to match the Soviet tests in the air. It is true that in his first appraisal of the consequences of the latest Soviet testing in the air, the President concluded that our nuclear strength was "wholly adequate." But the Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy does not stop there. It wants to debar any different judgment in the future—next month or next year. It urges Americans to say to the President: "Please don't start nuclear tests in the atmosphere again."

The U. S. offered the most extensive and constructive counter-proposals for a permanent test-ban with effective inspection with several important concessions to the Kremlin. While we were doing so, the Soviets were preparing a series of tests in the atmosphere. Whereupon they walked out on the talks and in the last four months have exploded the negotiations and their bombs, regardless of the hazards of radiation.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Two college alumni who had roomed together for four years met for the first time since graduation at their 15th reunion. One of them sported a beard that made Mitch Miller look clean-shaven. "I'd never have known you with those whiskers," laughed his old pal. "Did you lose a bet or something?"

"I presume that you refer to my beard," said the hairy one loftily. "If you must know, I hate the darn thing."

"Then why don't you shave it off?" asked the friend.

"Because," was the logical reply, "my wife hates it even more than I do."

In one respect, observes Maurice Edelman, a member of England's House of Commons, the expense account seemingly has elevated our moral standards. A business tycoon used to take his secretary on a trip and say she was his wife. Now he takes his wife and says she is his secretary.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

'Anti Communism Week' Makes Writer Recall His Own Ordeals

FOR A FEW HOURS last week felt that Belvedere, not Mill Valley, was my spiritual home.

This followed news that our Mayor Robert Huber, along with every other Marin mayor except Belvedere, had declared "Anti-Communism Week."

Fairfax later hollered foul and claimed a big mistake.

What it was all about was amply clear when wife Agnes showed a letter asking $20 to attend a "School of Anti-Communism" the same week.

Our local pro-capitalists seem to have some financial screws loose when they get suckered in that way by a stuffed shirt from Harry Bridges Land.

I'm ornery by nature, let's face it. If anybody were to proclaim a "Be Kind to Tame Dinosaurs Week" I'd go find a tame dinosaur and kick him. I mean a SMALL dinosaur.

BUT IN THIS case it was Mayor Huber who got the kick.

It was handed out—or one might say footed out—by his City Council, sparked by former council member (now supervisor) Peter H. Behr.

Behr said he expected to be "clawed and fanged" for this. But most will give him a suspended sentence. If he were involved in nothing worse I'd vote him a modest medal. As for Huber, he probably deserves some sympathy.

Behr's everywhere. And as with all of us, his mental reactions are not always of a uniform velocity.

On this I'm nobody to talk for I fully realize how easy it is to get swept over Niagara Falls in a barrel. However, I never went asking for it.

I HAPPEN to have had first-hand contacts with grim forms of Communism. What this taught me mostly is that Communism is just one critter in a whole totalitarian menagerie. Few of us are really good zoologists.

Since Communism gave me the kick out of China in 1949 I've become more than ever convinced that a lot of the blame for that awful mess was due to fanatics in our own camp. They left a clear field in China for Soviet Russia.

Far from persuading the Chinese that Uncle Sam knew best, our patronizing-to-bullying tactics with parallel performances in other places finally made us internationally obnoxious in great degree. What most other countries feel is that we should try minding our own business.

That seemed good tactics to me, from the start, and I don't love Communism either. I'm a fair amateur capitalist and freedom is for me.

WHY SHOULDN'T I like capitalism? It has paid off. For years I squirreled away my pennies in my piggy-bank, once in a while closing my eyes and venturing an investment. Lately I've thought I was lucky not to buy in at Point Reyes.

Instead I got, for instance, some insurance company stock in 1947. Last month I took the capital gain and the multiplied value was 15 times. I didn't even milk a cow to get that, just eked out extra pay with a typewriter.

Yet the Point Reyes ranchers have to ranch and now this seashore thing is supposed to keep them at it, or else. No more profit multiplication for them.

Three Marin supervisors wondered if this really added up. They could see the ranchers would be left freer just gambling on the New York Stock Exchange.

One of these supervisors finally changed his mind, after saying a week earlier that he was already "under heavy pressure" but his mind was made up.

I saw Behr providing some of this pressure but that wasn't the full story, nor am I sure just what is. Certainly nobody beat the supervisor. Nor in China did anybody beat me. They just tried to make me see reason—their way.

WELL, ONE vote changed so Washington was told that now Marin County was all for the seashore. The pattern seems vaguely familiar to me.

When I finally got away from the Communists I felt I'd been educated but it wasn't a finished job. Some things even in calm Marin County keep me stirred up and wondering if the search for freedom and justice ever will be in that category. Seeing how far honest men can differ, I have doubts.

The Country Parson

"Some bosses seem to think that paying a man to work entitles them to mistreat him."

PROMOTED — Raymond J. Timmerman of 19 Ana Court, San Rafael, has been named a vice president of Bank of America, in the corporate finance department at the head office in San Francisco. Timmerman is the fourth Marinite promoted to a senior position with the bank within a month, others being vice presidents John H. Goy and Robert E. Saunders of Mill Valley and assistant vice president Leo Sullivan of Tiburon.

'Salvador, Why You Take Our Painting?'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Salvador Dali, who painted an incomprehensible abstract for a midtown hotel in return for a $3,500 masterpiece of realism showing frolicking nymphs, collected his prize over the protests of the hotel's regretful management.

Dali originally made the deal so he could take the Perkshire Hotel's huge canvas "Satyr Surrounded by Nymphs" by the French 19th Century artist Adolphe Bouguereau, out of circulation. He said then he considered it "the worst of bad art."

ADMIRED

But Monday he disclosed he is a great admirer of Bouguereau's. Dali said he is making a collection of Bouguereau for his elegant hotel apartment here and his home in Spain.

"Bouguereau has been out of date but he is coming back," said the moustachioed surrealist painter. "I already have four big canvasses and now I'll have five."

Alfred Hayhurst, the hotel manager, said Dali was supposed to collect the painting last September according to the terms of a contract. The painting has been the focal point of the hotel's Victorian Barberry Room.

SUDDENLY . . .

"Suddenly he called and said he wants it right now," said Hayhurst. "He didn't even give us time to have the painting copied."

Dali promised the hotel an "impression" of the Bouguereau work, purchased in 1960 for $250, in return for the original and the hotel expected a Dali masterwork. The Bouguereau was recently valued at $3,500. When Dali painted his "impression" on March 22, 1960, he dashed if off in 10 minutes.

"It didn't turn out to be one of Dali's beautiful paintings," said the hotel spokesman. "It's an abstract that looks more like a small piano with the music rack up than a covey of nymphs.

"We've got 17,000 expensive menus with the picture printed on them. It's our trademark. If Mr. Dali could realize how many hearts he is breaking, perhaps he would return these maidens to their admirers."

Youngster Tries Cooking—Burned

An attempt to make hot chocolate turned out to be an unhappy experience Monday for a 10-year-old San Rafael boy.

Young Charles Freschl's shirt caught fire as he was mixing the chocolate on the kitchen stove of his parents' home at 344 Devon Drive. He suffered chest burns, but was reported in satisfactory condition today in San Rafael General Hospital.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Location Remains The Same But Operation, Name Change

Key Marin Realty at 509 Fourth Street, San Rafael, since 1958, has changed its name to Batey and Co. and henceforth will be listed entirely under that designation, according to owner William Rexford Batey.

Batey says the location will remain the same but the business operation will tend more toward promoting large scale commercial and residential developments.

LOOK FOR some changes on Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, around the entrance to Dominic's Harbor Restaurant by the first of March.

The William H. McDevitt Building Co. has leased 5,000 square feet of a new building under construction here with frontage on Dominic's parking lot to Rhytter and Christensen of San Francisco, importers of Danish furniture, who will use the spot for a retail store as well as warehouse, upholstery and assmbly quarters.

This firm will also occupy about half of the present quarters of the Busy Bee Transmission Co. which will be moving to another location as yet undetermined. McDevitt Co. then plans to convert the balance of Busy Bee space into two other retail stores—making a small shopping area to catch the eye of luncheoners at Dominic's.

INCIDENTALLY, McDevitt Co. which has probably done more tilt-up concrete work than any other Marin firm is engaged in building a new office and warehouse for two Marin County men, Harold Morgan and James McCormick who operate under the name of McCormick-Morgan, at 1775 Evans Street, San Francisco. This will be tilt-up construction, on McDevitt's package plan of handling all details from engineering to landscaping and financing, if needed.

LUCAS VALLEY DAIRY has announced that a new plastic carton is now being used for packaging its half-gallons of milk and other fluid products.

According to general manager Robert Grady, the cartons have no wax, either inside or out, and therefore are free from flaking problems. The plastic surface also makes the cartons easier to handle and gives them greater durability.

The plastic half-gallons are now available at all food stores handling Lucas Valley products, Grady says.

WE HEAR that Fred Zelinsky, whose holdings form the bulk of downtown Tiburon is working on a group of new stores—a pair of specialty restaurants, interior decorator, new little theater and out-of-town title company.

RE-ELECTED as vice president of the California State Automobile Assn. is Joseph B. Rice, Ignacio resident, president of Rice Supplyl, Inc., San Rafael, and president of the recently formed Novato Savings and Loan Assn. He has served as a CSAA director since 1952.

ATTENDING the U. S. Savings and Loan League Legislative Conference in Washington, D.C., next week will be Fred Enemark of San Rafael. He will jet back there as representative of the Legislative Conference Committe of both the California Savings and Loan League and the U.S. Savings and Loan League. On his return he'll be further tied up at St. Mary's College Fifth Annual Executives Symposium and a California Savings and Loan management conference in Palm Springs.

Marin Senior Citizens Back Medical Plan

The Marin Senior Assn. has gone on record in favor of medical assistance supported by the Social Security program.

The association voted unanimously for the program after hearing it explained by attorney Samuel W. Gardiner at a recent meeting.

In a letter to Rep Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera) urging that he support a bill for the medical care program, the association wrote:

"As a person ages he not only loses much of his income but two other things happen to him:

"First, he requires increasing hospitalization and medical care; and second, he finds that each unit of medical service costs three to four times as much as it did during his productive years when he was planning for this period of life."

CHP GIVES SOME TIPS ON WINTER'S DRIVING

Greater precaution is needed for winter driving, Capt. T. F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol's San Rafael office warned today.

The captain gave these tips for driving in fog, rain or other adverse weather conditions:

1. Turn on headlights. It helps the other driver see you. Don't drive with parking lights; that is illegal.
2. Reduce speed. Lessen the chance for skid.
3. Increase following distance.
4. Observe the law at all times.

Strep Infections Lead The List

Twenty-eight new cases of streptococcic infections were reported to the Marin County Health Department last week.

The department's weekly report shows 16 of the cases in Novato, seven in San Rafael, three in Mill Valley, and others in Kentfield and San Anselmo.

Measles was on the increase, too, with 12 new cases, of which eight were in San Rafael, two in Fairfax, and others in San Anselmo and on the Tiburon Peninsula.

Four cases of gonorrhea and one new case of mumps were reported.

Marin Allotted More Money For Public Health Use

Marin County has been allotted an additional $7,622 in federal funds for public health use, county supervisors learned yesterday.

They promptly approved an already discussed plan to spend the money during the current fiscal year.

The scheme will provide home-nursing care to the chronically ill and aged, and improve the nutrition of aging and chronically ill persons both in their homes and in nursing and boarding homes.

It provides for initial employment of a half-time public health nurse, a half-time junior public health nurse, a half-time public health nutritionist and a full-time intermediate typist-clerk. These will be used to set up and start operation of additional new services to be offered by the county health department.

Marin Democrats Going To Fresno For Convention

Some 45 delegates and 15 or more alternates from Marin Democratic clubs will go to Fresno Friday for the annual convention of the California Democratic Council.

Members of eight Marin Democratic clubs, plus representatives of other official Democratic organizations, will make up the local delegation.

The three-day convention is scheduled to endorse candidates for statewide offices, for the Board of Education, formulate a program to "insure the election of the candidates endorsed," receive and pass on the policies formulated by regional issues conferences, and elect directors in all districts affected by reapportionment.

Marin's delegation will be led by Gerald N. Hill, vice president of the CDC, and Robert L. Harmon, president of the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs.

Youth's Prize-Winning Music Set For Concert

Andy Rink's prize-winning first movement of a projected four-movement suit for orchestra will be among numbers performed at this year's first concert of the Marin Youth Orchestra Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in Terra Linda High School gymnasium.

Andy won first prize recently in a competition sponsored by the Symphony Guild of Marin for musical compositions by Marin youths 18 years old or under. The piece received its premiere by the San Rafael High School Orchestra in the school's Christmas concert.

Andy, 17-year-old senior, moved to San Rafael from South San Francisco one and one-half years ago. He plays viola in the youth orchestra and also has training on the violin, piano and clarinet. He has been composing for four years. His compositions include 50 short pieces for piano, two full length piano sonatas, and a scherzo in F.

Other numbers on the program Saturday include: Purcell's Canzona for Brass Choir; Bach's Arioso; Haydn's Allegro, Minuet and Finale from the Toy Symphony; Mendelssohn's Violin Concerto in E Minor, first movement, with Sharon Johnson as soloist, and Rossini's Tancredi Overture.

Nurses Sought By Air Force

Air Force commissions are available to nurses, both male and female, it was announced today by Sgt. Chester R. Thoren, Air Force recruiting representative in San Rafael.

To qualify, applicants must be between 20 and 35 years of age, a U. S. citizen, of high moral character and a graduate of a qualified three-year nursing school.

Further information may be obtained from Sgt. Thoren at the Air Force recruiting office, 819 A Street, San Rafael.

Drunken Drivers Are Sentenced

Two drunken drivers drew fines and probation Monday in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Harold J. Haley sentenced Robert John Boyce, 32, of Santa Rosa and Marion Roylston Brown, 19, of National City.

Boyce must pay $110 fine and remain on six months probation. He was caught on Golden Gate Bridge last Dec. 28.

Brown drew $83 fine and six months probation. Brown was caught on Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael on Jan. 16.

Novatan Is Injured In Auto Accident

Peter Francis Ferrarese, 21, of 10 Los Alondras Court, Novato, received a minor cut on the forehead when his car collided Monday afternoon on Virginia Street with one driven by Linda Joy Vantrease of 1000 Railroad Avenue, Novato police reported.

Miss Vantrease, 17, a Novato High School student, was cited for failure to yield the right of way when making a left turn.

Recall Ideas Rampant In Marin Government Units

Looks like 1962 may be recalled as the Year of Recall. With the new year less than a month gone, a rash of recall threats and petition circulating is feverishly under way in various forms of Marin County governmental units. Perhaps the mechanics of recall might be added to the women's county government seminar, now being held at Tamalpais Union High School.

In Sausalito, Major Philip S. Erhlich, Jr., and Councilman Michael Harris are targets for a recall action. If enough qualified signatures are obtained in time, this will be an added main event for the municipal election on April 10.

A Novato committee has been formed to seek recall of three members of the school district as a result of the row over accepting Superintendent William J. J. Smith's resignation.

"There will be a recall!" was the strident shout frequently heard above the other fireworks at last week's stormy meeting of the Marinwood Community Services District, a meeting culminating in resignation of Fire Chief Donald Ray.

And elsewhere, the word recall creeps speculatively into conversations about activities—or inactivities—of Marin governmental units, obviously sparked by last month's supervisorial recall.

All dissident groups have the right to call a recall election. The recall is valid under the State Constitution, to safeguard good government by definitely determining the will of the majority affected. Provided sufficient verified signatures are obtained, it is mandatory for the governmental unit to hold such an election.

We have no objection to use of the recall when officials and their stands on issues are of real importance. In the case of significant issues, the recall reminds officials that they are representatives of the people, not dictators. And a recall can clarify the views of affected voters. In many cases, the final balloting sustains the officials under fire. Results indicate the desires of the silent majority, often at variance with the noisy minority, and when the smoke clears, a community mandate is given.

The recall is a powerful weapon in maintaining government by officials fully responsible to the electors.

But let us keep this powerful weapon for serious situations.

More Teen-Agers Make Headlines

Weekend San Mateo County police reports revealed two new teen-age activities; one a new high in brash courage, the other a new low in a "let's-scare-the-heck-out-of-them" idea. Both are newsworthy, for different reasons.

A Menlo Park lad was close to the cashier in a supermarket when a masked man, flourishing a knife, demanded the day's receipts. Immediately, the youth stepped out of line and began throwing cans of tomatoes at the robber. The latter grabbed a few dollars and fled—leaving behind his stolen getaway car.

At about the same time, a new example of juvenile thoughtlessness — or stupidity — which could justifiably brought death or injury. They had a red light on top of their auto. Which led to desire to scare somebody.

The first car they flashed pulled over to the curb all right—but out stepped two Redwood City policemen. Caught after a short chase through two red traffic signals, the lads were booked on several charges.

It was thrill-seeking with a red light on his car that started Caryl Chessman on his horrorful career of crime that ended in San Quentin's gas chamber.

Let us hope that the outcome of this instance of juvenile asininity will stifle similar ambitions by other teen-agers. Just suppose the "victim" car contained someone intent upon evading the law, even to the point of shooting.

A Concord teen-ager became a fatality when a 23-year-old father of three was demonstrating the technique of quick-draw with a pistol. Senseless pride in a worse than useless trick.

Meantime, leading colleges and universities give high ratings to entrants from Marin County's high schools, and our youngsters continue to exercise their enthusiasm in many ways; some stupid, most of them constructive. But no red lights on cars, please. Nor quick-draw showoffs.

Odds Were Against Success, But Immigrant's Son Now Wealthy

NEW YORK (AP)—"Success begins at home," said Jeno F. Paulucci, who in 15 years built a borrowed $2,500 into a 40-million-dollar food empire.

"No matter how depressed the area you live in may seem, if you look around you can find idle resources you can develop. Growth is possible anywhere."

Jeno is the son of an immigrant Italian miner in Minnesota's hard-hit Mesabi iron range.

At 13 he earned $2.50 a week in a grocery store and rememebrs "sometimes I had to take my pay in spotted fruits and vegetables."

At 17 he became a wholesale grocery salesman, slept in his car at night, ate his own food samples to cut down expenses.

At 27 he borrowed $2,500 to grow beansprouts. His office was a rented quonset hut, and the first year he took in $400,000. This year he expects to gross exactly 100 times that figure—or 40 million dollars.

At 43, Jeno has become far more than America's beansprout king. As president of the Chun King Corp., headquartering in Duluth, Minn., he is the nation's largest manufacturer of American-Oriental foods.

He also packages Italian delicacies. He has a food empire that stretches from Minnesota to Florida. He has six plants, some 1,600 employees, a fleet of 40 trailer trucks. He raises or processes everything from mushrooms to blueberries, wild rice to celery—on more than 700,000 acres.

He even markets potting soil, sod and moss. He has just started a nationwide chain of Chinese drive-in restaurants.

ONE THING led to another for Paulucci, a slender, blue-eyed man with a passion for growth.

"Just as a farmer must plow something back into his soil, so must a businessman. He must create a service, or make something grow where nothing grew before," he says.

"THERE IS a tremendous satisfaction in building a business against odds in a geographical area where other industries have failed.

"You turn a handicap into an advantage—that's one of the great secrets. It unlocks your mind and makes you alert and creative. Handicaps strengthen your organization."

Parent Praises Phonics System

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I write to thank you for the good coverage you are giving the meetings of the Citizens Curriculum Committee appointed by the San Rafael Board of Education. I think that it is important to bring out that all the meetings held by this committee are open to the public for any interested person to attend.

This group is having educational and important information presented to it by experts from our school district, reporting on how and what our children are being taught. Consultants are also speaking to the committee on specific problems being studied (such as reading). This kind of information is almost unobtainable by a lone parent.

The subject of reading is causing considerable interest both locally and nationally and the committee is currently studying this subject. In accord with the state text, our children are taught to read using the word method which is generally accepted as a good method for fast reading. A few first grade teachers, at their own discretion, are also giving their children a reading-readiness instruction in phonics.

From my personal observation, and those of many other parents, this approach to reading (that is, reading-readiness phonics and then the word method) has almost amazing success. These children appear never to have a reading problem and are, on the average, accelerated in their reading ability. Some schools have adopted this method in their primary grades such as Sausalito and Los Gatos. I think that the San Rafael Elementary School District should also.

There are, of course, many phonics methods. The method used by some teachers in this district is a system developed by Mrs. Cecelia Wagner, who now resides in San Rafael. I have seen it demonstrated several times and my daughter was given the Wagner system for reading-readiness with results which are a joy to any parent wanting the best for his child. (Incidentally, the "old wives' tale" that phonics causes poor spelling and slow reading is just not true.)

I am not criticizing the present reading instruction of the San Rafael Elementary School District, which I believe is good; but I do think we must provide our children with the best if they are to compete successfully in this world. Since reading is the basic skill necessary to all education, I think that if you could carry some articles on this subject you would be performing a rewarding public service.

(Editor's Note: The San Rafael Curriculum Committee was instructed by President Roderick P. Martinelli of the board of education, at the time it was organized, that its meetings would be open to the public.)

Looks Forward To Etzioni's Talk

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Recently in a letter to the editor, A. Schwartz said somehow we "must find methods for settling international disputes." I couldn't agree more. I'd also like to add it's about time we stop crying "Peace" and get down to studying the specific and complicated approaches to peace which everyone is in favor of.

I have been glad to see some new names and ideas in the current muddle over what to do about our survival. At U.C., Amitai Etzioni, the visiting professor from Columbia, has been making notable comments. For example, he says it is unacceptable to be either Red or dead. Rather, we want to be free and alive."

We are fortunate to have Dr. Etzioni speak at San Rafael High School tomorrow night.

Hopefully he will explain further his idea of the "Gradualists" approach to the cold war. In fact, not only A. Schwartz and myself, but a lot of other individuals that have recently expressed their ever-increasing concern about where we are going might be interested in this town meeting at the high school where not only Dr. Etzioni but three other specialists will discuss New Roads to World Peace.

Atmosphere Nuclear Test Foes Increasing Pressure Tactics

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy deserves overwhelming public support whenever he decides it is necessary to resume nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

This new testing may not be necessary. We can hope that it will not. But the President should not have to be in doubt that he will have the clear backing of the nation whenever he should conclude that atmospheric testing is needed to prevent a dangerous security gap.

At this stage the most articulate and organized pressure directed at the White House seeks to persuade Kennedy that the American people do not want to resume tests in the air under any circumstance. This is the declared view of the organization called the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy. This is the effect of the Women Strike for Peace picketeers who, with respect to nuclear testing, say, "We must refuse to give consent."

MOST AMERICANS, I think, are prepared to agree that need to resume atmospheric testing in order to maintain the strength of our nuclear deterrent can only be judged by those in government who have access to all the technical and classified information. I certainly take that position. The advocates of a unilateral abstention of testing, after the Soviets have massively violated the moratorium, pretend that they know that it is unnecessary and that it will continue to be unnecessary. I doubt that they do know or can know. To me it is a wishful, fearful, honest, head-in-the-sand attitude.

The public statements of the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy show the weakness of its position. They express concern over the hazards of radioactive fall-out and then "profoundly regret that test explosions have been resumed by the Soviet Union and underground by the United States." Thus they equate equally Soviet tests in the atmosphere—which produce radioactive fall-out — with American underground tests which produce no radioactive fall-out.

THIS COMMITTEE contends that there is "no imperative" for the U. S. to match the Soviet tests in the air. It is true that in his first appraisal of the consequences of the latest Soviet testing in the air, the President concluded that our nuclear strength was "wholly adequate." But the Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy does not stop there. It wants to debar any different judgment in the future—next month or next year. It urges Americans to say to the President: "Please don't start nuclear tests in the atmosphere again."

The U. S. offered the most extensive and constructive counter-proposals for a permanent test-ban with effective inspection with several important concessions to the Kremlin. While we were doing so, the Soviets were preparing a series of tests in the atmosphere. Whereupon they walked out on the talks and in the last four months have exploded the negotiations and their bombs, regardless of the hazards of radiation.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Two college alumni who had roomed together for four years met for the first time since graduation at their 15th reunion. One of them sported a beard that made Mitch Miller look clean-shaven. "I'd never have known you with those whiskers," laughed his old pal. "Did you lose a bet or something?"

"I presume that you refer to my beard," said the hairy one loftily. "If you must know, I hate the darn thing."

"Then why don't you shave it off?" asked the friend.

"Because," was the logical reply, "my wife hates it even more than I do."

In one respect, observes Maurice Edelman, a member of England's House of Commons, the expense account seemingly has elevated our moral standards. A business tycoon used to take his secretary on a trip and say she was his wife. Now he takes his wife and says she is his secretary.

'Anti Communism Week' Makes Writer Recall His Own Ordeals

FOR A FEW HOURS last week felt that Belvedere, not Mill Valley, was my spiritual home.

This followed news that our Mayor Robert Huber, along with every other Marin mayor except Belvedere, had declared "Anti-Communism Week."

Fairfax later hollered foul and claimed a big mistake.

What it was all about was amply clear when wife Agnes showed a letter asking $20 to attend a "School of Anti-Communism" the same week.

Our local pro-capitalists seem to have some financial screws loose when they get suckered in that way by a stuffed shirt from Harry Bridges Land.

I'm ornery by nature, let's face it. If anybody were to proclaim a "Be Kind to Tame Dinosaurs Week" I'd go find a tame dinosaur and kick him. I mean a SMALL dinosaur.

BUT IN THIS case it was Mayor Huber who got the kick.

It was handed out—or one might say footed out—by his City Council, sparked by former council member (now supervisor) Peter H. Behr.

Behr said he expected to be "clawed and fanged" for this. But most will give him a suspended sentence. If he were involved in nothing worse I'd vote him a modest medal. As for Huber, he probably deserves some sympathy.

Behr's everywhere. And as with all of us, his mental reactions are not always of a uniform velocity.

On this I'm nobody to talk for I fully realize how easy it is to get swept over Niagara Falls in a barrel. However, I never went asking for it.

I HAPPEN to have had first-hand contacts with grim forms of Communism. What this taught me mostly is that Communism is just one critter in a whole totalitarian menagerie. Few of us are really good zoologists.

Since Communism gave me the kick out of China in 1949 I've become more than ever convinced that a lot of the blame for that awful mess was due to fanatics in our own camp. They left a clear field in China for Soviet Russia.

Far from persuading the Chinese that Uncle Sam knew best, our patronizing-to-bullying tactics with parallel performances in other places finally made us internationally obnoxious in great degree. What most other countries feel is that we should try minding our own business.

That seemed good tactics to me, from the start, and I don't love Communism either. I'm a fair amateur capitalist and freedom is for me.

WHY SHOULDN'T I like capitalism? It has paid off. For years I squirreled away my pennies in my piggy-bank, once in a while closing my eyes and venturing an investment. Lately I've thought I was lucky not to buy in at Point Reyes.

Instead I got, for instance, some insurance company stock in 1947. Last month I took the capital gain and the multiplied value was 15 times. I didn't even milk a cow to get that, just eked out extra pay with a typewriter.

Yet the Point Reyes ranchers have to ranch and now this seashore thing is supposed to keep them at it, or else. No more profit multiplication for them.

Three Marin supervisors wondered if this really added up. They could see the ranchers would be left freer just gambling on the New York Stock Exchange.

One of these supervisors finally changed his mind, after saying a week earlier that he was already "under heavy pressure" but his mind was made up.

I saw Behr providing some of this pressure but that wasn't the full story, nor am I sure just what is. Certainly nobody beat the supervisor. Nor in China did anybody beat me. They just tried to make me see reason—their way.

WELL, ONE vote changed so Washington was told that now Marin County was all for the seashore. The pattern seems vaguely familiar to me.

When I finally got away from the Communists I felt I'd been educated but it wasn't a finished job. Some things even in calm Marin County keep me stirred up and wondering if the search for freedom and justice ever will be in that category. Seeing how far honest men can differ, I have doubts.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Location Remains The Same But Operation, Name Change

Key Marin Realty at 509 Fourth Street, San Rafael, since 1958, has changed its name to Batey and Co. and henceforth will be listed entirely under that designation, according to owner William Rexford Batey.

Batey says the location will remain the same but the business operation will tend more toward promoting large scale commercial and residential developments.

LOOK FOR some changes on Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, around the entrance to Dominic's Harbor Restaurant by the first of March.

The William H. McDevitt Building Co. has leased 5,000 square feet of a new building under construction here with frontage on Dominic's parking lot to Rhytter and Christensen of San Francisco, importers of Danish furniture, who will use the spot for a retail store as well as warehouse, upholstery and assmbly quarters.

This firm will also occupy about half of the present quarters of the Busy Bee Transmission Co. which will be moving to another location as yet undetermined. McDevitt Co. then plans to convert the balance of Busy Bee space into two other retail stores—making a small shopping area to catch the eye of luncheoners at Dominic's.

INCIDENTALLY, McDevitt Co. which has probably done more tilt-up concrete work than any other Marin firm is engaged in building a new office and warehouse for two Marin County men, Harold Morgan and James McCormick who operate under the name of McCormick-Morgan, at 1775 Evans Street, San Francisco. This will be tilt-up construction, on McDevitt's package plan of handling all details from engineering to landscaping and financing, if needed.

LUCAS VALLEY DAIRY has announced that a new plastic carton is now being used for packaging its half-gallons of milk and other fluid products.

According to general manager Robert Grady, the cartons have no wax, either inside or out, and therefore are free from flaking problems. The plastic surface also makes the cartons easier to handle and gives them greater durability.

The plastic half-gallons are now available at all food stores handling Lucas Valley products, Grady says.

WE HEAR that Fred Zelinsky, whose holdings form the bulk of downtown Tiburon is working on a group of new stores—a pair of specialty restaurants, interior decorator, new little theater and out-of-town title company.

RE-ELECTED as vice president of the California State Automobile Assn. is Joseph B. Rice, Ignacio resident, president of Rice Supplyl, Inc., San Rafael, and president of the recently formed Novato Savings and Loan Assn. He has served as a CSAA director since 1952.

ATTENDING the U. S. Savings and Loan League Legislative Conference in Washington, D.C., next week will be Fred Enemark of San Rafael. He will jet back there as representative of the Legislative Conference Committe of both the California Savings and Loan League and the U.S. Savings and Loan League. On his return he'll be further tied up at St. Mary's College Fifth Annual Executives Symposium and a California Savings and Loan management conference in Palm Springs.

Marin Senior Citizens Back Medical Plan

The Marin Senior Assn. has gone on record in favor of medical assistance supported by the Social Security program.

The association voted unanimously for the program after hearing it explained by attorney Samuel W. Gardiner at a recent meeting.

In a letter to Rep Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera) urging that he support a bill for the medical care program, the association wrote:

"As a person ages he not only loses much of his income but two other things happen to him:

"First, he requires increasing hospitalization and medical care; and second, he finds that each unit of medical service costs three to four times as much as it did during his productive years when he was planning for this period of life."

Marin Democrats Going To Fresno For Convention

Some 45 delegates and 15 or more alternates from Marin Democratic clubs will go to Fresno Friday for the annual convention of the California Democratic Council.

Members of eight Marin Democratic clubs, plus representatives of other official Democratic organizations, will make up the local delegation.

The three-day convention is scheduled to endorse candidates for statewide offices, for the Board of Education, formulate a program to "insure the election of the candidates endorsed," receive and pass on the policies formulated by regional issues conferences, and elect directors in all districts affected by reapportionment.

Marin's delegation will be led by Gerald N. Hill, vice president of the CDC, and Robert L. Harmon, president of the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs.

Nurses Sought By Air Force

Air Force commissions are available to nurses, both male and female, it was announced today by Sgt. Chester R. Thoren, Air Force recruiting representative in San Rafael.

To qualify, applicants must be between 20 and 35 years of age, a U. S. citizen, of high moral character and a graduate of a qualified three-year nursing school.

Further information may be obtained from Sgt. Thoren at the Air Force recruiting office, 819 A Street, San Rafael.

CHP GIVES SOME TIPS ON WINTER'S DRIVING

Greater precaution is needed for winter driving, Capt. T. F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol's San Rafael office warned today.

The captain gave these tips for driving in fog, rain or other adverse weather conditions:

1. Turn on headlights. It helps the other driver see you. Don't drive with parking lights; that is illegal.
2. Reduce speed. Lessen the chance for skid.
3. Increase following distance.
4. Observe the law at all times.

Strep Infections Lead The List

Twenty-eight new cases of streptococcic infections were reported to the Marin County Health Department last week.

The department's weekly report shows 16 of the cases in Novato, seven in San Rafael, three in Mill Valley, and others in Kentfield and San Anselmo.

Measles was on the increase, too, with 12 new cases, of which eight were in San Rafael, two in Fairfax, and others in San Anselmo and on the Tiburon Peninsula.

Four cases of gonorrhea and one new case of mumps were reported.

Marin Allotted More Money For Public Health Use

Marin County has been allotted an additional $7,622 in federal funds for public health use, county supervisors learned yesterday.

They promptly approved an already discussed plan to spend the money during the current fiscal year.

The scheme will provide home-nursing care to the chronically ill and aged, and improve the nutrition of aging and chronically ill persons both in their homes and in nursing and boarding homes.

It provides for initial employment of a half-time public health nurse, a half-time junior public health nurse, a half-time public health nutritionist and a full-time intermediate typist-clerk. These will be used to set up and start operation of additional new services to be offered by the county health department.

Youth's Prize-Winning Music Set For Concert

Andy Rink's prize-winning first movement of a projected four-movement suit for orchestra will be among numbers performed at this year's first concert of the Marin Youth Orchestra Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in Terra Linda High School gymnasium.

Andy won first prize recently in a competition sponsored by the Symphony Guild of Marin for musical compositions by Marin youths 18 years old or under. The piece received its premiere by the San Rafael High School Orchestra in the school's Christmas concert.

Andy, 17-year-old senior, moved to San Rafael from South San Francisco one and one-half years ago. He plays viola in the youth orchestra and also has training on the violin, piano and clarinet. He has been composing for four years. His compositions include 50 short pieces for piano, two full length piano sonatas, and a scherzo in F.

Other numbers on the program Saturday include: Purcell's Canzona for Brass Choir; Bach's Arioso; Haydn's Allegro, Minuet and Finale from the Toy Symphony; Mendelssohn's Violin Concerto in E Minor, first movement, with Sharon Johnson as soloist, and Rossini's Tancredi Overture.

Drunken Drivers Are Sentenced

Two drunken drivers drew fines and probation Monday in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Harold J. Haley sentenced Robert John Boyce, 32, of Santa Rosa and Marion Roylston Brown, 19, of National City.

Boyce must pay $110 fine and remain on six months probation. He was caught on Golden Gate Bridge last Dec. 28.

Brown drew $83 fine and six months probation. Brown was caught on Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael on Jan. 16.

Novatan Is Injured In Auto Accident

Peter Francis Ferrarese, 21, of 10 Los Alondras Court, Novato, received a minor cut on the forehead when his car collided Monday afternoon on Virginia Street with one driven by Linda Joy Vantrease of 1000 Railroad Avenue, Novato police reported.

Miss Vantrease, 17, a Novato High School student, was cited for failure to yield the right of way when making a left turn.

So we are offering this new service in good faith and urging you to ask our pharmacists any questions about this new program.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 24, the 24th day of the year with 341 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The evening star is Mercury.

On this day in history:

In 1848, gold was discovered in the Sacramento River near Coloma.

In 1908, the first Boy Scout troop was organized in England by Sir Robert Baden-Powell, a general in the English Army.

In 1945, Russian troops crossed the Oder River and landed on German soil for the first time.

In 1946, delegates to the United Nations General Assembly voted to create a U.N. Atomic Energy Commission.

A thought for the day: American novelist Thomas Wolfe once said: "There is no spectacle on Earth more appealing than that of a beautiful woman in the act of cooking dinner for someone she loves."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

And, Pray Tell, How Many Heads Do You Have, Sir?

A friend of mine is trying to grow two additional heads for the hats he won on a bridge hand.

Declarer took the first heart in dummy, returned a trump to the jack, got back with the king of clubs and led another trump. East quickly drew the rest of the trumps, and South never got a chance to ruff a club in dummy. Down one.

"I should ruff the club before leading the second trump," South remarked sadly.

"Bet you a hat you still can't make it," East challenged.

South accepted the first two tricks, cashed the clubs and ruffed a club, then led a second trump from dummy. East took the king of spades and returned the singleton diamond.

Now South had to lose three trumps and a diamond. Also a hat.

THIRD CHANCE: "I should win the first trick in my hand," South declared. He bet another hat on this.

South won the first trick with the king of hearts, led a club to the king and a trump to East's king. Back came a diamond to the king, a heart to dummy's queen, and dummy's last trump through East.

East put up the ace of trumps and led a fourth club. If South ruffed, East's ten of spades would be high. If South discarded, West would win and lead a diamond for East to ruff.

"It can't be made," South announced defiantly. And East won a third hat by making it.

The jack of hearts wins the first trick, a trump to the jack, two top hearts, the ace of diamonds, two top clubs, and a club ruff. Now a second trump from dummy.

East must step up with the king of spades. If he leads another trump, he helps South. And if East leads another club or heart, dummy can ruff while South gets rid of the nine of diamonds.

This may be a good year for hats.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three clubs (the Stayman Convention). This asks partner to show a major suit if he can. You are aiming at a final contract of four hearts, but you will get to three notrump if partner cannot show a heart suit.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 24, the 24th day of the year with 341 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The evening star is Mercury.

On this day in history:

In 1848, gold was discovered in the Sacramento River near Coloma.

In 1908, the first Boy Scout troop was organized in England by Sir Robert Baden-Powell, a general in the English Army.

In 1945, Russian troops crossed the Oder River and landed on German soil for the first time.

In 1946, delegates to the United Nations General Assembly voted to create a U.N. Atomic Energy Commission.

A thought for the day: American novelist Thomas Wolfe once said: "There is no spectacle on Earth more appealing than that of a beautiful woman in the act of cooking dinner for someone she loves."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

Declarer took the first heart in dummy, returned a trump to the jack, got back with the king of clubs and led another trump. East quickly drew the rest of the trumps, and South never got a chance to ruff a club in dummy. Down one.

"I should ruff the club before leading the second trump," South remarked sadly.

"Bet you a hat you still can't make it," East challenged.

South accepted the first two tricks, cashed the clubs and ruffed a club, then led a second trump from dummy. East took the king of spades and returned the singleton diamond.

Now South had to lose three trumps and a diamond. Also a hat.

THIRD CHANCE: "I should win the first trick in my hand," South declared. He bet another hat on this.

South won the first trick with the king of hearts, led a club to the king and a trump to East's king. Back came a diamond to the king, a heart to dummy's queen, and dummy's last trump through East.

East put up the ace of trumps and led a fourth club. If South ruffed, East's ten of spades would be high. If South discarded, West would win and lead a diamond for East to ruff.

"It can't be made," South announced defiantly. And East won a third hat by making it.

The jack of hearts wins the first trick, a trump to the jack, two top hearts, the ace of diamonds, two top clubs, and a club ruff. Now a second trump from dummy.

East must step up with the king of spades. If he leads another trump, he helps South. And if East leads another club or heart, dummy can ruff while South gets rid of the nine of diamonds.

This may be a good year for hats.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three clubs (the Stayman Convention). This asks partner to show a major suit if he can. You are aiming at a final contract of four hearts, but you will get to three notrump if partner cannot show a heart suit.

Sick-Leave Policy Discussed By Board

Marin County supervisors neared an established policy on extended sick leave on pay for county employees yesterday.

With Supervisor William D. Fusselman absent last week, the other four members asked the administrator to come up with a draft of recommended policy.

Fusselman objected yesterday that the supervisors should not tie their own hands, and maintained that such grants are given only when there is a showing of hardship.

But Supervisor Peter H. Behr reported that only last week the board granted an extra eight days to an employee with no showing of hardship but in keeping with past precedent, which started the move for a firm policy.

Behr also pointed out that employees are now dependent on action by department heads to seek extra days of paid sick leave after their accumulated statutory leave has been used.

The proposed policy would make it a right for such cases to be put before the board for its judgment if an employee had worked for a minimum of five years. It would pay only 50 per cent of usual salary and for a period of not over 60 additional days.

Behr suggested these restrictions be stricken but that the need to establish hardship be retained. On this basis the matter was returned to county counsel to draft a proposed ordinance.

'Open Area' Zone Proposal Gains Some

Possibility of an "open area" zone law for Marin County brightened yesterday as supervisors referred the subject back to the county planning commission on a basis of a favorable report from the county counsel.

But Supervisor Peter Behr warned that the measure still has dangerous potentialities.

"It worries me," said Behr, "that rights of property-owners can perhaps be trampled on by persons eager for conservation. I'd like to see this done but I am concerned on that point."

"If this is adopted," agreed Supervisor William Gnoss, "in certain cases you could sell your property only to a school, or public utility."

"You could restrict to almost nothing," said Behr.

An opinion by County Counsel E. Warren McGuire said the proposed ordinance was "valid on its face," though he thought certain changes might be made, and recommended referral back to the planners.

"As a lawyer myself," commented Behr, "let me say that 'valid on its face' is an old expression of lawyers."

His implication seemed to be that such expressions keep the lawyers in business.

Sausalito Summer School Set

Sausalito School District trustees have set July 2 to Aug. 3 as dates for summer school at Richardson Bay School.

The program this summer, according to Supt. Marcus F. Davis, will be two-tracked and will provide a more advanced program for the gifted child in addition to a program for pupils in need of remedial work.

The board reviewed an agreement with the Marin County Redevelopment Agency which is to provide about $90,000 to the district for making additions to the Manzanita School in Marin City, provided the agency has the money in excess after it has sold its property in the redevelopment area.

The trustees also:

1. Tabled discussion on the proposal to fence the approaches to the Sausalito lateral as it goes under Highway 101 for safety of pupils.

2. Approved purchase of a piano for Central School from money given by F. B. Hitchcock of Sausalito.

3. Approved attendance of Principals Robert D. Thomson, Leo Shortino and Morris Brown at the California Elementary School Administrations' Conference April 15 in Santa Monica.

Almonte Board Members Seated

Hugh M. Brown and Richard J. Dawe were seated on the board of the Almonte Sanitary District Monday following their December appointment.

Brown takes the place of Jerome Downs, his term ending in September; Dawe takes the place of Patrick Price, whose term expires in September 1964.

Dawe was appointed secretary to succeed Price, according to Chairman Homer E. Winfield.

To Exhibit Paintings

Mill Valley artist Lucienne Bloch Dimitroff will exhibit paintings, drawings and other work at Temple Emanu-El at Arguello Boulevard and Lake Street in San Francisco for a three-month period commencing Friday.

Civil Electronic Engineer Job Openings Told

Positions for graduate civil electronic engineers and technicians are now open with the Federal Aviation Agency, it was announced today.

Applicants for technician positions must have experience and technical knowledge comparable to that obtained in a two-year electronic course. Additional experience, including radar, will qualify applicants for higher positions. Starting salaries range from $4,345 to $7,560 annually.

The agency operates the system of communications and navigation aid for 220,000 miles of airline routes.

Additional information may be obtained at the Federal Aviation Agency office, 2046 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Cigarette Smokers Taxed $5,888,719

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—California cigarette smokers paid $5,888,719 in taxes on 196,291,000 packages of cigarettes during November, the Tobacco Tax Council of Richmond, Va., reported.

California was second only to New York in cigarettes consumed but three states collected more taxes. Cigarette taxes in California from July through November totaled $29,382,270 on 979,409,000 packages.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Exemptions Add Up, Mean Money In Your Pocket

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

On your federal return each exemption is a $600 deduction. That is, for each exemption you are allowed to make $600 tax free.

P. J. WIKEL

Exemptions determine the amount of tax-free income you are allowed each year, and are devised to make the tax fair between single persons, married couples, and large and small families.

You are entitled to one exemption for yourself. You are entitled to one additional exemption if, on Dec. 31, 1961 you had attained 65 years of age, or if you were blind.

If you were both 65 and blind, you are entitled to two additional exemptions. You are also entitled to exemptions on the same basis for your wife, if you file a joint return.

If you file a separate return, you can claim your wife's exemptions only if she has no income and was not claimed on any other taxpayer's return for 1961.

If your wife or husband died in 1961, the additional exemptions for age and blindness are determined as at the date of death, rather than Dec. 31.

You are entitled to one exemption for each dependent. Additional exemptions for old age and blindness apply only to you and your wife or husband, not to dependents.

Civil Electronic Engineer Job Openings Told

Positions for graduate civil electronic engineers and technicians are now open with the Federal Aviation Agency, it was announced today.

Applicants for technician positions must have experience and technical knowledge comparable to that obtained in a two-year electronic course. Additional experience, including radar, will qualify applicants for higher positions. Starting salaries range from $4,345 to $7,560 annually.

The agency operates the system of communications and navigation aid for 220,000 miles of airline routes.

Additional information may be obtained at the Federal Aviation Agency office, 2046 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Cigarette Smokers Taxed $5,888,719

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—California cigarette smokers paid $5,888,719 in taxes on 196,291,000 packages of cigarettes during November, the Tobacco Tax Council of Richmond, Va., reported.

California was second only to New York in cigarettes consumed but three states collected more taxes. Cigarette taxes in California from July through November totaled $29,382,270 on 979,409,000 packages.

Sick-Leave Policy Discussed By Board

Marin County supervisors neared an established policy on extended sick leave on pay for county employees yesterday.

With Supervisor William D. Fusselman absent last week, the other four members asked the administrator to come up with a draft of recommended policy.

Fusselman objected yesterday that the supervisors should not tie their own hands, and maintained that such grants are given only when there is a showing of hardship.

But Supervisor Peter H. Behr reported that only last week the board granted an extra eight days to an employee with no showing of hardship but in keeping with past precedent, which started the move for a firm policy.

Behr also pointed out that employees are now dependent on action by department heads to seek extra days of paid sick leave after their accumulated statutory leave has been used.

The proposed policy would make it a right for such cases to be put before the board for its judgment if an employee had worked for a minimum of five years. It would pay only 50 per cent of usual salary and for a period of not over 60 additional days.

Behr suggested these restrictions be stricken but that the need to establish hardship be retained. On this basis the matter was returned to county counsel to draft a proposed ordinance.

'Open Area' Zone Proposal Gains Some

Possibility of an "open area" zone law for Marin County brightened yesterday as supervisors referred the subject back to the county planning commission on a basis of a favorable report from the county counsel.

But Supervisor Peter Behr warned that the measure still has dangerous potentialities.

"It worries me," said Behr, "that rights of property-owners can perhaps be trampled on by persons eager for conservation. I'd like to see this done but I am concerned on that point."

"If this is adopted," agreed Supervisor William Gnoss, "in certain cases you could sell your property only to a school, or public utility."

"You could restrict to almost nothing," said Behr.

An opinion by County Counsel E. Warren McGuire said the proposed ordinance was "valid on its face," though he thought certain changes might be made, and recommended referral back to the planners.

"As a lawyer myself," commented Behr, "let me say that 'valid on its face' is an old expression of lawyers."

His implication seemed to be that such expressions keep the lawyers in business.

Sausalito Summer School Set

Sausalito School District trustees have set July 2 to Aug. 3 as dates for summer school at Richardson Bay School.

The program this summer, according to Supt. Marcus F. Davis, will be two-tracked and will provide a more advanced program for the gifted child in addition to a program for pupils in need of remedial work.

The board reviewed an agreement with the Marin County Redevelopment Agency which is to provide about $90,000 to the district for making additions to the Manzanita School in Marin City, provided the agency has the money in excess after it has sold its property in the redevelopment area.

The trustees also:

1. Tabled discussion on the proposal to fence the approaches to the Sausalito lateral as it goes under Highway 101 for safety of pupils.

2. Approved purchase of a piano for Central School from money given by F. B. Hitchcock of Sausalito.

3. Approved attendance of Principals Robert D. Thomson, Leo Shortino and Morris Brown at the California Elementary School Administrations' Conference April 15 in Santa Monica.

Almonte Board Members Seated

Hugh M. Brown and Richard J. Dawe were seated on the board of the Almonte Sanitary District Monday following their December appointment.

Brown takes the place of Jerome Downs, his term ending in September; Dawe takes the place of Patrick Price, whose term expires in September 1964.

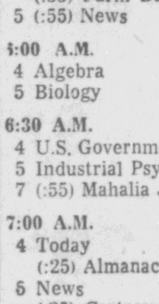
Dawe was appointed secretary to succeed Price, according to Chairman Homer E. Winfield.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Exemptions Add Up, Mean Money In Your Pocket

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

On your federal return each exemption is a $600 deduction. That is, for each exemption you are allowed to make $600 tax free.



P. J. WIKEL

Exemptions determine the amount of tax-free income you are allowed each year, and are devised to make the tax fair between single persons, married couples, and large and small families.

You are entitled to one exemption for yourself. You are entitled to one additional exemption if, on Dec. 31, 1961 you had attained 65 years of age, or if you were blind.

If you were both 65 and blind, you are entitled to two additional exemptions. You are also entitled to exemptions on the same basis for your wife, if you file a joint return.

If you file a separate return, you can claim your wife's exemptions only if she has no income and was not claimed on any other taxpayer's return for 1961.

If your wife or husband died in 1961, the additional exemptions for age and blindness are determined as at the date of death, rather than Dec. 31.

You are entitled to one exemption for each dependent. Additional exemptions for old age and blindness apply only to you and your wife or husband, not to dependents.
